Mr. Longley in Sackville.

On Monday the Hon. Mr. Longley will come to Sackville to electrify the Liberal imaginations of Westmorland Co., and endeavor to convince our farmers that their position woul! be greatly improved under unrestricted reciprocity; that it would be to their interest to have free access to the American markets and allow the Americans free access to ours. Were Mr. Longley's mission to convince the farmers that it would be better for the following programme was given, to the following programme so the following programme was given, to the following program was given, to the following program was given, to the following programme was given, to the following program was given, to the following programme was given, to the following program the farmers that it would be better for them to supply the home market first, and then look to the disposal of the surplus afterward, rather than worry over the market for a surplus before it is produced, he would be doing a more commendable deed. Speaking for Sackville, we ask Mr. Longley to name any one article of farm production-for which our farmers have not at present, an ample market at their own doors. Name any article for which there is not a good demand, and at a good price in our own mar-kets We do not know of a single kets We do not know of a single article which is suffering for want of a market, but we can name a long list of articles which we import, that could be produced at home the result is that Ontario and Quebec are sending all sorts of dairy and farm products into our markets, to supply a demand which we do not supply ourselves. We buy flour in Winnipez cornmeal in the United States and Ontario, Oats from P. E. Island and Ontario, Oats from P. E. Island by the carload, potatoes from the same place, pork and beef, fresh and cured, T. S. Kirkpatrick and Mr. Thos. Mur. and Ontario, Oats from P. E. Island from Ontario, lard from Toronto and ray, secretary.

The following accepted invitation and ray is the following accepted invitation. Hamilton, and butter by the ton from Montreal. Of all these our farmers Montreal. Of all these our lattices do not raise enough for home consumption: where then lies the value of reciprocity to them?

It is within a year that Chicago beef sold in Sackville in competition with that fattened on the Tantramar marshes; and if there is one thing more than another that has endeared Mr. Wood, M. P, to the Liberal farmers of Westmorland, it is his proposal to shut off Chicago competition in our fresh meat business; a proposal that was accepted in parlia.

""H E Fawcett "Smith"

If our farmers cannot compete with Chicago beef with a duty of one cent per pound, can they expect to do better with no duty at a life thing to a problem that unrestricted recip.

The competence of the co rocity would do well to solve farmers are not more prosperou cure does not rest in reciprocity, unti we stop importing what we can raise

We hear a great deal about eggs nowadays. Sackville is always poorly supplied with eggs, and parely or never is a shipment made from this never is a shipment many rion this station outward; although the price is always a paying one. Let our farmers raise more produce of the kind the market is willing to take. Do as merchants do: if the market calls Keep more cows; do not let a butte factory grow sickly because there ar not enough cows to keep it going, and cry for reciprocity. It is the height of folly to fly off to a foreign market ket when the home one is in poverty

The Behring Sea Matters

Sir Julian Pauncefote has submit ted the following draught of agree meent to Mr. Blaine for his considerameent to Mr. Blaine for this consideration:

(1) That pelagic sea scaling be prohibited in the Behring Sea of Ochotsk and adjoining waters, during the months and adjoining waters, during the months of October, November and December the migration period of the fur seal.

(2) All scaling vessels be prohibited from approaching the breeding island, within a radius of ten miles.

These regulations would put a stop to two practices complained of as tending to externintate the species.

(1) The shaughter of female scals with a specially in the narrow passes of the Alcution Islands,

(2) The destruction of female scals by marauders surreptitiously landing on the breeding islands under cover of the dense fog which almost continuously prevails in that locality during the summer.

If these suggestions are accepted by Her Majesty's government it would cerviled. Throughout the tedious trial, when his death on Friday.

If these suggestions are accepted by Her Majesty's government it would cerviled. Throughout the tedious trial, when his fife former to his surroundings; and even when he stood face to face with death beneath the gallows, and when the black can shut from his eyes, forever.

prevails in that locality during the summer.

If these suggestions are accepted by Her Majesty's government it would certainly manifest a friendly desire to cooperate with the United States government and that of Russia, in the protection of the seal rookeries, and the prevention of any violation of laws applicable. These proposals have been framed in a spirit of justice and concillation, and with an earnest desire to terminate the controversy in a manner honorable to all parties and worthy the three great nations concerned.

Now if Secretary Blaine desires to discuss the matter' with Sir Julian on this plan, there will shortly be an end to the Behring Sea fisheries trouble.

THERE is every liklihood that next rear will see the whole of the population of Iceland on the away to Canada or the United States From the official statutes it appears that fully 20,000 natives, or about one fourth of the population of the island, have already emigrated to this continent. This great decrease has had the effect of sending down property in the island, while taxes have gone upso much so that there is a great complaining and a looking westward to where their brothers are propering and in happy homes. There is no class of settlers better suited for our northwest than the hardy, industrious Icelanders. The colonists a ready in the north-west have done well, and the farms around their Icelandic settlements are among the best in the scaped destruction by fire a short time ago; the fire caught from a furnace in the north-west have done well, and the farms around their Icelandic settlements are among the best in the country.
