"Plastigrams" the Sensation of the Age

What Plastigrams Are

The Plastigrams invented by Professor Frederic E. Ives are the realization of what scientists have been striving for—"The Third Dimension Pictures." They have the depth as well as the clarity of a photograph, standing out from the screen just as in real life, when viewed through the two colored glasses which will be supplied by the theatre to patrons attending each performance.

So realistic are these pictures that when an automobile appears on the screen coming in the direction of the auditorium patrons actually make an attempt to dodge, realizing the same sensation they would have were a car coming directly for them on the street. The foregoing will give you some idea of the fun, but the whole thing is so wonderful you will have to witness it to fully appreciate.

WILL DEMONSTRATE PNEUMONIA SERUM

New York, Dec. 6—Dr. Medrie F. de Gerin, arrived from France today on the ship "Paris" for a demonstration of the use of a serum he has developed to combat pneumonia. Dr. de Gerin returns from Paris at the invitation of many of the leading physicians of America.

Dr. de Gerin who was the personal physician of James Gordon Bennett for many years said he would demonstrate his serum during the next year in American cities extending him an invitation.

Dr. de Gerin also said he believed he had discovered a cure for anemia and that he would be glad to place it at the disposal of American physicians for further tests. As a result of a study of cancer he said, he had come to the conclusion that the disease was both infectious and contagious and that cancer patients should be isolated and their living quarters fumigated.

Born in Nashua, N.H., in 1867 of French parents Mr. de Gerin has always retained his American citizenship, and has practised in New England and California. Of late years he has conducted his studies in Paris.

WORK THIS OUT IN YOUR SPARE TIME

A man came into an electrical store with an electric iron needing a slight repair. He waited until the job was finished, and being told that it would cost a dollar, he handed the dealer a five dollar bill. The dealer was unable to make the change so the customer said, "I haven't another cent and I must take the iron back with me. Let me have a dollar and I'll come back for the bill tomorrow."

The dealer consented, took the five dollar bill and handed the customer a dollar and the iron. The following day the man returned gave the dealer four dollars and received his five dollar bill back.

Was this a profitable transaction for the dealer?

Christmas Message Of C. N. R. President

Expresses Thanks To All Ranks For Their Enthusiasm And Co-Operation

Through the medium of the Canadian National Railways Magazine, Sir Henry W. Thornton has addressed the following Christmas message to all members of the company:

"Now that another year has rolled by I want to express my deepest appreciation of everything you have done during this year. We have faced obstacles together and we have overcome them; we have encountered odds, and have beaten them; we have been earnest and cheerful through it all and nothing but success can be the reward of such efforts.

"To those of you who come in contact with the travelling public and those on whom depends the obtaining of freight traffic, I want to voice my appreciation of your work. Courtesy and service, a willingness to do a little bit more than is absolutely necessary have won for us friends and business. Our competition in the great fight for business has been clean and wholesome and those who have been waging it in the open have been heartily supported by those in the background—that unseen army of Canadian National Employees who have been making it possible to render a service that improves with each day. I refer to those outside the Traffic Department. Whether a man's duties lie in shovelling snow from a station platform or in making the roadbed of a section a little smoother, he is giving service that is appreciated.

"Conditions during the past year have not been of the best anywhere in the world, and Canada has come in for her share of depression, but with brighter visions ahead and a spirit such as permeates the Canadian National family, we will face the coming year with enthusiasm and courage, and through our determination each of us will justify the work he has done during 1924 and the work to be done during the coming year.

"At this time I want to take the opportunity to wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year."

FAULTY NUTRITION

Many of the ailments of grown people may be traced to faulty nutrition. Well-fed children or adults withstand weakness better than those who are indifferently nourished.

Scott's Emulsion

Supplies the weakened child or adult with food factors that other foods often fail to furnish in needful volume.

Not a great deal of Scott's Emulsion is needed—but a little regularly often means restored vigor and strength to those who are rundown in vitality or who are weak.
