While some hunters were exploring the cover for pheasants along No. 4 road on Lulu Island, they stumbled upon the dead body of a Chinaman, badly decom-gosed. The body must have lain in the bushes for several months. No information could be obtained as to the Chinaman's death, and as the body had falten to pieces no examination could be made. It might have been murder, sufcide or disease. Only theories could be advanced. The sum of 80 cents was found on the body.

Thirteenth Masquerade

Sons and Daughters of St. George Make Merry In Fancy Dress.

A Brilliant Scene In A.O.U.W. Hall--The Prize Winners.

The thirteenth annual masquerade The thirteenth annual masquerade ball of the Sons and Daughters of St. George was held last evening at A. O. U. W. hall, which was respiendently decorated for the occasion. The annual masquerade ball of the Sons and Daughters of St. George is one of the features of each season, and this year it proved as attractive as in past years, for not only was the floor thronged with dancers, but the galleries were crowded with spectators, and great credit is due to the president, W. H. Price, and his fellow officers of the society for the success which resulted from their efforts when the ball was held last night.

The scene in the hall was a moving when the ball was held last night.

The scene in the hall was a moving kaleidescope of color, for masqueraders in vari-colored and many sonts of garbs were whirling to the music of the Bant-ly-Davis orchestra, and overhead the decorations were lavish. The galleries were lined with festoons of ivy and evergreens, and bunting was spread from end to end, with a liberal supply of vari-colored pennants daugling from the railings. The walls behind were half-hidden with flags and decorative designs. Strings of signal flags and pennants were strung from post to post, and beneath the galleries, and across the hall, each rafter was hidden with bunting and strings of flags. In the centre of the hall, beneath a red shade, were clusters of incandescent lights, and from this till hall, beneath a red snade, were clusters of incandescent lights, and from this shade, which formed a centrepiece, were many strings of Japanese lauterns running to the corners and sides of the hall. The decorations in themselves were brilliant, and the sight was a daz-

There were dashing cavaliers, and black-faced darkies, Topsies who grow-ed, noisy Chinamen, both coolies and long-gowned aristocrats, cowboys with arsenals at their belts and lariats in their hands, vaqueros with button-tri their hands, vaqueros with button-triment he form of preserving silence for med, bell-bottom trousers, of the cattle country, siwashes and klootchmen, with their grimy baskets of clams and other features of the natives. Alphonse and Gaston, the ultra polite Frenchmen drawn by Opper, were also there; sailors, tramps, men in khaki, and sailors and soldiers, jesters and Britannias, Columbias Queens of Night, queens of all sorts and kinds, flower girls, and other girls—many sorts of people were represented—bias Queens of Night, queens of all sorts and kinds, flower girls, and other girls—many sorts of people were represented—the tout ensemble giving a most picturesque and brilliant effect.

The floor was in good condition and the programme arranged being a good one, the dancers had an enjoyable time. The Grand March was held at 8:30 of clock, and while the programme was carried out, His Worship the Mayor, H. D. Helmcken, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. A VIENNA DEBATE.

Vienna, Nov. 13.—The sittings today of the Lower House of the Austrian Reichsrath was suspended on account of the German and Czech members coming to blows. The cause of the trouble was a debate on the advisability of the use of the two languages in the names of stations on the railroads.

Herr Schnal started the disorder by shouting: "You Germans are a lot ofpigs!" Thereupon a number of German deputies cast themselves upon Herr Schnal, shouting: "Smash him!" 'Kick him!" which they proceeded to do. Eventually Herr Schnal was thrown down the gangway to the bottom of the amphitheatre. The fighting continued for a quarter of an hour into the suspension of the sitting. Throughout the disorder the combatants were encouraged by hearty plaudits from the strangers' gallery.
