

The God of truth, and without iniquity.
Deut. xxxii. 4.

WORKERS' TRAINING CLASS EVERY THURSDAY,

AT EIGHT P.M.

All young men who desire to be better fitted for Christian work are invited to attend this meeting.

A WARNING TO YOUNG MEN.

 Nearly all the larger towns and cities young men form themselves into clubs of various kinds to enable them to pass away the hours of the long winter evenings socially and pleasantly. They are, many of them, among strangers, far away from the home circle, and the pleasant associations which gather around the hearthstone of their childhood, and they find it difficult to get into society. Their time, after the business hours of the day are past, drags heavily, and they are ready to take up with almost anything that offers itself in the shape of amusement or recreation. A club of jolly good fellows has many attractions under these circumstances. Whilst we would not do anything to curtail the real enjoyments of the young, especially under such circumstances as we have detailed above, we would warn them against those which are injurious to either soul or body.

An old merchant related in our hearing, a few evenings since, his own experience and observation in regard to this matter. When he left home to go into business in the city, he felt lonely in the evenings, and longed for companionship. He was diffident, and had no influential friends to take him by the hand and introduce him into society. A friend invited him to join a social club. They spent their time in song and jest, eating and drinking, and general jollity. He kept a list of all who belonged to the club during his connection with it, and has traced their histories since. Of forty-nine, but three now remain enjoying a green old age. Most of the others went to early graves, the victims of intemperance. Very few of them were ever successful in business, though some of them were young men of fine business capacity. Our venerable friend thinks the seeds of their ruin were sown in the club-room. He said, with great emphasis, "Had I an iron voice, which I could ring through our whole country, I would say to every young man, Beware of the club-room, and especially the room of a drinking-club. Many a young man is ruined there before he is aware of his danger."—Presbyterian Herald.

SINCE the inception of Y. M. C. A. work in colleges, eight years ago, ten thousand students have been converted.

SAINTS are not an eminent sort of Christians; but all Christians are saints, and he who is not a saint is not a Christian.—Maclaren.

THERE is as much need to watch over grace as to watch over sin; full men will soon sleep, and sooner than hungry men.—S. Rutherford.

EVOLUTION stands by to note calmly the survival of the fittest in the struggle for existence. Christianity goes to work to make something more fit to survive.—Charles S. Stockton, D.D.
