

inspired Ministers to speak to the media - though at times from varying perspectives. Efforts to spin a common line were nevertheless deployed from the centre. The Interdepartmental Task Force's communication appointee (from DND) gave departments a common line, as much as was possible in view of the quick pace of events.