

bours." The dedication service was commenced at half-past three o'clock, when a large number of the parishioners attended. The pulpit, lectern, Communion rails, and choir stalls were beautifully decorated with lilies of the valley, daffodils, and narcissi. The Rev. Chancellor O'Connor read the opening service, the Lesson was taken by the Very Rev. Dean Brandon, and the Rev. S. R. Magee read prayers. In addition to the clergy taking part in the service, the following were present: The Rev. A. E. Johnston, the Rev. E. Clover, the Rev. J. S. Long, and the Rev. F. G. Rochford-Wade, the Rector, who composed the hymns used on the occasion. The anthem, which was sung with much steadiness, was taken from the 147th Psalm, "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem." The Archbishop having read the dedication prayer, afterwards ascended the pulpit and delivered a brief address. The service was closed with the Benediction, pronounced by His Grace.

The Mission Church of the Epiphany at Louisville, Ky., of which the Rev. William Mockridge is the priest-in-charge, has lately undergone extensive improvements, which add much to its churchly appearance.

As a memorial to the Rev. R. H. Davies, incumbent of the Chelsea Old Church for upwards of half-a-century, it is proposed to rebuild the vestry on the north side. Other work contemplated is to restore the tomb of Sir Thomas More, and the repair of the organ.

The aged but still active Archbishop of Armagh has just completed a cure in London, and has now returned to Ireland. He expects to be very busy during the next five or six weeks, as he has to give long addresses to several Diocesan Synods of the Church in Ireland.

A presentation was recently made to Dr. J. Kendrick Pyne, in connection with his retirement from active duty as organist of Manchester Cathedral. A handsome case of silver plate, a cheque and an illuminated address were given to him and the presentation was made by the Right Rev. the Dean of Manchester.

The Rev. L. Amalric, who was a priest of the Roman Communion until several months ago, was admitted to exercise the functions of the ministry of the Church in St. Mary's Cathedral, Memphis, Tenn., recently by the Bishop of Tennessee. He expects to work in Mexico under Bishop Aves. Mr. Amalric is a Frenchman by birth, and came to the United States two years ago.

The Rev. G. H. Gray, who has just vacated the post of minor canon and sacrist of Canterbury Cathedral, on his departure to take up his work as Vicar of Ticehurst, has been presented by the Cathedral Sunday evening choir with a handsome Gunn's sectional bookcase. The presentation was made by Canon Danks, who paid a well-merited tribute to Mr. Gray's work in connection with the services.

The Very Rev. J. G. H. Barry, D.D., Dean of Nashotah House, has been appointed rector of the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, New York, in succession to the Rev. Dr. Christian.

Two gifts were made to St. James', Chicago, on Easter Day, the first being a silver private Communion service in memory of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Dyer, and the second a super frontal of rich and beautiful material, and of most exquisite workmanship, from Miss Mary Alden.

Mrs. Feeney is defraying the cost of carrying out the following alterations in the beautiful Berkswell Parish Church, in Worcestershire, placing a new marble floor in the body of the chancel, a marble mosaic in the sanctuary, new carved oak altar rails, a single row of carved oak stalls, moving the pulpit from the chancel arch to the north-east corner of the nave, replacing the stone lectern with carved oak, placing an oak screen in the archway between the chancel and the side chapel, re-laying the floor and renovating the same, removing the gallery from the north aisle, and placing new stained-glass in the seven east lights of the chancel.

The Suffragan Bishopric of Burnley has only been in existence for seven years, but, as a correspondent points out, is already on the eve of receiving its third Bishop. The first Bishop of Burnley, Dr. Hoskyns, was appointed to Southwell within three years of his consecration. The Bishopric is said to have been then refused by three well-known clergymen, prior to its acceptance by Canon Pearson, then of Sheffield. The second name submitted to the King was that of Canon Wright, the new Archdeacon of Manchester. Much sympathy is felt with the Bishop of Manchester, the Right Rev. Dr. Knox, who has within three months lost by death his Suffragan Bishop and two of his Archdeacons.

Among the most active and useful of the members of the Lower House of Convocation is the very venerable Archdeacon Kaye, of Lincoln. Archdeacon Kaye was ordained deacon and priest in 1846, taking his decree in 1844. He has been rector of Riseholme since 1846 (sixty-three years), has been Archdeacon and Canon of Lincoln since 1863; Rural Dean of Laress since 1873; he preaches every Sunday in the nave of the Cathedral during his three months' residence as Canon, sometimes twice; and is particularly strong and active, and his intellect most clear. He is a son of a late Bishop of Lincoln, and celebrated his golden wedding about three years ago.

A very painful sensation was caused at Norwich just after the opening of the Norwich Diocesan Conference by the sudden death of the Rev. Canon Hare, the venerable Vicar of Docking and Rural Dean of Heacham, Norfolk. The sad event took place just after the luncheon interval on May 7th. On the re-assembling of the Conference it was found that the clergyman had fallen to the floor, from which he was unable to move. Several of the clergy and laity carried the reverend gentleman to an adjoining room, and Dr. Crowford, a lay member of the Conference, attended him, but death came within seven minutes. The deceased, who was just eighty years of age, had been Vicar of Docking since 1873, and Hon. Canon of Norwich since 1894. Mr. Hare was highly esteemed as one of the oldest beneficed clergymen in the diocese, he was considered a moderate High Churchman, took great interest in missionary work, and was an ideal parish priest. He leaves a large family of grown-up sons and daughters.

PRAYER.

The twilight falls, the night is near,
I fold my work away
And kneel to One Who bends to hear
The story of the day.

The old, old story; yet I kneel
To tell it at Thy call;
And cares grow lighter as I feel
That Jesus knows them all.

Yes, all! The morning and the night,
The joy, the grief, the loss,
The roughened path, the sunbeams bright,
The hourly thorn and cross.

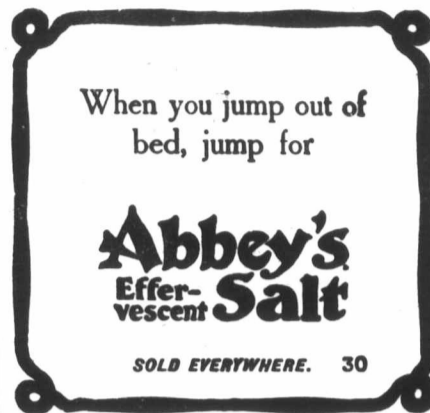

Thou knowest all—I lean my head,
My weary eyelids close;
Content and glad awhile to tread
This path, since Jesus knows!

And He has loved me! All my heart
With answering love is stirred,
And every anguished pain and smart
Finds healing in His Word.

So here I lay me down to rest,
As nightly shadows fall,
And lean, confiding, on His breast,
Who knows and pities all!

We can close out the sunshine from our homes by blocking up the windows. The sun shines all the same. So we can also refuse to admit the sweet, life-giving sunshine of Christ's presence and sunshine into our lives, but He shines forth, the Light and Joy of souls all the same.

If we had some helpful book always by us, or some piece of work always on hand, how much might be done in the "odd five minutes" of a lifetime!

Bronchitis More Than a Cold.

Sometimes it becomes chronic and returns again and again, wearing out its victim.

At other times it develops rapidly into pneumonia—cure is found in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

Any cold is serious enough when its dreadful possibilities are considered, but when there is soreness or tightness in the chest and a dry hard cough you can look for bronchitis, which is often confused with an ordinary cold.

It is usually known by aching limbs and body pains, chilly feelings, weariness and weakness, pain in the chest and a tight, tearing cough. Fever, dry skin, thirst, coated tongue and constipation are other symptoms.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine seems almost like a specific for bronchitis because it is so successful in loosening up the cough, aiding expectoration and preventing the inflammation from reaching the lungs.

Bronchitis is particularly dreaded because of its tendency to develop into pneumonia and even when this does not result bronchitis is likely to return again and again whenever a slight cold is taken until it wears out even the most vigorous system.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is so prompt in affording relief and so thorough and far-reaching in action that it succeeds when ordinary cough medicines have no influence.

Mr. James F. Thompson, Yonge Mills, Leeds County, Ont., writes:—"Last winter my two boys were so bad with colds on the chest or bronchitis that they coughed all night and could get no rest or sleep. Several cough remedies were tried to no avail until I was told about Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and this treatment soon cured them." 25c. a bottle, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Company, Toronto.
