

arrangement at least, adapting it to the conditions of the Canadian Church. Few, if any, approved the suggestion. It got the cold shoulder. Times have changed. Mr. Wilson's views and arguments have now prevailed alike in the Diocesan, Provincial and General Synods, where, I am happy to say, he is recognized as a power in the interests of the Church, and the Church will soon possess a form of this venerated and priceless book, that will be acceptable to all—only enriched, not despoiled of any of the excellencies and beauties that have embedded it in the hearts and minds of the Anglican communion throughout the world.

I have to congratulate you on your beautiful organ, and to find that you have given it a memorial character by dedicating it to the memory of your first rector. Nothing could be more appropriate than the "Pollard Memorial Organ," and I cannot say with how much pleasure I listened last Sunday and this to the sweet singing of the choir—so full of praise and harmony in this your beautiful little church.

Here is a list of Wardens from 1821 to the present.
