

THE TRIBULATIONS OF TWO STAMPEDERS

CONTINUED.

1. AY TANK VE GO ON A STAMPEED

2. HET BA HAAL!

3. FULL DA OODER WAY!!!!

4. CLAAR DA TRACK!

5. COME A YUMPIN', OLE.

6. YUMPIN' YIMINY!!!

7. AY TANK VE BEATER GOO HAME.

"They say," she said, "that a girl doesn't know her own mind."
 "So I've heard," he admitted.
 "I wonder why," she persisted.
 "Well," he replied, "I've noticed that the average girl seems to know a young man's mind all right enough and it is just possible that one mind is the limit of human knowledge and that she gives her attention to the one that is of the most importance."
 —Chicago Post.

"I thought you wanted some sensational news," said the reporter in a bewildered way as the city editor showed him his copy in a high state of blue pencil.
 "I do," said the city editor wearily, "but it isn't necessary to murder the English language in order to make a sensation."
 —Washington Times.

Mrs. Gooding—Mr. Crankard is the best man in the world, if what his wife says is true. She declares that he never tried to deceive her in the slightest.

Mrs. Smartset—Dear me! What a man he must be to live with! He must be either a terrible liar or a great ninny.—Boston Transcript.

"Why do you English people insist on calling an elevator a 'lift' and a pie a 'tart'?" inquired the young woman.
 "Really," answered the young man who came over to get married, "I can't say. I was about to ask you why so many people here call a lift an 'elevator' and a tart a 'pie.'"

The Nugget's facilities for turning out first-class job work cannot be excelled this side of San Francisco.

the ice and when left 176 letters, who volunteered the creek. When the year "Casey" boat ride from Dawson a company with a load of bread by some friends a good joke, but he still another role. Shortly after the circle he was made placed in charge of all that had then Circle and returned first-up-river stamper of the new state of the A. C. Co. gave his store which goods department there was opened office with "Casey" as postmaster. He position a month, remuneration from Captain Harper, who became the master and who was able Carter.

remainder of the the following water received in Dawson found its way to Richard's contract from but under it he Yukon fared to previous contracts of irresponsibility of '98 saw but Dominion government making new law and prospective wealth and Eldorado. Pennington Skagway, Dyes often brought letters which had those points for the had passed on down of many shades First avenue could with the legend were expecting for them of the was a chance shot if And if you were find some you one dollar each.

Such remuneration did not last long ed down upon all postmasters and stock of letters, on "conflicted with service." Late in a postoffice was building which for door to the Green consisting of members. On the few mail arrived a be found standing and three blocks their turn to get privileged to enter without standing in them for a considerable our mail, thus avoiding wait.

'98, Mr. I. J. Harniss postmaster, arrived of postal affairs. ed a God-send to on, and after much order restored. New quarters were Administration building first time the city worthy of the name. ed there until it was the new postoffice building, 1, 1900.

winter of '98 the of the mail and too not be given their efforts. Through and blinding snow on with their bags of early awaited, receiving conscious only of duty. With the opening in '99 the government contract to the Canadian Company and for the history of Dawson was received and in some degree of winter of '99 dogs were the service entirely. winter the experiment was tried, cut-off in order to save time.

Continued on page 7.