Ohebucto Council, No. 4, of Halifax, as well as New Brunswick Council, No. 2, of St. John. The future of the rite in Nova Scotia, he said, was promising. New councils would soon be formed in Truro, New Glasgow, North Sydney and Yarmouth, while in New Brunswick Fredericton Council will be organized in the near future and Charlottetown, P. E. I., will also soon have one.

The grand master told of commissioning John A. Messervey, who is the present grand master told of commissioning John A. Messervey, who is the present grand master of the Grand Lodge F. and A. M., of P. E. I., as inspector general for the colony of Newfoundland. As to the future, he said a look over the ground warranted his predicting a rapid growth of cryptic masonry during the next year or two.

Referring to the fraternity in the United States he spoke of the substantial progress made in almost every jurisdiction there, and read extracts from the proceedings of a number of grand councils referring to the beauty of the degrees. Commissions, he said, were presented at the grand council by the following companions as representatives: P G M Robert Marshall Black, for the grand council of Maine; W Marshall Black, for the grand council of Michigan; Theodore S. Cosman, for the grand council of Arkansaw; Hendry B Fleming, for the grand council of Arkansaw; Hendry B Fleming, for the grand council of the grand council of Colorade.

The grand master said there had been no questions of cryptic law presented for him to adjudicate upon during the year and he closed his address by speaking of the kindly services he had received from the officers of the grand council and asked the same for his successor.

The report of Grand Recorder Robert Marshall showed the order to have advanced well during the year.

Grand Treasurer Wm. B. Wallace reported showing that, after paying all bills, there was a fairly good balance to the Grand Council of New Brunswick was changed to the Supreme Grand Council in the grand council of New Brunswick was changed to the Supreme Grand Deaths in Mining Districts.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 21.-Out of 1,000 nen who went into the Kotsebue country last fall, over seven per cent. have died from scurvy or met tragic deaths. This is the statement of J. K. Jones, of Sycamour, Ill., brother-in-law of Rev. W. S. Harrington, of Seattle.

Mr. Jones arrived on the Roanoke, which brought 35 men who have been afflicted with disease.

KRUGER REFUSES

Mr. Chamberlain-Seeking to

Joseph Chamberlain for the appointment of a court of inquiry. He may have done so diplomatically or hedgingly; but that his answer is regarded by the British government as tantamount to a positive refusal is now an established fact. The colonial office is normally noncommittal, but there are other evidences which amply justify the
