Chicago, July 19.—This was another day for squeezing shorts in the oats pit. New July standard oats were excitedly bid up 7% c to 65c, the highest price since 1874. Aside from the large short line that is held by one of the leading professionals, the principal cause of the erratic gyrations displayed was that of ruined harvest fields by reason of the recent heavy rains. DROWNED AT DUNNVILLE. Buffalo, N. Y., July 21. — Samuel Evans, a well-known Buffalo business man, was drowned Saturday afternoon at Dunnville, Ont., while swimming in the river. Mr. Evans was one of a party of Buffalonians who went to Dunnville on a little fishing trip. Mr. Evans and a friend named Sunderman went for a swim. Almost immediately after striking the water they started to swim across the river. Mr. Sunderman was a few feet ahead of Evans, and had already reached the other side, when a man on the bank yelled to him, "Your partner is sinking." Sun-derman immediately turned and looked behind, but Evans was nowhere in sight. He had sunk suddenly and without giving any warning. Samuel Evans was 36 years old and was born in England.
