ROUSING RALLY AT ESQUIMALT GREEN-CARON MATTER WAS DISCUSSED

Macdonell, of Vancouver, Took the Place of McInnes—Delivered a Fine Address.

(From Monday's Daily.) The rally in the interests of John Macdonell, the Liberal and Labor candidate, which took place in the Esquimalt hall, Esquimalt, on Saturday evening, was the best attended and most enthusiastic of any in the campaign there.

A feature was the large attendance of soldiers from the barracks. The meeting was presided over by John Macdonell, R. L. Drury, F. Higgins and D. G. Macdonnell, J. A. Macdonald, secretary of the Liberal Association, presided.

In his opening remarks Mr. Macdonell referred to the fact that in the heart of the Conservative stronghold it was that constituency which had been assured of a majority.

Some said the McBride government had been a benefit to the country. It had been a benefit to the country. It had been a benefit to the country. It had been a benefit to the country.

Are you going to condemn this on February 2nd? When you mark your ballots, are you going to be condemning this? You will be saying "Go ahead. Do as you have already done to the band of grafters." This is not a question of politics, it is a question of right and wrong.

Premier McBride states that Sir Adolph Caron gave this stock to Mr. Green as a personal favor. Caron is a poor man, a man who, since he left the Conservative government, has been a poor man. He has been a poor man. He has been a poor man.

For years the C. P. R. owned the Conservative government at Ottawa. Hunted from power by the Liberal government, the Liberal government is now in power. The Liberal government is now in power. The Liberal government is now in power.

There had never been a government so corrupt as the present. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

What is going to be the condition of the country? He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

Why do we educate our children? He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people. He was not down to the people, but he was down to the people.

with the grafting that was going on, so they had him superannuated. Return the Conservative party and your heritage will be taken away from you. (Voices—"We'll put the Liberals in power and McBride and his party in jail.") Cheers.

The fact that the government was dominated by the C. P. R. and the Liberal programme with regard to labor were also referred to.

D. G. Macdonnell, of Vancouver, was the next speaker. He stated that he had been sent there by W. W. B. McInnes, who was unable to come in person. He was detained by illness.

The evening before at one of the largest meetings ever held in Vancouver, Mr. Macdonell had vindicated his record as governor of the Yukon and nailed the slanders, seriatim, which had been made against him. He referred to the fact that Mr. Macdonell had challenged the Premier to meet him in debate next Friday evening.

Mr. Macdonell regretted having to oppose Mr. Pooley. Mr. Pooley was a friend of his and no one could say a word against Mr. Pooley's integrity. The paper which on occasion charged Messrs. Pooley and Turner with being improperly directors of a mining company, that was the paper which had been published in the Vancouver Province, is now supporting the McBride government. The instant that charge was made Mr. Pooley went into the criminal courts and vindicated his reputation.

But times have changed. We do not find a method prevailing to-day. We find a paper in Vancouver charging a minister with receiving bribes in stock, and issuing concessions to a certain company. Mr. Green admitted the charge. He said it was true, but believing the stock worthless, he had given it to MacKay. Had he remained silent I couldn't have believed Mr. Macdonell admitted this also. Here is the direct charge and the admission that they received stock and issued licenses.

Are you going to condemn this on February 2nd? When you mark your ballots, are you going to be condemning this? You will be saying "Go ahead. Do as you have already done to the band of grafters." This is not a question of politics, it is a question of right and wrong.

NEVER ASKED TO RESIGN RIGHTS

TRANSCONTINENTAL'S BARGAIN WITH INDIANS

Story of Negotiations for Additional Lands near Kaien Island Carried On by Railway

In the present political campaign the Conservatives are attempting to make a great deal of capital out of the statement that the McBride government had withstood the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Dominion government in refusing to relinquish their reversionary rights in the Indian lands negotiated for by the railway company.

In view of the statements published by the Conservative press and announced from the platform by speakers who pretend to know the situation, a Times reporter waited upon E. G. Russell, the representative of the Grand Trunk Pacific on the coast. Mr. Russell it was felt was in a specially good position to speak on this subject, as it was he who conducted the negotiations for the lands on behalf of the company. Mr. Russell is a trained railroad man who has held very important managerial positions with some of the best railway lines on the American continent. It was while under his control that the Intercolonial line was first made to pay a profit and during all the time he was in charge of that line it continued to yield a profit.

The Grand Trunk Pacific in placing Mr. Russell in charge of the negotiations with the Indians it is acknowledged made a wise selection, and he undoubtedly was given a very free hand.

Mr. Russell, who in the past has refused to say anything for publication respecting his work in this respect, consented this morning to briefly outline what was done.

He said that when he was commissioned to obtain the 12,000 acres of Indian lands which were considered necessary to the company in the vast scheme which they have in view for the development of northern British Columbia, he proceeded upon a plan which he thought would best accomplish the end aimed at.

He accordingly dealt with the Indians, first getting the consent of the tribe in the matter, and settled the tribe upon which they would relinquish their rights to the lands in question, which were not being used to any particular extent by them.

That accomplished, the Dominion government was asked to sanction the arrangement entered into with the Indians.

There yet remained the obtaining of the reversionary rights of the province in these lands. As far as Mr. Russell has any knowledge, the local government has never yet been asked to ask the railway company to relinquish its reversionary rights. The company doubtless feels as he himself does in this matter that it is not worth coming for asking for these, no government in British Columbia will deal unjustly with the company taking into account the advantages which the railway will be to that portion of the province.

REPORTED MURDER AT SALT SPRING

INQUEST AT SALT SPRING

Comrades of the Dead Man Told Story of the Murder.

The inquest into the death of Alfred Douglas was held on Saturday by Coroner E. C. Hart. The inquest took place in the house of Williams, who is charged with the murder of the dead man. The inquest was held at the table in Williams' house where the murder was committed. The evidence of the three men who were with Williams and Douglas, Williams' brother-in-law, the murdered man, and William Norton, all half-breeds, was heard, their stories being similar in every particular. None of them said the actual killing. They were all five sittings at a table playing cards and drinking, and "having a good time" when Williams went to the table at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and said he was going upstairs to bed. The others continued to play.

Soon after Williams went from the room into an adjoining one from which the stairway led and said he wanted to talk to the prisoner before he went to bed. They heard Douglas start upstairs, and before he had gone up more than one or two steps they heard the sound of William's rifle and the third of Douglas's body falling from the stairs. All three stated there had been no quarrel or fighting between Williams and Douglas. The jury returned a verdict that Douglas had been murdered by some party unknown.
