

Bigger and Better for Less Money

THE CANADIAN COURIER

Published at 181 Simcoe St., Toronto, by the Courier Press, Limited. Subscription Price: Canada and Great Britain, $2.00 per year; postage to United States, $1.00 per year; other foreign postage, $2.00 per year. IMPORTANT: Changes of address should be sent two weeks before the date they are to go into effect. Both old and new addresses must be given. CANCELLATIONS: We find that most of our subscribers prefer not to have their subscriptions interrupted in case they fail to remit before expiration. Unless we are notified to cancel, we assume the subscriber wishes the service continued.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

You will have noticed that with the issue of Oct. 7 the price has been reduced from 10 cents to 5 cents per copy.

EXTENSIONS

In keeping with this we are extending all subscriptions, so that the subscriber will receive extra copies sufficient to make up for the reduction in price.

EDITOR'S TALK

PRESIDENT WILSON said the other day that never again could the United States be neutral in a world war. He must have been reading the weekly war summary of Sidney Coryn in the San Francisco Argonaut, the summary which by special arrangement with Mr. Coryn and the Argonaut is now running simultaneously in the Canadian Courier. Coryn is an Englishman. But he doesn't write nine-tenths of his war stuff in favour of the Allies because he is an Englishman, but because in a neutral community containing a good percentage of Germans, he finds it impossible to be a real independent neutral without endorsing the operations and the prospects of the Allies most of the time. We consider this the best weekly war summary published on the American continent; which is the only reason it is offered to our reader

NEITHER can you afford to miss the character sketches that are becoming such a feature of the Canadian Courier. Illustrated by first-class drawings, written in popular, convincing style, they are a feature possessed by no other paper in Canada.

Our political and economic articles are valuable to you, because they represent independent views unbiassed by either party. We are as likely to praise the Grits as the Tories—or to criticize either. And there is no economic question treated in these columns that can get any colour or excuse from political affiliations.

AND these Jacob Holdfast stories running regularly every two weeks, illustrated by capable artists—there is no doubt about the popular interest and Canadian character of these. In this issue, Reuben Sparks Was a Just Man. Issue previous, My First Coon Hunt. Next—we don't know which yet, because these things only come to the author as he browses round among his early recollections on an Ontario farm.

WRIGLEYS

Gum-ption!

Here is lasting refreshment—something that will come between your teeth as a gentle, soothing, lasting, tasty "shock absorber" when you set your jaws for a big task. It spurs the appetite, aids digestion, helps to preserve the teeth. A boon to smokers—it soothes and cools the mouth and throat—makes the next pipe or cigar taste better. The largest selling gum in the world.

That Boy of Yours

is anxious to make extra pocket money, but does not know of a local job he can secure for Saturdays.

We solve the problem; we have the job. All the boy does is to claim it and go to work.

The work is made easy by our new method. We show the boy (or any one) how to go about getting subscribers to Canadian Courier. The instructions are so plain a boy can follow them.

Help the Boy

Your moral support back of the boy will mean much to his first efforts. Back this up with the help we can give, and success to the boy will mean a start in life towards money making.

Our terms are most liberal; a reasonable wage is guaranteed to every boy worker. Write to
