SPANIARD CALLS AT POLICE STATION AND TELLS STRANGE STORY

Captain Marryat. "Stunt" claimed by protectionist, but police are suspicious.

A Spaniard, carrying two bundles, and who could not speak English, walked into the police headquarters yesterday before six o'clock yesterday afternoon, and took a seat in the guard room. The officers in charge could not understand what the foreigner was saying and could not make him understand them.

Last night, shortly after nine o'clock, John Martin was secured, and being able to speak Spanish got a story from the man. He stated he had run away from a vessel, having jumped over the side of the ship with his bundles, and after swimming for half an hour landed on the shore at a place four days' walk from this city. For the last four days he had not anything to eat.

From the man's appearance he did not look as if his clothing had been wet, and the bundles of clothing and paper boxes did not have the appearance of having been in the water, and it is thought the man is not telling the truth. At eleven o'clock he left the station having been provided with necessary funds, and procured something to eat. On his return he was given protection for the night in one of the cells, and will be liberated this morning.

NO BUILDING PERMIT UNTIL WATER AND SEWERAGE ASSURED

Com. Wigmore believes some plan of restricting building on streets not supplied with water and sewerage should be adopted.

"There should be some definite scheme adopted by the city in reference to the building of houses on streets which have not been taken over by the city," said Commissioner Wigmore yesterday. "I am still of the opinion that the building inspector should not issue permits for buildings in the city unless he was sure that water and sewerage would be supplied to them at once."

"In Metcalf street extension water was needed. The people there were paying their assessment for water and fire protection and until we put in the water pipes they were paying for what they did not get. Before those houses were built there the street should have been taken over by the city and some provision made for grading it. As it stands at present we can give them water, but it will be a long time before these houses can be supplied with sewers. The only means of drainage would be through Lansdowne Avenue and the expense at present would be prohibitive."

"I believe the whole question of building on places not supplied with water and sewerage should be taken up by the commissioners and some definite plan arranged for the restriction of such buildings."

REV. R. T. MCKIM IS WELCOMED BY ST. MARY'S CHURCH CONGREGATION

Reception last night to new Assistant—Addresses of Welcome by Rev. Dr. Raymond and church officers.

A reception and social evening was held last evening in St. Mary's church Sunday school for the purpose of welcoming the Rev. Robert T. McKim, who has been appointed as curate of the church to assist the Rev. Dr. W. O. Raymond.

A large representative gathering of the congregation were present and the evening was in every way successful.

The rector on behalf of the congregation welcomed Rev. Mr. McKim to St. Mary's and his new field of work. Addresses were also given by Church Warden David Hipwell and Vestry Clerk D. C. Fisher. Rev. Mr. McKim made a fitting reply in which he thanked the rector, vestrymen and congregation for their kindnesses, and felt that he would have great pleasure in his work in St. Mary's.

An informal programme was carried out and among those contributing were Mr. M. Tongue, who sang a solo, and the church organist Mr. Wilbur, who rendered an enjoyable piano solo. The St. Mary's band was also in attendance and they rendered some very fine music, chiefly patriotic selections. The bandmen also sang several patriotic choruses.

Refreshments were served towards the close of the evening by the ladies of the Women's Auxilliary. Mr. Barker on behalf of the vestry thanked the ladies for serving and contributing to the refreshments, and the evening closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

CHARGED WITH USING KNIFE ON COLORED MAN

Henry Adams became boisterous and cut Samuel Brothinson.

With a severe wound on his left shoulder, caused by a stab from a knife, Samuel Brothinson, a colored man, rushed into police headquarters about 6.50 o'clock last evening, and informed Detective Worrell that a soldier had stabbed him on Union street. Brothinson stated that he lived at 9 Union alley and had just come out of the alley to Union street when the soldier came along. The soldier called out "Get to — off the street," and, at the same time, struck the colored man a blow on the shoulder with a sharp knife. At the same time another colored man who was with Brothinson struck the soldier a blow on the mouth cutting his lip. The colored man told the detective he would soon know the soldier as he had a cut lip. The injured man was told to go along the street and if he could identify the man to point him out to the detective who would be following.

At 7.30 o'clock on Union street a picket from the 26th Battalion held up a soldier who was somewhat under the influence of liquor. They only held him for a few minutes when they let him go, and at the same time Brothinson identified the man as the one who assaulted him, and immediately pointed out his assailant to Detective Worrell. The latter started to take the man in charge but the picket would not allow the police officer to take the man, claiming they would place him under arrest, that they would not take him to the police station but would take him to the armory guard room. The detective was accompanied by Deputy Chief of Police Jenkins, and with the picket and the prisoner they all went to the armory. The soldier had the cut lip as spoken of by the colored man, and gave his name as Henry Adams.

Adams is charged on the police book with unlawfully wounding Samuel Brothinson by stabbing him on the left shoulder with a knife on Union street.

Detective Worrell took the colored man to the General Public Hospital where Dr. Denholm examined and dressed the wound. The cut is on the front of the shoulder near the neck and the knife blade penetrated the coat collar, the vest and shorts, and caused a wound three-eighths of an inch long and half an inch deep. The soldier is to appear in the police court this morning to answer to the charge made against him.
