A Children's Aid Society. The lack of proper provision for the care of children falling into the hands of the olice, often through no fault of their own, s been pointed out in these columns, and this and other questions affecting neglected children has led up to a movement to or-ganize a Children's Aid Society combined with the Fresh Air fund. The subject will be thoroughly discussed by well known citizens at a public meeting called for this evening in the Y.M.C.A. lecture hall, and all interested are invited to be present.
