United States patents: John H. Mayer, Waterloo, Ont., let-off mechanism for looms; J. Harvey Vanderburgh, Oronc, Ont., cloth-measuring machine. Fell Under the Train. Ever since the washout of a couple of weeks ago a gravel train has been busy on the G. T. R., between this city and Komoka, replacing ballast. Yesterday it was in charge of Conductor Farrell, and about 6 o'clock in the evening a somewhat serious accident befell a brakeman on the train, named Robert A. Johnston, who lives at 205 Horton street. Johnston was standing on the top of a car when the engine was reversed. The sudden jar caused him to fall between the cars, where he was badly crushed by the wheels. His comrades picked him up and placed him in the van, which was hastily uncoupled from the train and hurried on to this city. The ambulance tock the man to his home on Horton street, but he was later on removed to the hospital. Dr. Gardiner was in attendance. At the hospital two fingers of the right hand were amputated and one on his left. He has a bad fracture at the right shoulder and the right arm is bruised. He also had several bruises about his head and face, and may possibly be injured internally. His left foot was likewise injured. The hospital surgeon would not hold out much hope for recovery last night. Mr. Johnston has been married several years but has no children. He has been unfortunate in the matter of accidents, and has been hurt once or twice before. Pond Mills Alert.

There was a crowded gathering of the electors of East Middlesex in the school room at Pond Mills, Westminster, on Tuesday evening. Mr. Elliot Grieve occupied the chair, and speeches were delivered on the political issues of the Ontario campaign by Mr. R. W. Jackson, Liberal candidate for the representation of East Middlesex; Ald. Parnell, Mr. Thos. Baty; and Mr. J. D. Clarke. The meeting was unanimously in favor of Mr. Jackson's candidature, no one coming forward to speak for Mr. Shore, the P. P. A. Patron candidate. A feature of the evening was the announcement that Mr. Shore had declared, in presence of Mr. Elliott Grieve, Mr. Gorwell (London township), and Mr. Tooley (late M. P. P.), that if elected, and in the event of the Opposition leader pro-posing a vote of want of confidence in Sir Oliver Mowat's Government when the House met, he would not vote at all. Mr. Tooley told him that he would have to vote, or be guilty of shirking. It was pointed out at this meeting that a member so acting, on the vital question of who should or should not control the Government of the Province, might aid in putting bad men in power and in turning out good men. And anyway, it was asked, would it not be humiliating to have a progressive community like East Middlesex practically unrepresented when the question of who should or should not rule the Province was decided? Thestalwartagriculturists saw the point, and vigorously applauded. Mr. Shore cannot be all things to all men in so wideawake a crustituency as East Middlesex. His friends will not be allowed, without exposure, to have one platform for Dreaney's Corners and another for Westminster. Mr. Jackson has no such double tactics, and so able, straightforward and popular is he that Conservative as well as Liberal electors are supporting him in this campaign. Mr. Wm. Murray delighted the audience with several tunes on the bagpipes, and the meeting closed with cheers for the candidate, Sir Oliver and the Queen. Wedding Bells.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Arbuthnott Stringer and Mr. David Crombie was the largest of the week and the first of several fashionable June weddings. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. Hugh Stringer, Elmwood avenue, and the groom is a resident of Saginaw, Mich., though his former home was at Komoka. The ceremony was celebrated this afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. James' Episcopal Church, the edifice being filled with guests and others. Miss Seaborn, organist, rendered the music. Six ushers, three bridesmaids, the little maid of honor and page preceded the bride into the church. The ushers were Messrs. A. Little, M. D. Baldwin, E. Reid, W. Pope, J. K. Flock, A. J. Stringer; master Lyell Stephens (cousin of the bride) acted as page; Miss Connie Stringer was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Marie Galbraith, Dresden; Miss Ella Wilson and Miss Ethel Holmes, city. The bride entered leaning on the arm of her father and carried a white ivory prayer book, gift of the groom. The groom and best man, Mr. Angus Abbey, of Niagara, met them at the chancel. The Rev. Canon Davis, rector of the church, officiated. The bride's gown was cream embossed silk, with veil (no flowers.) The bridesmaids wore pretty gowns of Swiss and Valenciennes lace and Gainsborough hats trimmed with Marguerites. A reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents and a wedding breakfast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Crombie left amid showers of rice and old shoes on the 4:30 train for a trip of two weeks to New York, Washington, etc. The presents showed the good will of many friends. The bride rean elderly lady. On their return to their future home in Saginaw they intend stop. $4 75. ping off at Chatham to a grand reception given by the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stephens, with whom she spent most of her time.
