

CHAPLAINS.

70. The Chaplains shall give due attention to the religious instruction, and moral improvement, of the prisoners under their care.

71. Religious service shall be performed in their Chapels every morning at the opening of the Prison.

72. The Protestant Chaplain shall celebrate Divine Service twice on Sundays, statutory holidays and other such days as shall be appointed by the Governor General, in the forenoon between the hours of nine and eleven, and in the afternoon between the hours of two and four, and he shall maintain a Sunday School for religious instruction of the convicts, at such hours, as may be agreed upon, between him and the Warden.

73. The Roman Catholic Chaplain shall celebrate Divine Service once at least every Sunday, and at such other times as may be appointed by the Roman Catholic Bishop of the Diocese, in which the Penitentiary is situated, and which may be approved of by the Directors.

74. The Protestant Chaplain shall see that every Convict under his charge, who can read, is supplied with a copy of the authorised English version of the Bible without note or comment, and those who desire it with a copy of the Prayer Book of the Church of England.

75. The Roman Catholic Chaplain shall see that convicts of that persuasion who can read, are supplied with such version of the Bible and Prayer Book as he may indicate.

76. The Chaplains shall confine their religious instructions to those convicts only, whose names are transmitted to them respectively by the Warden, as being placed under their charge, and they shall make no attempt directly or indirectly to proselytise any convict, nor endeavor to withdraw him from the care of the Chaplain to whom he has been assigned.

77. They shall be diligent in seeing and conversing with the convicts at all reasonable times, of which times the Warden shall be the judge, in their cells or in the hospitals or chapels, and in administering to them such instructions and exhortations as may be calculated to promote their spiritual welfare, their moral reformation and due obedience to the Rules and authorities of the Prison.

78. It being desirable, that the labor and discipline of the Prison should be as little interfered with as possible, it shall be the duty of each Chaplain to see and instruct those convicts particularly, whose labour is hired to a Contractor, at other times than during working hours.

79. They shall visit daily those convicts who are sick or under punishment, and, as soon as possible, every convict just received into Prison.

80. They shall guard themselves carefully against encouraging convicts to make complaints as to their treatment, or as to the officers of the Prison. They shall not communicate to them without the consent of the Warden, any information or knowledge of anything, which may have occurred beyond the precincts of the Prison, or any intelligence whatever not in the strict line of their duty.

81. In the case of any convict which, in the opinion of the Chaplain,
