WOODSTOCK.

Major Good and Returned Soldiers Given a Splendid Reception.

Hundreds of Citizens Met Them at the Depot-Banquet, Presentation and Thanksgiving Service Arranged for Next Thursday.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., Jan. 11.-This was a great day in Woodstock, probably unexcelled in the history of the town. Major Good and his boys arrived home from South Africa after having been away a few days short of one year.

This morning the mayor and the warden of the county, Lt. Col. Vince and some private friends went to Mc-Adam to meet the boys. The Pullman was attached to the Woodstock express. At Canterbury the boys appeared on the platform and were heartily cheered. The same thing happened at Debec.

All the boys were on hand and in good health, the only absentees being McLean and Hall, who remain in South Africa, and Kennedy, who remained in St. John for the present and Everett, who went to Kingsclean to see his family. It seemed on arrival at Woodstock that the whole town and county must be present, such was the dense crush of teams and pedestrians. The band welcomed the boys with "Soldiers of the Queen," and as one after the other stepped from the car he was carried on the shoulders of waiting friends to a conveyance waiting for them. This owned by John Hughes, was most artistically decorated with flags, mottoes, evergreen, etc. One motto was "Rebel catchers from Woodstock." Much care must have been taken in its get After order had been somewhat restored the procession started, Policemen Harvey and McCarron leading on horseback, after them J. T. A. Dibblee and George Balmain carrying the 67th colors, the band, sleigh with Major Good, the mayor, the warden, Major Vince and Capt. Carvell, the town council in another sleigh, then in sleighs the county council and private citizens. All the sleighs were appropriately decorated. The church bells rang out a merry peal and the whistles blew as the proession passed through cheering crowds.

The town was really beautifully decorated. On the bridge was a colored motto "Hurrah for our gallant lads." Evergreen trees lined the sidewalks in front of stores, from which were suspended flags and bunting and Ohinese lanterns. The merchants and private citizens decorated splendidly. Among the most prominent decorations were those on the Royal Bank, C. G. Connell's, Mrs. J. Loane's, the People's Bank. The Micmac club on Queen street was most artistically decorated. In fact everyone worked with a will and the town presented a really beautiful appearance. The pro-Green to Connell, along Queen to Richmond and into Col. Dibblee's grounds, where a halt was made and three rousing cheers given for the old commander of the battery. Col. Dibblee, who is just recovering from an atack of typhoid, appeared at the window and acknowledged the honor. Major Good went in to see him for a few moments. The boys were then taken to the Carlisle Hotel, where they were the guests of C. J. Tabor, the proprietor, who served them all with an excellent dinner. After dinner they paraded to the roller rink, which soon filled with an enthusiastic audience. The mayor addressed the boys in suitable terms, followed by Warden Cronkhite. The following address was then read by his worship:

To Major W. C. Good and Members of E Battery, Royal Canadian Artillery, lately on service in South Africa:

On behalf of your fellow-citizens it becomes our duty and pleasure to address to you words of welcome on your safe return to us, after your twelve months of active military service in South Africa. We well remember that when you volunteered for that service it was at a time when you could have had no other expectation than that of occupying a post of danger, where fearlessness, courage and endurance would surely be called for. You went forth in the fullest sense of duty, and in the service which you have since rendered to your country that duty has been nobly performed. Hardships many and most trying you have undergone. In the long and weary marches you have endured much physical suffering. You have exhibited cheerful and ready obedience to military orders, rare judgment in critical moments, and above all, noble courage in times of extreme danger. Your conduct throughout your whole service has reflected great honor upon your country, and expecially upon this, your home. We would express to you the pride we all feel in the splendid record you have made in the history of our land, and, for that record, we thank you, one and all, from the bottom of our hearts.

In common with your fellow subjects from other parts of the dominion you have both well earned and received the personal thanks of Her Most Gracious Majesty, our beloved Queen, and also made the name of Canada to be honored the world over. Ever since you went forth a year ago to take your place as defender of our good empire in the upholding of its justice, and its integrity, we have followed you with our best wishes, our hopes and our prayers, and it is with deep thankfunces that we learn, though you have all endured many trials and faced many dangers, yet the life of every member has been preserved. Now, that the strife and struggle of warfare is over, for you at least, until another call to like duty shall be sounded, a call which we know will be a To Major W. C. Good and Members of Battery, Royal Canadian Artillery, late on service in South Africa:

Major Good was given an ovation when he rose to respond. He modest-ly acknowledged the honor paid to him and his boys, and said he was proud of the boys under his command. number of the boys were called on and made appropriate addresses. The pro-ceedings then closed for today.

The banquet in the Opera House will be held next Thursday evening at $ o'clock, when a gold watch will be presented to each man. At 7 o'clock the same evening a special thanks giving service will be held in Luke's church.

ELGIN, ALBERT CO.

History of the Parish-An Interesting Watchnight Service. (Cor. Moncton Times.)

donation and watchnight service was held at Rev. H. H. Saunders', Elgin, New Year's eve, at which $50 was donated to the pastor and Wm. A. Colpitts gave the following history of the parish of Elgin:

At the commencement of the nine teenth century what is now Elgin was an unbroken forest, the lower end of Pollett river having been settled during the last fifteen years of the 18th century. In 1799 and 1800 Thomas, William and Ralph Colpitts settled on lands now occupied by Rufus Colpitts and Havelock Colpitts, their descendants. J. Miller occupied the land which was drawn by William Colpitts, but the first man who settled in what is now Elgin was John Geldart, in 1812, on land now owned by Widow Barchard. The following year Robert Smith settled on land now owned by J. M. Steeves; Frank Grey settled on what is known as the Allen Beck farm: Robert Coloitts in 1825 settled on land owned by the late Caleb Colpitts. In 1828 John Robinson, George Miller, and Charles Bleakney settled in that district. The same year George Gowland, an Englishman, with two sons and three daughters, were the pioneers of Gowland mountain. In 1830 Wm. Colpitts and Dennis Geldart were added to the upper settlement of Pollett river, as it was then called. During the next five years the Middleland settlement was started by some of John Geldart's family, namely Peter and James and also Perry, who was a son-in-law of the same John Geldart. Later on Solomon and John Geldart. Later on Solomon and Michael Geldart and Thomas Hopper were added to the Middleland settlement. In the winter of 1837 William Lounsbury with a large family of sons and daughters settled on land now owned by Robert Goggin and later still Babkirk and Solomon Bowlater Still Babkirk an Robert and Nathan Stiles settled on lands now owned by James T. Horseman. During this time the Gowland mountain settlement had been increasing. In 1836 Henry Jonah moved on land now owned by George Smith, and the next settlers on the mountain were John Collins and John Dieves. In 1839 Robert Harrison, with a large family, moved on land now occupied by descendants of the late Robert Harrison. While Gowland mountain and Pollet river were fast rising to importance there was also a settlement starting on Little river. In 1817 Robert Mitton settled in this district on lands now occupied by persons of the same name. In 1822 Amos Wilson, Michael Power, Henry Hopper and George McClain settled farther up the river, the latter settling on the land now occupied by Stephen Cain. In 1829 John Prosser. an Englishman, took up a farm in this settlement. Still farther up the river, known now as Pleasant Vale, was settled in 1831-32 by Henry, Robert and Thomas Colpitts, and shortly after by - Colpitts, William Banister, Joseph Collier, Frederick Steeves and Ernest Molfins. Sometime between 1831-41, John Barchard moved to what is now Elgin Corner, and Pharis Constantine came in 1841 with a family of three, out unfortunately for his family and the settlement he only lived a short In 1845 Albert county was divided off from Westmorland, and in October, 1846, our first provincial election was held, and at that time all the voting was done at the shiretown. This par-ish was represented by the following electors: George Jonah, Robert Jonah, Robert Smith, Robert Colpitts, William Parkins, Robert Colpitts, sr., and Thos. Colpitts, and the members returned were William H. Steeves of Hillsboro and John Smith of Harvey. At the end of four years they were again returned. In 1850 each parish had its own polling booth. In Elgin it was held in Barchard's barn, and at that election Wm. H. Steeves was returned with a large majority and Reuben Stiles with three of a majority against James Rogers. After one session, W. H. Steeves was called to the council, and we had a by-election, in which Esquire Jas. Rogers got every vote in Elgin but one. The people were not then divided into two parties as we are now. The questions most discussed in those times were responsible government, municipal laws and free schools, with other reforms, and railroads were in question. The party known as the conserva-tive, or "family compact," vigorouly opposed these reform measures. L. A Wilmot, afterwards governor, was the leader of the reform party, and he being appointed judge, the mantle fell on Mr. Fisher, who continued to lead the opposition until after the election of 1854, when the government was defeated. to be taken up by W. B. Jonah, who told of the great advancement of the parish and country at large since 1854.
