MARY MACSWEENEY'S RELEASE CAUSES SURPRISE.

DUBLIN, Nov. 28. The populace are surprised over the release of Mary MacSweeney by the Free State authorities in view of early statements so unequivocally against permitting prisoners on hunger strike to sway the government decision. The argument is offered that the precedent will stand only in cases where a brother of the prisoner has already died through hunger strike.

Violin Music

Charms Moose.

The tale of a strange friendship between a lonely trapper and a large bull moose through the common language of music has been brought back from the Stony river territory in northern Minnesota by Thomas Denley, chief forest ranger of that district.

Thirty-five miles from the nearest human habitation in the heart of the remote Clony river district lives Charley Lanie in a trapper's cabin, Denley relates.

Besides being one of the most successful trappers in the Minnesota wilderness, Lanie has ability with a violin bow and spends many of his evenings in the lonely woods playing old songs, favorites of years ago.

One of his most interested listeners is a large bull moose which comes to the river near the cabin and stands belly deep in the water while it hits its heavily antlered head toward the cabin and listens to the violin. When the concert is over he turns and disappears in the woods.

Lanie has had numerous opportunities to shoot the animal, but the kindred appreciation of music has stayed his hand.

Awkward.

The angry man rushed into the newspaper office. He had been reported as being present at a boxing-match.

"You referred to me as the well-known light-weight champion," he roared.

"Well—" said the editor.

"I'm not. That's my brother. I'm the coal merchant."

Met Married Parted in Three Weeks.

How's that for a whirlwind romance? They met, were married and separated within the period of three weeks. A foreign husband made his appearance before Recorder Semple of Montreal, Nov. 16. He wanted to know what he could do to recover the sheets and silverware that disappeared along with his bride. "Isn't that the girl I suspended a sentence against last week on a charge of vagrancy, when it was reported in court that she had married?" asked Recorder Semple. The husband admitted the facts. He said that she had come to work for him and that he thought she was too frail for hard labor, so he proposed to her. "We were married and I spent $900 furnishing an apartment for her. Last night when I came home she was gone and most of the apartment with her." Recorder Semple explained that nothing could be done in the court as long as they were legally married, so the husband strolled out dejectedly.

Mrs. MacSwiney Freed, Expected Nothing Else.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Mrs. Muriel MacSwiney, freed yesterday after her arrest for picketing the British Embassy, said to-day that she had expected nothing else. She added that after a short rest in Virginia she would continue her tour of the country in behalf of the Irish Republican movement. "This," she asserted, "will certainly win in the end."

Giving It Up.

In a remote country hamlet, the post office was also the local store.

One of the post office inspectors found fault with the way the postal business was being conducted. On leaving, he threatened with a lousy air: "You will hear from me when I return to headquarters in London."

The harassed postmaster disappeared for a moment, returning with a cigar box under his arm containing two books and a few shillingsworth of stamps. He held the box at arm's length towards the inspector.

"Here," he said, "take your bloomin' post office w' ye. I'm finished with it!"
