FAIR MORNING IN THE HARBOR.

Fair morning is on the harbor, And morning on the bay: And the boats that were lying at anchor Now silently steal away.

No wind in the sail to bear them; They drift with the tide afar, Till they enter the outer harbor And silently cross the bar,

It may be the skipper is sleeping. He sits at the rudder so still; It may be the skipper is thinking. Of his young wife on the hill.

She wastes no moment in sighing; With day her labors begin, Wide open she flings the shutters To let the still sunshine in,

She pauses only an instant
To look on the steel-gray dew,
From that to the rose bush glances,
Where it sparkles fresh and new.

And down the slope to the harbor, And over the harbor afar, For her dear little heart with the skipper Is just new crossing the bar. "God bless her!" the skipper is saying,
"God bless him!" the wife returns,
"Thus each for the other is praying,
While each for the other yearns,

IN MEMORIAM. MR. JEREMIAH SMITH, DIED FEB. 17th, 1886

His spirit's fied, his soul has gone, He left the house of clay, He left earth's dear ones for he throng Of heaven s eternal day. His life a sweet example gave

Of kindness, peace and love, And graces that have budded here Bloom in the heaven above.

If mortals through material mist Could view the world above, Our finite minds alone would grasp, Perfect brough Jesus love.

Rest-only rest.

'Tis hard to toil, when toil is almost vain, In barren ways;
Tis hard to sow and never garner grain,

The burden of my days is hard to bear,

But God knows best;

And I have prayed, but vain has been my prayer,

For rest—sweet rest,

WORMS.

ORM; may be suspected to be present when a child looks pa'e, and grows emacinated, when his belly swells and becomes hard, a gnawing, pungent or wishing pain being felt in the stamach or about the umbilicus. The appetite is usually precarious—at times voracious, the breath is fetid, and the bowels deranged, being alternately purged or costive, and much mucous rassed in the stools. There is commonly packing of the nose, or irritation felt in the rectam; the sleep becomes unquiet, he is subject to start or suddenly awake from slumber; grinding of the teeth is a symptom of en observer; the breathing may be hurried or difficult, and the cough, which so often attends, is in general dry, and of a convulsive or sufficially lind. Vomiting, hiccough, diarrhoes and and bloody stoo's often accompany fair presence.

When the above symptoms are noticeable, the proof is conclude that Worms are the cause, and the sconer they are removed the better for the health of the child. Procure at once a box of HARIS GRON'S WORM LOZENGES, and use them according to directions. They speedily destroy the Worms, and expet them from the body without the necessity of administeric g unpleasant doses of Senns or Castor Oil. They are purely vegetable; contain nothing injurious, and will not harm the youngest child. Be sure that you get HANINGTON's.
