

PICTORIAL REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

HIS MAJESTY, THE HORSE, AGAIN REIGNS.
Lovers of horses and horsemanship gathered at the Eglinton Hunt Club grounds for the opening of the Toronto Horse Show. Miss Marion Beck, daughter of Sir Adam, taking a hurdle on "Melrose." She won second award.

SCENE OF THE ASSASSINATION.
Eaton Square is one of the fashionable residential districts of London, not far from Victoria Station. The map shows the location. Inset is a photograph of Sir Henry H. Wilson.
Hundreds of thousands sorrowing Londoners watched in the rain while the lengthy cortege passed. Prominent citizens in all walks of life were in attendance. The body was interred in St. Paul's Cathedral.

American Federation of Labor officials at Cincinnati convention. We needn't tell you which one is Sam Gompers. To the right of him is Secretary Morrison, and to the right of him again is Matthew Wohl, a young man whose power in the A. F. of L. is constantly increasing.

This war veteran's fiancée and her father were imprisoned for 32 hours in an Arizona mine. He finally located their position and rescued them by means of this instrument, called a geophone, which detects sounds in or behind rock.

SEVEN MODERATORS OF THE PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY.
Dr. W. J. Clarke, present moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, is seen here with six of his predecessors. In the picture are, left to right, front row: George Bryce, D.D., Winnipeg; R. P. MacKay, D.D., Toronto; W. J. Clarke, D.D., Montreal (Moderator 1922); D. G. McQueen, D.D., Edmonton. Back row: A. B. Baird, D.D., Winnipeg; Chas. W. Gordon, D.D., Winnipeg; M. Mackenzie, D.D., Honan, China.

Foreign attaches who took part in the King's birthday celebration in London.

A close finish at Belmont track.

Taking a photograph with a gun. A new model camera.

WHEN TWINS MARRIED TWINS.
Wesley Methodist Church, Toronto, last week was well filled when Misses May and Katie Henderson, twin daughters of Mrs. E. J. and the late Robert Henderson, became united in marriage to Alfred H. McClockin and Albert McClockin, twin sons of Mrs. E. D. McClockin and the late Edwin McClockin. The little flower girls, Eileen and Esther McClockin, were also twins. Above shows the bridal party. From left to right they are: Alfred McClockin, who married Miss Katie Henderson, Eileen McClockin, a flower girl, Miss Katie Henderson, Albert McClockin, who married Miss May Henderson, Esther McClockin, flower girl and Miss May Henderson.

Mrs. Mallory, American woman tennis champion (right) shaking hands with an opponent during a recent match in England.

A backhand return by Miss Bollen in a recent championship match in Surrey, England.

Hundred yards dash at Sudbury, England.