

ENGLISH INVESTOR WILL LOOK INTO CANADIAN REAL ESTATE

"Investigate Before Purchasing is the Spirit Which Prevails in Old Country," Says F. B. Robins, Who Has Just Returned From Six Months' Stay Abroad.

"There is a much different feeling towards Canadian real estate investments ruling in England than two or three years ago," said F. B. Robins, of Robins, Limited, who has just returned from a six months' trip to Europe. "British investors have taken on a critical air regarding almost all forms of Canadian realty investments, and you will find that the time has passed when an agent can go to England and sell properties without trouble from a blue print for the British investor will from now on, when a large amount of money is involved, come over to Canada and look into the proposition. This vice could not be started to some of the suburbs."

Plenty of Work.

"Returning to Toronto after a long absence it is impossible to resist the impression that the future of the city is great, and with the vast development works under way and to be undertaken in Toronto during the next five years, there should be no lack of employment for men of all classes, contrary to the prevailing impression in England, where statistics of immigration this year show a falling off, and where it is no doubt that reports of unemployment which have reached England from Canada are having their influence. We must attract men from Great Britain, and during my stay

"I met in London number of people interested in Toronto properties, and we have formed a building company, registered in England, which will erect dwellings in Toronto. Already land for the purpose has been secured, and work is about to start on at once, has been purchased. It is the intention of the company to build a series of small, comfortable, and pleasant homes, for which there is a great demand."

"A number of gentlemen are also considering the transportation problem of the West, and are planning to build a line of accommodation to cheap land. Personally I do not see why an omnibus service is not quite a number of young men could make their way and eager to come here."

"There is a great deal of criticism in England over the large number of Canadian soldiers who have been sent on the market recently. The market has become critical, and the English government has been asked to inquire whether these loans are really required. Of course, if more of our men are sent to Canada, and saw the spirit of individualism which prevails, especially in Toronto, they would not hesitate to advance the request to the government of this country," said Mr. Robins in conclusion.

TEACHERS PROTEST AGAINST AGE RULE BIG BROTHERS DO GOOD WORK

Education Board is Asked to Reconsider Superannuation Plan.

SHOULD BE OPTIONAL EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

Joint resolutions were then adopted by the Toronto Women Teachers' Association and Toronto Principals' Association and sent to the Toronto Board of Education, as follows:

"On behalf of the principals and women teachers (including the kindergarten) of the Toronto public schools, we respectfully and earnestly petition you to reconsider your decision regarding the removal of teachers from the present salary schedule and superannuation scheme, for the following reasons:—

"(1) We consider it inadvisable to dispense with the services of capable and experienced teachers. More especially is this the case in view of the fact that the majority of the teachers are women.

"(2) The removal of those teachers who are still efficient is to the interest neither of these teachers themselves nor of the community. The loss of the Toronto teaching staff, who

The need of a detention home, in connection with the work of the juvenile court, was voiced by Commissioner Boyd at the banquet of the Big Brother Movement, which was held last evening at the Central Y.M.C.A. Boys who had been in the institution long enough to warrant their being sent to the industrial school could be sent to the detention home and placed after a short stay in the institution, to much better advantage than in the case under present circumstances. An employment bureau under civic auspices should be established by the commissioner. There were enough people among the 200 who were in attendance to warrant the start of such a bureau and to warrant the appointment of Controller McCarthy also spoke of the need of an employment bureau, and stated that one of his duties would be to practically assure that municipal employment would be forthcoming. There was an unanimous unanimity for the operation of such an employment bureau to meet the needs, not only of boys, but also of sons are supporting the superannuation scheme. It is especially so if against the interest of the boys in their schools, who will thus lose the advantage of the influence, judgment and experience of their teachers.

"The feasibility of a last, and improved until it is tested, and its strength or weakness demonstrated. The question of this kind of consideration, or the reasons above enumerated, the clauses dealing with the age of retirement of teachers are not in the least affected by the question of this in this our first opportunity we enter protest.

"We would therefore recommend that the superannuation scheme be amended so that the retirement of teachers may be optional in cases where efficient service is still being given."

IN THE SUNDAY WORLD

The illustrated Section of next Sunday's World will be extremely attractive to every reader. It is one of the finest picture sections The Sunday-World has produced in several weeks. Society at the Horse Show is the predominating feature, and many of Toronto's best known people are shown in striking poses. And what will have more than the usual tag of attraction is the series of children of Toronto's upper hundreds. Some of the pretty youngsters are riding horses.

All the school boys and girls in the city are on the lookout for the weekly picture. This Sunday's was taken at Grace Street School, and it's a dandy. Other local photos are: The Members' Banquet at Central Y.M.C.A., the Canadian Unionist League's At Home, 18th Troop of Boy Scouts, and city news events. Hamilton is represented with a couple of fine groups.

The foreign photos come from every place where big things are going on, and include some striking pictures from Mexico, from Colorado, and from Paris during royalty's visit.

THE FEATURE SECTION

The 1914 Tango Bathing Suit is "played up" in an eight-color page with a lively article on a subject that the warm weather brings very near to us. "Toronto In the Good Old Days" is the title of a mighty interesting interview with a man who recalls the country town life of Toronto in the fifties. "We Will Now Study Babies" is an article that treats of an educational feature very much to the fore just now.

THE WOMAN'S PAGES
 "Why She Smokes, and Why She Shouldn't" presents both sides of a question that has agitated the minds of Toronto women since the "revelations" in Ottawa and Montreal. Graduation gowns are illustrated in a dainty page in color.

The household page features "Gas Economy and the Gas Range." "Rose Culture" is the theme of the week's gardening article. The magazine pages touch on many topics close to the heart of women.
