

COMMISSIONERS STILL HAVE FAITH IN CEMENT PLANT

At Meeting, Yesterday, A. H. Hannington and Others Applied to buy Lots Adjoining Green Head Property.

At the meeting of the city commissioners yesterday afternoon the application of A. H. Hannington and the other parties who have taken over the Green Head property, for several lots adjoining the property already purchased, was considered, and it is probable that the application will be granted if a price is agreed on.

It was said that the company which has acquired the Green Head land, wanted the extra lots in connection with the project to establish a cement plant. While no definite information has been given out, the commissioners believe the company is going ahead with its plans for a cement factory, though they expect it will be some time for the project to materialize.

Com. Schofield submitted plans for the proposed warehouse on the Quinn wharf, and though no action was taken on them, it was said that the warehouse would probably be constructed.

Com. Agar brought up the matter of the encroachment of the pillars of the new imperial theatre. It was said the company had asked if they could get a lease of the portion of the sidewalk the pillars encroach on, but that the city had no power to lease any portion of the streets, as if the council took such action, any citizen could apply to the courts and get an order revoking such a lease. The commissioners discussed the matter at some length, and will give it further consideration today. They do not want to order the removal of the pillars as they feel the company would not have encroached if their plans had not been passed by the building inspector, at the same time they feel they can not arrange matters so that the company would be guaranteed against interference in the future, without getting a special act of legislature enabling them to lease the portions of the streets encroached on.

Continuing Mr. Barnard told of the attempt to win the constituency of Victoria for Hon. Wm. Templeman in September, 1911. On nomination day Mr. Templeman had suddenly become convinced of the urgent need for improvements in Victoria Harbor to cost $3,000,000. He had published a telegram to that effect, sent it to Hon. William Purvesy and the reply of the latter, heartily endorsing the proposal and stating that he had seen Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The leader would not doubt, consider the tactics at Victoria good politics, although he would denounce an attempt to defame a constituency.

Mr. Armstrong, of North York, made a strong plea for such revision of the bank act as would reduce the possibility of failure. He described the terrible effects of failure of banks in Canada. The responsibility, he would place upon any member failing to do his duty toward the improvement of the present law. There should be, he said, some way of inspecting banks that would render such failures impossible.

Liberal Endorses Emergency Gift.

Mr. Armstrong had not discovered any desire on the part of the opposition to look horns with the Liberal party on the naval question. He claimed to represent the old time Liberal party, coming as he did from a constituency which had not returned a Conservative member in 37 years. "If I don't represent the Liberal thought in my riding," he said, "I take my political life in my hands. I don't care if I die, I say that if the right hon. prime minister comes down to this House and tells us that there is immediate necessity for Canada to do something for the British navy, I'll hold up both hands for giving help to the extent of every dollar that the Canadian people can give. I'm going to stand behind him in the most unhesitating manner."

D. D. McKenzie (North Cape Breton) declared that he was proud to follow his chieftain, who had decided to wait patiently till the policy of the government was laid before the House. The opposition would not take second place in strengthening the hands of the Liberal and Joseph Green as Conservative.

REINFORCING IN THE WEST.

Reinforcing, Sask., Nov. 27.—Nominations today for South Qu'Appelle resulted in David Ballion being nominated as Liberal and Joseph Green as Conservative.

WEST IS READY TO AD BRITAIN

The Debate Resumed.

Mr. Barnard, Victoria, resuming the debate on the expansion of the trade of British Columbia and to the further extension of the Panama Canal. Of the naval defence question he did not wish to speak at the moment. "But I do assure the government," added Mr. Barnard, "that so far as the people of British Columbia are concerned it cannot err on the side of generosity."

The member for Victoria then dealt with the allegation of Sir Wilfrid Laurier that the Minister of Public Works had sought, through Sir Rodolphe Forget, to bribe the electors of Richelieu at the recent bye election. He recalled the scriptural language in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier had described a desired railway extension at one of his meetings in Quebec prior to the last general election. "Sir Wilfrid," he said, "is like unto the Kingdom of Heaven, ask, and ye shall receive."

A "Pugaley Like" Scheme.

Continuing, Mr. Barnard told of the attempt to win the constituency of Victoria for Hon. Wm. Templeman in September, 1911. On nomination day Mr. Templeman had suddenly become convinced of the urgent need for improvements in Victoria Harbor to cost $3,000,000. He had published a telegram to that effect, sent it to Hon. William Purvesy and the reply of the latter, heartily endorsing the proposal and stating that he had seen Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The leader would not doubt, consider the tactics at Victoria good politics, although he would denounce an attempt to defame a constituency. "Thos. McNair" (Saltcoats) expressed a wish to discuss the result of the elections in Saskatchewan but did not do so in deference to a ruling given by the speaker yesterday. He devoted the whole of his time to the condemnation of the treatment accorded his Liberal workers taken into custody during the MacDonald bye election. He claimed that the "horde of workers" who went to assist Mr. Richardson, the Liberal candidate in Macdonald, consisted of himself and Mr. Sullivan.

Mr. Armstrong, of North York, made a strong plea for such revision of the bank act as would reduce the possibility of failure. He described the terrible effects of failure of banks in Canada. The responsibility, he would place upon any member failing to do his duty toward the improvement of the present law. TO CHANGE OATH OF NATURALIZATION

Major Currie Has Bill to Provide Knowledge of French or English Necessary for Naturalization.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—Major J. A. Currie, who yesterday introduced a bill to make electioneering activity by an alien in Canada, a criminal offence, has given notice of another radical measure to amend the naturalization act. The bill alters the naturalization oath in such a way that a man becoming a naturalized citizen of Canada cannot retain his right to resume the rights of citizenship, at some future time, in the country from which he comes. The bill also provides that a man cannot become a naturalized citizen of Canada until he is familiar with either the English or French language.
