

WEEKLY MONITOR.

Representation of Dominion Prize to Miss Maude Saunders.

The presentation of the beautiful piano, valued at $200, given by the editors of the Montreal Witness for the best essay by the school children of the Dominion, took place in Whitman's Hall, Lawrencetown, on Thursday evening, Oct. 30th. The hall was filled to its utmost capacity by an audience of school children, and the presentation was a most interesting and successful one.

The pupils of the Advanced Department presented Mr. Ouhit with a volume of Byron's and Pope's works, and the pupils of the Primary Department presented Miss Parker with a book of the volume of Milton's works. The teachers who now leave us have made many warm friends during the year.

The thanks of the meeting is due J. W. Whitman, Esq., for the use of his hall.

MR. PRESIDENT, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.—The meeting convened in this room to-night is one of more than ordinary importance. The editor of the Montreal Witness, as you are aware, has offered a piano for the best essay written by any one of the five hundred thousand school children of Canada. This prize has been awarded to a member of our school, and we have met here this evening to witness the presentation and offer our congratulations.

Had any city in the Dominion been so fortunate to win this prize, the presentation would have been witnessed by the clergy, educationalists, city officials, and those interested in the welfare of our common country.

Talent has no special laws; we have therefore, this evening, the pleasure of tendering our congratulations to Miss Maude Saunders, the winner of the Dominion Prize—a beautiful piano—offered by John Douglas & Son.

As the trustees of this school, it is a source of unalloyed satisfaction that we have observed so many evidences of ability in connection with the children of our school. The church, the home, and the school, in their united influence, must ever serve as the guardians of our children and our common country.

In conclusion, we wish to congratulate the editors of the Montreal Witness in advancing the interests of common school education in Canada.

ALFRED DANIELS, N. H. PHINNEY, Trustees. JOHN HALL, Secretary.
