A very pleasant reception was held at the Ladies' College on Saturday night last. The Sackville bridge is still a lon way from completion, and much dis-satisfaction is expressed because of the delay in getting it constructed. The right kind of lumber seems to be difficult to obtain. The season is far advanced and the river is a hard one to span. These things being true, the prospects for a bridge before spring are not bright. Another test of the Sackville water system was made yesterday. The pipes eaked in several places, but otherwise the test was satisfactory. An attemp was made to attach hose to one of the hydrants, but this was not able to be done. The water is reported to be first class and the pressure quite suffito meet the demands of the

SACKVILLE, Dec. 4 .- Dr. Andrews of Mt. Allison made an analysis of the beer seized from Messrs. Congratulations were extended to the officers elect, who responded in suitable speeches. The first real snow storm of the sea on came with a rush upon us night, and with but little let up has ied all day. The wind was high and came in gusts of great violence. About eight inches of snow has fallen on the level, but in many places it nearly knee deep. At intervals hail has accompanied the storm, showing that the upper cloud regions are heav ily charged with moisture. The Osse-keag Creek and Kennebeccasis River are low, and the marshes uncovered save for the newly fallen snow. The ground is frozen, and should a thay sue, little of the water will be ab sorbed, as it will run off to the lowe levels, and the wells which have bee so long low and almost exhausted, but scant additions. QUEENSTOWN, Queens Co., Dec. -An accident occurred here in the rotary mill of Arthur L. Mayes, which very nearly cost Mr. Mayes his life. He and his assistant, Lee Fox, were running the mill cutting up a small quantity of logs. Mr. Fox had just laced the haul-up around the last of the logs, and Mr. Mayes, with hands on the lever of the gear, started the nachinery, and when about half way up, the chain slipped, loosing all the logs but one. This was drawn in the mill, Mr. Mayes stopping the haul-up when the log was at the right place Just when he was leaving his position he slipped and fell, and in his fall caught the rope which held the lever and the friction pulleys apart. In a nstant the gear was in motion, the chain catching Mr. Mayes and draw ing him around the shaft of the haul up, cutting off one finger and bruising leg very badly about the thigh. The log to which the chain was at tached was thrown up against the shaft, and held Mr. Mayes as in a vise His call for help brought Mr. Fox to the mill, and quickly taking in the sit uation, stopped the engine, and with considerable difficulty extricated Mr. Mayes from his perilous position. Dr. Mansfield McDonald was at once sent for and rendered the necessary medical ssistance. Much sympathy is felt by Preparations are being made here for a pretty large wood cut to supply D. D. An Estate in Maine That is Looking After an Owner.

BATH, Me., Dec. 3.-Two matters of ore than usual interest developed in the probate court here today. One was a further development in the case of the estate of the late Charles A. Davenport, whose heirs cannot be found. It was in the shape of acpetition filed for the appointment of Horatio A. Duncan of Bath as administrator of the estate, containing mention among the heirs at law of a possible grandson of Mr. Davenport, the child of a deceased daughter. Mr. Davenport, who was a son of the late Chas Davenport, died on February 5, 1898, leaving a large property, mostly in real estate and shipping interest. No steps were taken towards the administration of the property until today. The identity of the missing heir and his whereabouts are still unknown. He is heir to a third of the Charles A. Davenport estate, and heir to the en-

In the will of Emma A. Alvord of Bath, filed today, was a provision leaving certain pieces of jewelry, including a diamond pin, earrings and finrer rings, to Louise McMickan of Brooklyn, to be sold by the latter, and the proceeds to be given to Mrs. Jillie Mayhew Russell of Mount Vernon, Me., to be used in carrying on the work of the followers of Mr. Sanford in the Holy Ghost and Us movement at Shilo, Maine.

Catarrh is a Germ Disease.

Science, armed with the microscor has established it a fact, and this conclusion renders obsolete the practice of treating Asthma, Catarrh and Bronchitis by stomach drugging, sprays, snuffs, etc. Such treatments are an utter failure because they cannot penetrate the delicate air cells of the lungs, or permeate the air passages of the nose and bronchial tubes where the germs of Catarrh have their stronghold. Catarrhozone is the only certain remedy. It is inhaled by the mouth and after spreading through through the nostrils. Catarri he germs, heals the inflamed tissue lears the head and throat in two minutes, and cures in a few hours. Noth ing is so effective, pleasant and simple as Catarrhozone. MONCTON.

A Large Death List-Record of Contagious and infectious Diseases.

MONCTON. Dec. 4. - Secretar Northrup of the local Board of Health eports the largest number of deaths in the year ending 31st October in the istory of the district, the total being 152, as compared with 120 in 1900 and 105 in 1899. Part of this increase is no doubt due to larger population, but it is also probably due in part to the unprecedented drouth of the past sum er and fall, which no doubt had the effect of lowering the standard of health. There is also a large incre in the number of case of contagiou and infectious diseases, the total under this head being 374, as co with 67 in 1900 and 41 in 1899, the lat ter being one of the most healthy year on record. Over half the total num ber of cases of contagious disease put down to an epidemic of measle which raged in May, June and July entirely disappeared during the school holidays. Typhoid was also prevalent in August, September October, when there were 158 cases but this disease has also almost disappeared. There were ten deaths in the year from contagious disease, all set down to typhoid. The record of intious and contagious diseases for the past two years is as follows: 1901. 1900.

..... 190 Diphtheria 10 carlet fever.. 16 Typhoid fever 158 Total

The table giving the cause of death shows that 16 were caused by tubercu-losis, 16 by cholera infantum, 14 by old age, 10 by typhoid fever, 9 by paralysis, 7 still born, 4 by accident, 5 each by pneumonia, inflammation of bowel and bronchitis, 4 each inflammation of ungs and heart failure, 3 each inanition and la grippe, 2 each spinal men of brain, inflammation, whoor cough, heart trouble, meningitis, conns, child birth, disease of liver, liarrhoea, hemorrhage of bowels, inammation of brain, and congestion of dneys; 1 each by gallstones, asthma, psy, tubercular meningitis, cancer, eous croup, albuminana, eryelas, jaundice, Bright's disease, capllary bronchitis, abscess, sunstroke, gastro-entritis, nervous prostration, coma, chronic diarrhoea, and inflammation of stomach

COLLEGE Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION. WOLFVILLE, Nov. 30.-The session pened this morning with a devot rvice conducted by J. E. Porter, president of U. N. B. Association. H. Smith of Acadia followed with a paper on "Devotional Meetings," which dealt with several questions in connection with the subjects for and conduct of such services. Each question was taken up and discussed after being first being presented by the writer of the paper. Some of the things brought out by the paper were: The importance of having frequent missionary services; the advisability of having special evangelistic services; the bene-fit of having members of the faculty take part as often as is considered for the best interest of the Y. M. C. A., while not neglecting to use the stud-ents themselves for all they are worth; the leader of an hour's devotional service should not occupy too much time, but no rule can be given; topic cards with a systematic arrangement of topics are beneficial and aid in the development of Christian life. Let the devotional committee select the topics and get men to conduct the services who are best able to deal with the cpic of the evening After singing and prayer by Mr. Williams, a paper on Bible Study was read by H. J. Fraser of Dalhousie. Its importance in settling the great quesons of life, and its ability above all else to reveal God to man, who ever found, calls out for the living God. Faith gives victory. Faith is led on our idea of a personal God, found in the Bible.

cussion on the above subject was led by Mr. Williams of the international committee. The difficulties met with in the different colleges were taken up and sugestions offered for meeting these.

The most important part of the morning service was an address by Mr. Williams on "Bringing Men to Christ." The need for such a purpose in life, the equipment needed.
Saturday Afternoon.— This sess pened with a short devotional service nducted by J. L. Wright of Prince of Wales College.

A business meeting followed. Minutes were read and after some minor corrections were adopted. The reso tion committee presented resolutions sing sympathy with Rev. J. D. McKay in the loss of his wife; pressing the thanks of this convention o the faculty of Acadia College and mbers of Acadia Y. M. C. A. for their kind and hearty welcome; and to the people of Wolfville for their generous hosiptality in entertaining the delegates; and to the speakers who have assisted in making the convention a success. The committee dealing with the year's work presented a number of re-solutions regarding the carrying on of the work during the year and the arranging for next year's convention.
