

to call for union among the Friends of the Constitution: it is time that private opinion should yield to public safety: it is time that we keep both "watch and ward:" for if the liberties of our fellow-subjects in America are to be taken from them, it is for the idiot only to suppose that we can preserve our own. The dagger uplifted against the breast of America, is meant for the heart of Old England. Non agitur de vectigalibus, Libertas in dubio est *.

In fine, these are my Sentiments, and these my Principles. They are the Principles of the Constitution; and under this persuasion whilst I have signed them with my Name, I will, if necessary, as readily, seal them with my Blood.
