

sition of the Sun's place at the birth of a certain noble Marquis who will find his health very indifferent this year, and scarcely equal to the strain and cares of public life; his enemies will be very acrimonious. The 10th inst., is an unfortunate birthday anniversary, especially for persons born in 1846, who are warned to avoid speculation and danger in their ensuing year of life. The 21st is a fortunate birthday, especially for martialists; the 31st is fortunate for mercurialists, artists and travellers.

NOVEMBER, 1888.—The happy conjunction of Venus with Jupiter, visible in the evening western sky, on the 1st inst., at 3h. 4m., p. m., is fortunate for all persons who were born on or about the 1st of December, and for those whose ascendant or midheaven held the 10th degree of the sign Sagittarius. This conjunction is also fortunate for Spain, whose trade and commerce should now be greatly extended. The Comte de Paris is now suffering from the transit of Uranus over the place of the Moon ($19^{\circ} 1'$) in the midheaven of his nativity; he is thereby warned to make no attempt to reign in France, for in such case he would be in danger of losing his life; he would act wisely to remain in retirement and safeguard his health during his 51st year. Mars passing through the sign Capricornus excites the Greeks and the Mexicans, we shall soon hear of some lively doings on the part of those excitable people. About the 11th and 28th insts., we shall hear of earthquake shocks in France. The 11th is an unfortunate birthday anniversary, threatening either ill-health or financial difficulties. The 1st, 5th, and 24th are rather fortunate.

DECEMBER, 1888.—The new Moon of the 3rd inst., taking place as the Sun applies to conjunction with Jupiter in Sagittarius, and in the eleventh house of the heaven, at Greenwich; Venus in the ascendant both at this lunation and at the winter solstice, promise a good trading month and prosperity for Britannia. The conjunction of the Sun and Jupiter on the 8th inst., promises a fortunate period for all persons whose birthday anniversary falls on or about this date, especially those who were born in 1864, 1836, 1824, or 1817, at sunrise or noon. The 11th and 12th are also fortunate birthday anniversaries, especially for merchants, farmers, miners, and scientists. Marriageable ladies
