wence compared with the 'melanchely loss of life.

Four persons are at least supposed to have lost their lives. Mr. Samuel D. Woodworth, the captain of the boat, the eldest son of Mr. Benjamin Woodworth, the late well known proprietor of the steamer Hotel, was thrown into the air and killed. His bady was found some hong afterwards in the river. The body of trae. Sweeney, of Chathart, C. W. formerly employed on the Kent, has also been found. Robert Motherwill, engineer on board the ferry-boat United, who had just stepped on the Vance, is also supposed to be killed, though the body has not been found. Major A. C. Truax, of Truago, one of our oldest and most respectable citizens, was frightfully and mortally wounded, and though living at the moment of writing, cannot survive. Mr. Gaylord, the engineer of the Vance, was severely, but not dangerously wounded, and also two of the firemen, whose names we have not heard. Some 30 or 10 passengers were on board, and their preservation is almost miraculous.

The boat is of course an utter wreck, and her cargo all or nearly all lost. It is of course, too early to judge calmly of the cause of the explosion, but it is due to Mr. Gaylord to say that he is an engineer of skill, experience, and of the highest integrity and fidelity, in whom our citizens place entire confidence. The following the statement by him has been furnished us for publication:

Mr. Gaylord, the engineer, says, her steam was low and not so as to blow off freely. At the moment of the explosion of the class of the continue of the contin

GREAT EXCITEMENT.

Early on Friday morning an attack was made by a small party of Irishmen, about 50 in number, upon the tents which had been piched for the accountmistalion of the Native Americans, on the 4th, in Frisher's woods. The few individuals in whose cane they were left having been forcibly expelled, and, in some instances, severely beaten, the Irish, among recorded to demulish the tents. This is one account of the matter, but its truth is derived by another. Other exaspirating outrages are alleged to have been committed by the the Irish, among
