LOCAL NEWS.

The new paths in front of the Union depot are being covered with asphalt.

Henry Seely has been reported for allowing a cow to go at large on Metcalfe street last night.

No. 2 Co. 3rd Regiment C. A., will meet at their drill shed, Carleton, this evening at 8 o'clock, for the selection of firing detachments.

An old man by the name of Thomas Hogan, belonging to Newfoundland, was given protection at the central station last night.

By private advice it is learned that in spite of the crowds attending the Pan-American exposition two of the Buffalo theatres have been compelled to close for want of patronage.

A meeting of the committee of the Polymorphian Club will be held tomorrow, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at R. J. Wilkins' cigar store, King street.

James A. McLaughlin has been reported for allowing an unmuzzled dog to run loose on Carmarthen street. Richard D. Lewis reports the dog to be dangerous.

Sergt. Caples has returned from his holiday trip to Treadwell's Lake, and resumed duty on the Market Square beat this morning. Officer Earle went on leave today, his place in the central station being filled by Officer Boyle.

Strawberries continue scarce, and it is not probable that any more large consignments will be brought down the river. Raspberries are now commencing to come, the Hampstead today having a considerable quantity. She has also during the past few days brought a number of pails of blueberries.

A concert will be held at the Chaiet Thursday evening, July 18th, at 8 o'clock. Lunch can be had on arrival of trains leaving city 5.05 and 6.20 local time. Refreshments can be had on the grounds in the evening, and the lady residents and cottagers have arranged a booth, where home-made candy, ferns, etc., can be obtained. There will be a display of fireworks, weather permitting. Returning train leaves Chaiet 10.10 p. m.

THE OX-TRAIN.

As announced in the Star some time ago the ox-train has been withdrawn from the passenger service on the I. C. R. The suburban will make an extra trip to Rotherham, leaving the city at 11.05 a. m.

Least, however, the people should die from the shock of a great surprise, the attributes of the ox-train have been transferred to other trains. For example, the Sussex train, which left the city at 5.06 last evening, arrived at Rotherham about 6 o'clock. She was given orders to cross the C. P. R. at Torryburn, where there is no telegraph station, and had to remain there 20 minutes. She could easily have reached Rotherham. To add to the discomfort of the hungry passengers the strawberries are about done, and the raspberries are not ripe. But they were permitted to chew grass.

WOULD BE APPRECIATED.

A wish was expressed by one of the ladies of the Women's Aid Association to the Star this morning that people would be more liberal in their donations of flowers, fruit and vegetables to the Home for Incurables. There are some who have contributed gladly, but there are many who might do so and yet either through thoughtlessness or indifference fail in this charitable work. The grounds are looking particularly pretty and inviting now, owing chiefly to the efforts of Mr. Fisher and Dr. Alward.

R. K. Y. C. CRUISE.

The R. K. Y. C. rode out the storm in safety Monday night at John O. Vanwart's, and yesterday cruised up to Gagetown, where a great entertainment was given in the hall, Commodore Thomson presiding. The cruise was continued today to Fredericton, and a big time is expected at the capital tonight. On the return trip service will be held on Sunday at Carter's Point by the club chaplain, Rev. Lindsay Parker, of Brooklyn.

A NEW METHOD.

A number of yachtsmen about the city have been enquiring whether the old fashioned system of sailing has been done away with or whether the yachts of the R. K. Y. C. were simply grappling for clams when going up river on Monday. Several of the city papers in their elaborate descriptions of the cruise state that John O. Vanwart's was reached at three o'clock, when the yachts weighed anchor.

POLICE COURT.

Protest Against Noise Made By Salvation Army.

An Array of Well Known Citizens State Their Objections—Other Cases Heard.

As a vocalist, Duncan Chambers is a howling success, but his choice of places for exhibiting the powers of his marvellous voice does not meet with the approval of the police. Duncan was discovered yesterday indulging in a private rehearsal on King square, but his voice being rather husky on account of the corn he had taken, his singing was not appreciated, and in spite of his reluctance he was taken to the central station. This morning Duncan declared that he hadn't been drunk for two years, and as he was in a fairly respectable looking condition his story was believed. He was fined $4.

Just why Michael Kelly prefers the solitude of Clifford's hotel to the green sod of old Ireland, where the "mountain dew" sparkles everywhere and the old familiar new mown hay fills the air with an odor of hand work, is unknown. Perhaps it is that in Ireland there is an abundance of good fresh water, and Duncan dislikes it. At any rate he yesterday evening got liquor at a good many places, including in the inside of the neck, and finally was overcome by it. He faded away on British street and was scooped. This morning Mickey growled out his opinion of the whole matter and went in for twenty days.

Recorder Skinner appeared to press the complaint entered against the Salvation army on Charlotte street. Mr. Skinner stated that the noise continually kept up in this place has become a great nuisance. Several parties have been compelled to move from the vicinity, and the army officers have been requested to stop the noise. This they absolutely refused to do, and on account of the illness of a lady residing next to the barracks matters had come to such a condition that the nuisance must be stopped.

John K. Parsons was put on the witness stand and told that on Sunday night last the service was kept up until a very late hour, and the noise proved an injury to his nerves, who was sick at the time. The noise made by the army was such that glass in his windows and ornaments on the mantel were shaken. The family was unable to sleep on account of the racket, and it was very trying on the nerves.

James Knox, who lives on the corner of Queen and Sydney streets, told that he could hear the noise quite distinctly at his house when the wind was in a certain direction, and he considered it a nuisance.

J. Whildard Smith spoke in regard to the effect caused in the Queen Square church by the racket made. He said it was a nuisance and detracted from the proper accomplishment of the church services.

David Wason, ivory man, Samuel Seeds and Walter Chessman of No. 1 station told what an annoyance the noise was to them.

E. L. Jewett was perhaps the strongest witness. In emphatic language he described the howling and screaming, the shouting and stamping, the banging of the drum and the clapping of hands which goes on continually in and about the barracks. He said that he had put up with it as long as possible, but matters have now come to such a pass that something must be done or there will be a big racket.

Capt. McElhenny of the Salvation Army took the stand and denied several statements made by previous witnesses. He wished to get further advice from his superior officers as to procedure, and as they are away at present the case was adjourned for one week.

The most interesting case before the court today was one in which a number of sea-faring men were engaged. Jim Cavanagh is a short, thin, garrulous specimen of an inebriate, and is a sailor on the brig Clive. With a Port Rico some time ago Jim got drunk and in his melodious voice tried to extol the virtues of "Rum, Rum, Jamaica Rum." He finally became childish and retired to his bunk feeling utterly unable to attend to his work. During a resting spell the mate, Mr. Ward (colored) along with some of the crew, thought they would have a little fun with Jim, and having got him on deck took a few turns around his legs with a rope and laid him gently down to rest under a nice clean tarpaulin. Jim did not object seriously to the proceeding, but when the Clive came to this port he complained of the ill-treatment and the case came before the magistrate today. Jimmy appears to be suffering from an attack of that mild but persistent disease, dementia senilis, and feeling that a statement of his nationality would produce a profound impression on the court boldly declared that he was born in Dublin on the 17 of Ireland, sixty-three years ago. The effect created by this astounding declaration influenced the Mate Ward, who also stated that he was an Irishman, and was willing to prove it by tracing his family back to the prehistoric ages. This so disgusted Jimmy that he jumped to his feet and said, "I renounce my nationality, I am ashamed of my country." Jimmy thinks that the rope wound round his legs has done him a lasting injury, although other people incline to the opinion that rheumatism may have a little to do with it. The case was adjourned until the afternoon, when Dr. Beryman was called to examine Jimmy's legs. The case is being continued this afternoon.

Ossie Heans was reported by Douglas McArthur for destroying flowers in his garden on Paradise Row. The boy said he had picked and eaten one nasturtium, and was dismissed with a warning.

Michael Rouffe objected to some abusive remarks made to him by George Carlson in their house on British street, and brought the case into court today. The matter was explained, and after a warning given, was dismissed.

David and Garret Hennessey, two brothers, got into a fight at their home on Mill street yesterday afternoon, and during the combat David attacked his brother with a razor, with which he inflicted some bad wounds. David was arrested, charged with cutting and wounding his brother and Garret, the injured man, was sent to the hospital. His wounds consisted of a cut on the cheek, which extends some seven inches down the neck to the shoulder blade, and one, only a scratch, across the abdomen. The hospital people do not regard Hennessey's injuries as being serious. David was brought before the police magistrate this morning and remanded.

COLLISION!

The Coal Schooner Roland Sunk This Afternoon,

By Collision With Steamer Pawnee Off Partridge Island.

In the fog off Partridge Island this afternoon the schooner Roland, Capt. Clarence Roberts of Partridge, bound for St. John with a cargo of coal, was hit and cut down by the steamer Pawnee, Capt. Cartwright, from New York.

The schooner was struck nearly amidships and sank almost immediately.

The crew were rescued and brought to the city by the steamer.

In the collision Capt. Roberts was severely injured. No further particulars concerning cause of the accident were available at the time of going to press.

The cargo of the Roland was for the Partridge Island fog alarm station and was insured with Vroom & Arnold.

LAST NIGHT'S STORM.

The storm which passed over this city last evening, although not very violent here, made itself felt at different points up river. At Wickham it was especially severe. The lightning commenced about nine o'clock, but not until eleven did the storm fully develop. From that time on till nearly three o'clock in the morning it was very violent, and although no very great damage was done many people received slight shocks from the lightning. Read Dunham, fireman on the steamer Hampstead, which was lying at the wharf, sustained a shock which rendered him unconscious for a time. He came round all right however, and feels no bad effects from his experience.

EAST END BASEBALL.

The series of games played by the East End League were concluded last evening, when the Glads defeated the Clippers by a score of 3 to 2. During the season the four teams in this league have each played fifteen games, and some good work has been shown. The series was won by the Clippers, who managed to win eleven games out of the fifteen they have played. The scores of the other teams are: Glads won 9, lost 6; Our Boys, won 7, lost 3; Emeralds, won 4, lost 11. Honors in both batting and pitching go to Willie Case of the Glads, who made most runs and struck out most men. On two cases, when they played against the Clippers, he retired them for ten balls each time.

TODAY'S PICNICS.

The two picnics which are taking place up river today are largely attended. The Clifton this morning took the members of Calvin church to Ashland farm and made a second trip in the afternoon, leaving Indian town at half-past one.

On the Victoria this morning a happy crowd from St. Mary's church went to Watters' Landing, where their annual outing is being held. Those unable to get away in the morning were taken up by the Springfield shortly after two o'clock.

A BRAVE ACT.

About seven o'clock last evening as a special train was rapidly approaching the depot the figure of a small girl, about six years old, dressed in white, was observed standing in the direct course of the train. Men and other persons shouted, but the child became powerless to move, when a little girl about the age of the child in danger, stepped forward and dragged the little one from her perilous position, but not a moment too soon, for the engine dashed by just as the child was clear of the rails. Cheers were given for the rescuer and rescued. It was a brave deed.

RUSSELL SAGE COMING.

Russell Sage, the New York money king, will be here Thursday. Mr. Sage's visit, it is understood, is in connection with the sale of the Shore Line railway, which is advertised for Friday. Mr. Sage acquired an interest in that road some time ago, and that time it was thought he intended to use it as a link to connect with other systems. He will probably return to New York Friday night or Saturday. Col. H. H. McLean was advised by telegraph of this proposed visit.

PLEASANT DRIVE.

Representatives of the press and members of the Tourist Association went over in a buckboard yesterday to see the improvements that have been made in the interests of sight-seers at Prospect Point, overlooking the reversing falls. A good carriage road has been constructed to the point and hitching posts placed there for the convenience of teams.

A pathway, with bordering seats leads to the summit of the point, where Murray & Gregory have erected a pretty pavilion. Visitors are now being bait on Clarence and Erin streets. Mr. Wisted is said to have been struck on the head by the ball.

MONDAY'S STORM UP RIVER.

The electrical storm of Monday did a great deal of damage along the river above Fredericton. A number of large oak trees were uprooted at Keswick and several of them broken and split in two. On Shore and Sugar Islands no less than seven barns were demolished and trees and fences were blown down and scattered about in every direction. A barn at Upper Kingsclear was totally destroyed, and another partially. A residence was also damaged, and the fences were pretty generally fastened out. In New Maryland considerable damage was done to barns and other outbuildings.

The damage on the islands at Kingsclear is very serious, and having their barns destroyed right in the midst of the haying season will put the owners to great inconvenience, as they will have no chance to store the season's cut.

Two boys by the name of James Carbery and Leo Holland have been reported by Thomas Wisted for playing ball on Clarence and Erin streets.

Mr. Wisted is said to have been struck on the head by the ball.

AT THE INSTITUTE.

At the New Mechanics Institute last evening the Grove Dramatic Co. presented The World Against Him. The part of the tramp, who is the chief character in the piece, was well taken by Harry Markham, who at the end of the third act received an enthusiastic curtain call. Miss Alice Donaldson, as the heroine, was engaging and clever, and the role of the villain was well played by Billy Lawrence. Of the balance of the cast, it was perhaps fortunate that not much was expected of one or two of them. The specialties introduced between the acts by Elsa Clyde, Cecil D'Pock, Harry Markham and Jos. H. Lee were varied and for the most part clever, and every one of them was encoored. Bearing in mind that the prices are only ten, twenty and thirty cents, the company give a good general performance of the amusing sort, and in fact compare very favorably with some more pretentious organizations that have visited the city in the last few months.

Tonight they will present Reddy the Mail Girl, a stirring western play, and there will be amusing specialties between the acts. Someone is to give a ticket to the Pan-American out of this week's engagement by this company. All patrons have an equal chance.
