Worth Supporting.

The great housing scheme inaugurated by a number of prominent citizens, with the sole object of ameliorating the conditions of life in this city, is worthy the support of every right-thinking man, interested in the future welfare of coming generations. The Housing Problem as has been pointed out in all sections of the press, is universally acute, and the biggest minds of the hour are devoting every attention to its satisfactory solution. The scheme for building houses for workingmen, soldiers and sailors, as outlined in the prospectus of the Dominion Co-operative Building Association, Limited, is a most promising one, and is drawn up with one main idea—that of providing healthy and comfortable houses at reasonable rates of rental, and assisting those who wish to own their own houses, to acquire them as cheaply and as easily as possible, by making the terms dovetail with the financial standing of prospective purchasers. Notwithstanding that the cost of general building has nearly doubled the past few years, and in the case of certain articles, required for interior finishing, the price is almost three times that of pre-war days, the D.B.A. are of opinion that they can tackle the local housing problem if given the united efforts of citizens, the co-operation of the Government and of the City Council. It is important, too, that early arrangements be made, because the new houses are badly required immediately, but to make their arrangements it is necessary that the Association receive all the financial support promised it, and this can best be given by taking up the stock, thus furnishing the means for the initial start.

The proposal to build the houses in broad, clean streets, with plenty of space and air, and of the most modern design, well lighted, well kept and with a perfect system of water and drainage, and with the most up-to-date sanitary equipment, will surely be welcomed by all who are desirous of moving from their present insanitary and uncomfortable quarters. The ideal in everything may not be reached at once, but time will show that in carrying out the programme drawn up by the Building Association promoters, much will have been done to beautify the city itself, and to improve the health of the twelve thousand five hundred people of St. John's who are at present living amidst surroundings that as Hon. John Anderson writes, "can be better imagined than described."

All honor and success to the men who have put their hands to this great work, which when successfully accomplished will redound to their credit and philanthropy and be a monument to their endeavours in behalf of humanity.

Placentia Welcomes Governor Harris.

His Excellency the Governor, accompanied by Lady and Miss Harris, and Private Secretary Capt. Hamilton, arrived here yesterday, and were met at the station by the magistrate. They then proceeded to the Convent for the purpose of conferring the decoration of M.B.E. on Mrs. (Magistrate) O'Reilly.

The Vice-regal party was received by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Reardon, the good Sisters and others. They were given an ovation by the school children, and Lady and Miss Harris were presented with bouquets.

The Governor, in his address, congratulated Mrs. O'Reilly on the honor conferred on her by His Majesty the King.

After the ceremony His Excellency and party motored to the residence of the magistrate and partook of luncheon.

Placentia, July 11, 1919.

The Star.

Our contemporary the Daily Star was unable to issue on Friday and Saturday, because of a newspaper shortage, a consignment not having arrived on time, and we understand that the stocks at the other news offices were not of the width used by the Star, consequently no assistance could be rendered by loaning enough to tide the management over. The Star has our sympathies, and we trust that it will be on the street again to-day.

Noted Journalist Here.

Mr. B. M. Green, who is representing the Montreal Financial Times here is managing editor of the International Press, Limited, publishers of "Who's Who and Why." This news service is very widely known, having its representatives posted in every civilized country in the world. The annual volume, "Who's Who," is too well known to need mention, and it is principally in this connection that Mr. Green is here now. Included in the forthcoming edition of "Who's Who," will be the names, careers and photographs of about sixty or seventy of the most prominent men of Newfoundland, and two assistants or interviewers are here with him for the purpose of collecting the information desired. Mr. Green is an old newspaper man, and is well acquainted with every prominent journalist of the American continent. He will probably be here for another month before his work is finished.

Still in Egypt.

A letter from (Rev.) Captain Stenlake dated June 9th, conveys the information that he was then in Egypt, his stay having been prolonged by recent after-war troubles which prevented demobilization. He speaks of visiting the house of Simon the Tanner at Joppa and of attending the baptism of a Brahmin, an unusual occurrence. He also visited Nazareth and other centres of interest, and will doubtless have much to tell on his return. He desires to be remembered to all friends and hopes soon to be on his way back to Newfoundland.

Ethie's Report.

Capt. English, of the S.S. Ethie, has wired the following report to the Reid Co. from Humbermouth:—Made all ports of call to Battle H. Fishery prospects not very bright on Labrador; a good sign of fish at most places on Newfoundland side; caplin plenty all along the shore; a better sign of fish at Flower's Cove than reported last week; weather backward."

How to Serve.

ON TOAST. Sunkist Marmalade on toast is a favorite breakfast dish in thousands of homes. The morning meal is not considered complete without a snack of marmalade as a "starter."

ON GRIDDLE CAKES. Spread on griddle cakes, waffles or French toast—Sunkist Marmalade adds a deliciously appetizing tang. Many use it constantly in place of butter or syrups.

ON BISCUITS. The success of countless Sunday night lunches is founded on Sunkist Marmalade and hot biscuits. With muffins, rolls or other breads, marmalade adds attractiveness to any dinner.

IN SANDWICHES. The children, especially, like marmalade sandwiches—and marmalade is an excellent food. There are few better ways to give the "kiddies" their necessary sweets than in marmalade spreads.

Sunkist Orange Marmalade, Sunkist Grapefruit Marmalade, Sunkist Orange Jelly are for sale by the leading St. John's grocers. Trade supplied by P. E. Outerbridge, Sole Agent.

PATIENTS DOING WELL.—The two stewards, who were injured on board of the Gramplan in last Wednesday's collision, are doing well in hospital aboard ship, and will be able to get around again within the course of a few days.

Martinsyde Biplane Will Probably Leave This Afternoon.

The Martinsyde rebuilt biplane, down by Mr. P. F. Raynham, pilot and Lieut. C. H. Biddlecombe, navigator, took the air at twenty minutes to one to-day, preparatory to the commencement of the trans-Atlantic flight. Yesterday a leak in the radiator was discovered, while in moving the machine one of the tyres became damaged. Both defects were remedied and to-day's trial flight is for the purpose of testing their working.

The new wireless, also, is to be tested, and if everything is favorable the beginning of the great flight will be made this afternoon. The meteorological conditions are favorable, although not as favorable as yesterday, when the winds blew straight across to Ireland. The moon last night, also, was full and flying could have been done and the course kept as easily as sailing a ship. However, if the Martinsyde gets away to-day the chances that she will make the flight and in even quicker time than the Vickers-Vimy are 10 to 1. The intention to-day was to stay in the air for about half an hour, by which time the necessary tests could be made. All will join in wishing the very best of luck and success to Raynham, for he has surely met with poor luck since his arrival here.

Messrs. D. J. French, Bert Channing D. and C. Merner, left yesterday for a few days fishing at Come-by-Chance. Master Jack Howlett who has been attending St. Bon's College during the winter, left by the Prospero on Saturday for his home in Twillingate. Miss Ellen Gardiner who was teaching at Herring Neck during the winter, and who arrived here a few days ago; left for her home in Trinity Bay by Saturday's express.

Mr. W. Frampton of White Rock T. B. who was in the city on business, returned to his home by yesterday's express.

The Rev. Mr. Uphill former Rector of St. Mary's Church, Southside; who has been to Canada on a health trip, arrived here by the Sable I. last night, accompanied by his wife and daughter.

Sports for Charity Sake.

On Wednesday afternoon, at 2.45, a foot race between teams representing the Gramplan and the city will be played. The game promises much enjoyment, as the best players from both sides will engage in the tussle. During the interval a five-mile open handicap race will be put on, Mr. Shrub, the world's champion runner, to attack the five mile grass record of 24.58. Mr. J. T. Atkins, ten mile divisional champion of France, will receive a handicap that will extend Shrub to the limit. Local runners are also requested to take part in this race which will contain the greatest exhibition of running ever given at St. John's.

Obituary.

VERY REV. DEAN DOUTNEY.

Sincere and general will be the regret throughout this Dominion over the intelligence of the demise of Rev. W. P. Doutney, Dean of the Archdiocese of St. John's and Parish Priest of Renew, which sad event occurred at 11.30 o'clock yesterday morning.

The deceased clergyman was a son of the late William and Mary Doutney, being born in St. John's on June 29th, 1845, and therefore in the 74th year of his age. The early training of the late priest was begun by his uncle, one of Newfoundland's best known teachers of that period. At the age of 12 he entered St. Bonaventure's College, where among his classmates were the late Archbishop Howley, Revs. St. John and Born, and the present Reverend Pastor of Avondale Rev. F. Donnelly.

The body is to be brought to town by a special train due to arrive at 8 o'clock this evening, and will be placed in state in the Cathedral until Tuesday morning, when Requiem Mass will be sung for the repose of the soul of the beloved priest.

The Telegram hopes to publish a much more extended Memorial later, written by one who was well acquainted with the life work of the deceased ecclesiastic.

Dance at Smithville, Thursday, July 17th, at 9 p.m., in aid of Church Funds. Tickets, 50c., for sale at Smithville.—jy14,21

A GRUESOME BINDING.

There is a copy of Milton's poems in the public library at Exeter bound in part of the skin of George Oudmore, who, with Sarah Dunn, was committed to the Devon County goal on October 30, 1829, for murdering his wife, by poisoning her, was tried at the Lent Assizes in the following year, and executed on March 25, 1830.

C. of E. Educational Campaign.

PREPARATIONS WELL UNDER WAY FOR THE GREAT DRIVE.

Very satisfactory progress is being made in the preliminary work of organizing the Church of England Educational Campaign. As already announced, the week of the drive has been fixed at July 24th—August 1st.

The personnel of the organization will include no less than 520 workers, consisting of 260 men and 260 women. They will act under the direction of one general chairman, four divisional chairmen and twenty captains, and will compose ten teams each of men and women.

The Executive Committee of 25 members is meeting twice weekly, and its sub-committee every morning at 10.30. This afternoon the four divisional commanders, Messrs E. A. Bowring and W. R. Warren, and Misses J. A. Clift and H. A. Outerbridge will meet their team captains and issue their campaign instructions. The first work of the teams will be received on July 22nd.

Mr. Jos. Peters, Secretary, on behalf of the Board of Governors of the Methodist College, has written offering the full use of the College Hall for the week of the drive, asking only the actual cost in return. This kind action on the part of the Board is another proof of their sympathy and co-operation, and is much appreciated by the committee.

Drowning Accident.

The Department of Justice received the following message from Curling this morning:—"Roland Barrett, age 15 son of Editor Barrett of the Western Star accidentally drowned on the Humber River, Saturday evening. The body was discovered on Sunday morning."

Our Sympathy.

The Telegram offers sincere sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Barrett, of Curling, Bay of Islands, in the loss of their dear son Roland, who was drowned in the Humber River, Saturday last. No other particulars of this sad accident, other than thus furnished the Department of Justice are available, but the young life so suddenly cut off is an irreparable loss to the parents, whose grief only time will assuage and heal.

Summer's Warmest Day.

Yesterday was the warmest day for the summer, the thermometer registering 72 in the shade in the city. Along the railway the temperature was considerably higher, the glass at Bishop's Falls registering 90 in the shade and at Quarry 100.

Vessel Lost.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries received a message on Saturday evening from Forteau in the Straits of Belle Isle, that the schooner "Diver Jack" had gone ashore there and had become a total wreck. As no other particulars were received it is assumed that the crew landed safely.

Mount Cashel Mass.

As announced at all the masses yesterday, the annual Requiem Mass at Mount Cashel Cemetery will be celebrated by Rev. Dr. Kitchen, Ph. D., on next Sunday at 10 o'clock.

To Friends of C. L. B.

"Atlantic" Will Continue Flight.

The Telegram learns that it is the intention of Admiral Kerr, commander of the Handley-Page biplane which crashed at Parreboro, N.S., to have the machine continue the flight to New York and thence to Atlantic City. The crew of twelve mechanics that assembled the aeroplane at H. Grace, has proceeded to the scene of the crash where she will be re-built. Col. E. W. Stedman, engineer of construction, also goes there at the end of the week to superintend the work.

Europe Rests on a Volcano.

All Europe is a ferment of unrest. It was stated the other day that no less than 23 wars are going on in the world just now, most of them located on the European continent. To-day's newspapers tell of more trouble brewing. Disorder in Berlin is developing into a revolution. The radicals are demanding the dictatorship of the proletariat. Cyril Brown cables from Berlin that "the hour has struck for the Bolshevism to make its bid for power. Germany's real revolution is only beginning."

living in the mountains. From the Levant we learn that three Turkish armies whose generals refuse to take orders from Constantinople are threatening both Italians and Greeks in Asiatic Turkey. Mobs in Italy are raiding food supplies, and riots there are assuming a revolutionary character.

What does it all mean? It means that economic, financial, social and political conditions have gone from bad to worse until the people can endure them no longer. It means that in spite of the stable governments of the Entente countries the masses have lost faith in them and that no military power in Europe can stem the tide of discontent and revolution that is reaching its flood.—Buffalo Commercial.
