

tendants, and be responsible for every article delivered to them, until returned in a condition suitable for immediate use.

2. They shall be under the superintendence of the Matron; and shall not leave the Asylum without her permission.

3. They shall be responsible for such patients as may be sent to assist them, and when their work is finished see that such patients return to their respective corridors.

CHAPTER XIII.

THE LODGE-KEEPER.

He shall be expected to prevent the exit of patients without an order from the Superintendent and shall part with the keys to none but officers of the establishment. He shall not permit any inmate of the establishment, except the officers, to enter the lodge-house. He shall keep the road immediately without and within the gates always in good order.

CHAPTER XIV.

THE FARMER AND GARDENER

Shall be subject to the direction of the Superintendent.

CHAPTER XV.

THE ENGINEER AND FIREMAN

Shall be governed by such instructions as shall be conveyed to him from the Superintendent.