

VII TOURISM

Both parties will favour the development of tourist relations between the two countries and render every possible assistance to tourists in their tours for familiarization with the way of life, professional and cultural interests of the peoples of both countries.

The exchange of information and visits mentioned in this Programme do not exclude other exchanges which can be organized independently by organizations, groups and individuals.

This programme comes into force on the day of signing, and will remain effective until December 31, 1973.
