In Entering upon its Seventh Year The Westminster Review

Wishes to thank the many Home-makers who have made the gradual but steady development of its subscription list an incentive to its management to "fight through" these difficult days, and build up this journal as the "Social, Educational and Religious Monthly of the Canadian West."

With equal earnestness and sincerity we thank the business men and firms who have used our advertising space. We appeal for advertising on a Business Basis, but not on that alone.

By various published messages we have sought from time to time to connect readers and advertisers. This is all the more necessary in a publication which is particular about the class of advertising it carries.

Much more might be said along this line, and may be said soon, as we believe the Home-makers who subscribe to this Review form an influential portion of the community.

Opportunity for Active Agents in Churches and Communities

THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW, Vancouver, is the only Monthly in Western Canada seeking to cover the Social, Educational and Religious field, and Magazine interest and support, (like some other things), should "begin at home"—though it need not stop there.

Men and women who believe in the value of an Ideal will agree that the Westminster Review may fairly hope and aim to permeate every community and denomination in Western Canada.

To capable agents we allow 50% commission (while the subscription rate remains at $1 a year), and we shall continue to do so until or unless the increased cost of production makes a change imperative.

Interested parties are invited to write: Circulation Manager, 1317 Haro Street, Vancouver, B. C.
