Ottawa, Feb. 15. The attempt of the Government to force the reciprocity agreement through parliament without giving opportunity for the House and country to become fully acquainted with the real intent and meaning of the sweeping changes, is one which is sure to add to the volume of disfavor in which this administration is held for its unbusiness-like methods. It is only a little more than two weeks since Mr. Fielding announced to the House of Commons the nature of the proposals, and their comprehensive character staggered parliament as well as the people. Having declared that no change whatever would be made in the agreement Mr. Fielding withheld from the House the requisite information as to the volume and extent of the business interests affected, and this was only produced on the very eve of the resumption of the debate. In this way the Government deliberately tried to prevent any intelligent criticism of a bargain to which Messrs. Fielding and Paterson committed Canada, and by refusing to permit of reasonable delay in order that everyone throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion might fully grasp the details of the agreement, the Government decided to club their "bargain" through parliament by the big stick of their servile majority. What good object can be gained by this unseemly haste is hard to see. In a matter of this kind affecting as it does all parts of the country and changing with one stroke of the pen the well-established channels of trade, every opportunity for careful study should have been granted. Is the Government so doubtful of the wisdom of the step it has taken that it wishes to secure the passage of the agreement through parliament as quickly as possible? That is what this perspiring energy of Messrs. Fielding and Paterson looks like. Surely if this is such a "good business bargain" for Canada the Government need not have feared the opposition request for time for full and careful consideration. Mr. Foster's peroration which closed his brilliant speech in opposition to the reciprocity proposals will find an echo in the heart of every Canadian, no matter what he may think of the individual side of the agreement. "This proposal," said Mr. Foster, "cuts square across our national ideal, challenges it at every point, will endanger it undoubtedly, may destroy it entirely. Should we not think before we enter into it? This proposal cuts our country into sections, and at every section bleeds the life blood out of it. The well-filled arteries of inter-provincial trade will be drained until the whole system grows anemic and flabby. Do not treat it lightly, the sustained pressure of 93 millions to 8 millions, the far-reaching effect of business affiliation, the close proximity and constant efflux and influx, the seductions of commercialism, the constant intercourse of business, social and official life will inevitably weaken the ties of empire, and weaken affections of our newer generations, if not ourselves towards the predom-ant power, create new attachments until like Samson we would arise and would shake ourselves and find our strength is gone. I utter the most solemn words I have ever uttered in my life, and I believe them to the very bottom of my heart, that there is danger and deep danger ahead. This path entered upon leads us away from home to a strange country in the light of nationality and ideal. I pray that the full meaning of this first step may sink into the hearts of the people of this country until there shall burst forth a protest of such strength that the step contemplated will be recalled, and the old paths leading east and west among our own people converging on the great metropolis of the mother-land may be followed without uncertainty and without doubt to the national ideal." And to that appeal every true Canadian will say Amen.

But how will Sir Wilfrid have the face to appear at the colonial conference this year.—London Free Press.

And now the Canadian beamen are protesting against the proposed reciprocity agreement. They put it briefly to the point when they say that if the measure carries they will be stung.—Hamilton Spectator.

Hon. William Pugsley has a plan for a Commons chamber open to the "pure air of heaven." There are some people who would like to see a public works department open to the "pure air of an investigation."—London Free Press.

The declaration of the New York Herald that the reciprocity agreement is a victory for President Taft and Canada's representatives over England is a clear indication of the direction in which we are drifting.—London Free Press.

The statement that women will run from a mouse has been made so often that it is generally taken as a fact. But next time you are about to comment on the fact just remember that a woman 71 years of age down in Philadelphia had her appendix removed without taking an anesthetic. Talk about nerve.—Calgary Herald.

There is some discussion in the St. John, N. B., papers over the disappearance of 450 loads of stone without the knowledge of the municipal authorities. Four hundred and fifty loads of stone should make a big haul. Evidently all the practical genius of the New Brunswick people does not turn for scope to the field of National politics.—Montreal Gazette.

It is a dead certainty that if this new tariff goes through Uncle Sam will pull some cards out of his long sleeve that the Canuck does not see at the present time. In the impetuosity of its first decade in long pants Canada is too freshly eager to give an enormous price for what we can get free by waiting. Canada is very prosperous just now, and it is wise to let well enough alone. If the proposed tariff goes through, it will wrap a band of wide crape around the Liberal party of this great Dominion.—Greenwood Ledger.

The beauty of the "unwritten law," as practised in the States, lies not so much in its automatic precision as in its delicate observance of the forms of the crude law embodied in statute. In Maryland, recently, a man who had been warned by another man to remain away from the latter's house, was discovered by him as he approached his home Saturday night. There was, of course, nothing for the aggrieved man to do except to get his shotgun and put an end to the other's existence. It was then thought as well—such is the ineradicable American respect for law, even when it is written—"to comply with the forms of law by hearing what had occurred." The story was told, and the verdict of "justifiable homicide" promptly rendered by the coroner's jury. There is only one blot upon the seamlessness of the whole affair, and that is the victim's dying statement that he was merely passing the house when he was shot, and that the attack upon him was the outcome of some act of his when he was deputy sheriff four years ago. This has given his friends a pretext for calling the verdict a snap judgment, and, as he was apparently at least as highly respected as his slayer, a feud is threatened. This is almost as unfortunate a consequence as any that could have followed an ignoring of the "unwritten law."—St. John Standard.

Reciprocity at Washington

As recorded elsewhere in this issue, the reciprocity agreement passed the House of Representatives at Washington by an overwhelming majority and is now in the Senate. During the debate in the House Champ Clark, Democrat, prospective Speaker and Leader of that House said "Reciprocity would bring annexation as its inevitable result." Mr. Norris, of Nebraska, interrupted Clark and asked: "Do you think this will end in bringing Canada into the Union?" "Yes, I have no doubt about it," answered Clark. "Do you think that will tend to peace with Great Britain?" continued Mr. Norris. "Yes, I certainly think it will. I have no doubt the time will come when Great Britain would joyfully see all her North American possessions become part of the republic," answered Mr. Clark. "That is the way things are tending now." Mr. Clark continuing said he looked forward to the day when the Stars and Stripes would be the only flag from Central America to the North Pole. In line with these sentiments was the resolution proposed in the House of Representatives on the 16th by Representative Bennet of New York, as follows: "That the President be requested to commence negotiations with the British Government to secure the annexation of Canada to the United States."

The Peace River Country.

Owing to the development in that part of Western Canada west of Edmonton and the business impetus that is now going on in that territory, and in order to adequately take care of the land in Peace River country where 15,000 new homesteads will be offered for free entry by the Dominion Government this year, a daily except Sunday passenger train will be operated by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway between Edmonton and Peace River, Alta., commencing on Monday, February 13th. From the latter point the new Government wagon road enables settlers with their effects to travel with ease and comparative comfort in about one week's time to the Grande Prairie as against the much longer and more expensive routes through gateway east of Edmonton, which occupy from a month and a half to two months. The new train will leave Edmonton daily except Sunday at 9.30 a. m., arrive Peace River (130 miles) at 1 p. m., returning leave Peace River at 3.30 p. m., arrive Edmonton 10.05 p. m.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS

The engineer of the Calgary electric light plant was electrocuted at his work the other day.

The bill to abolish the veto power of the House of Lords is now under discussion in the Imperial House of Commons.

On Friday last three young men from Cape Bear went out on the ice in the Strait, for the purpose of duck shooting. They were Louis Harris, Fletcher Jordan and Elliot Lumsden; about 4 o'clock in the afternoon the field began to move out and parted from the board ice at the shore. Lumsden was the first to notice this and made a dash for the shore which he succeeded in reaching at considerable risk, but the others were too late. They were out of the board ice and were carried seaward. There was no remedy; they were out for the night. A snow storm added to their discomfort. They were not very heavily clad and their plight was most serious. The alarm was given by their friends on shore and boats were started; but nothing could be done. Word was brought to Georgetown and the Earl Grey started at daylight Saturday morning and picked up the men about 8 miles to the eastward of Cape Bear. The men were tired, cold and hungry, but escaped being frostbitten. They were taken to Pictou and brought back Sunday.

Gifts Of The "Georges" and "Marys" to the King and Queen.

An undertaking which will appeal very strongly to the minds of all loyal British subjects is now afoot. It is to ask all throughout the Empire who bear the names of our beloved King and Queen to contribute a small sum towards a fund to be presented to their Majesties as a Coronation gift. The people of our province are second to none in their loyalty and devotion of our King and Queen; and all the Georges and Marys of P. E. Island will do their best to have a share in such a popular movement. Every man and boy whose name or part of whose name is "GEORGE" and all women and girls whose names include "MARY" in any of the forms given below are invited to contribute. The names of all contributors will appear on the list presented to their Majesties, but not the amount given by each. The smallest sum will be accepted, but no one contribution may exceed Five Dollars. Subscription lists will be distributed throughout the Province and will remain open until Easter Tuesday, April 18th. Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Rogers who have taken this matter up asks for a hearty co-operation of all our people in bringing it to the notice of those specially interested. Contributions will only be received from men and boys of the name of George, and from women and girls who possess as a part of their Christian names, Mary, May, Marie, Maria, Marian, Marion, Miriam, or Martha. In this City subscription lists will be found at the Dominion Savings Bank, the office of the Assistant Provincial Secretary and at all the chartered Banks.

BOILS AND PIMPLES

Are caused altogether by bad blood, and unless you cleanse the system of the bad blood the boils or pimples will not disappear. Get pure blood and keep it pure by removing every trace of impure matter from the system by using the greatest known blood medicine, BARDOCK'S BLOOD PURIFIER.

Boils Cured. Mr. A. J. Sautin, Newwood, N.S., writes: "Two years ago I was troubled with boils on my neck and back, and could not get rid of them. A friend recommended me to try Bardock's Blood Purifier, and after using two bottles I noticed that the boils were entirely gone, and I have not been troubled with any since."

Pimples Cured. Miss Eva A. Skinner, Granby, Que., writes: "I am pleased to recommend Bardock's Blood Purifier as it has done me much good. My face was covered with pimples, and being advised by a friend to try Bardock's Blood Purifier and have them removed, I did so and I now have not a spot on my face."

Weighted 135 Pounds—Now Weighs 172.

Mrs. Charles McDermott, Bathurst, N.B., writes:—"I thought I would write and let you know the benefit I have received through the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Three years ago I had consumption. I had three doctors attending me and they were very much alarmed about my condition. I was so weak and miserable I could not do my housework. While looking through your B.B.B. almanac I saw that Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup was good for weak lungs, so I got a bottle at the drug store, and after taking ten bottles I was completely cured. At that time I weighed 135 pounds and now weigh 172, a gain of 37 pounds in three years. I now keep it in the house all the time and would not be without it for anything, as I owe my life to it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup contains the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree, which, combined with other absorbent, expectorant and soothing medicines, makes it without a doubt the best remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles.
