Comparing the past with the present, Mrs. Small recalled the great pyramids of Egypt, the amphitheatre pyramids of Egypt, the amphtheatre and the coliseum and statuary of Greece and Rome, the cathedrais and educational institutions of Europe which had been handed down to posterity thru the love of the older peoples for art. The modern world, she said, is so taken up with science, and particularly the science of war, that things are changed and the hoardings of centuries are being destroyed by the ruthless world of to-

BATTLE FOR LIBERTY

Britain's Quarrel is Just and Canadians Will Not Shirk Duty.

Canadian Press Despatch. QUEBEC, Sept. 29 .- The following is in part the farewell message issued the Canadian contingent: "WHERE DUTY LEADS.

"Fellow Soldiers:
"Six weeks ago, when the call came to arms, inspired by that love of freedom from tyranny dominant in the British race; actuated by the knowledge that, under British constitutional edge that, under British constitutional responsible government, you enjoyed the utmost of human liberty, you loyally and promptly responded in overwhelming numbers to that call.

"Twenty-two thousand men were accepted by the motherland, Today upwards of thirty-three thousand are en route to do duty on the historic fields of France, Belgium and Germany for the preservation of the British Empire and the rights and liberties of humanity.

War of Defence.

"Lust of power; the subjugation of inoffensive and law-abiding neighbors; autocratic aggrandizement, have caused this war. In its cause the allies are guiltless.

"Beigium and Holland have long excited Prussian ambition for ownership. Austria has desired extension towards the Euxine and Aegean Seasinsane fust of conquest bringing ruin, rapine and misery in its train.

"It has been long predicted that when the Kiel Canal would be completed, Germany would begin the long dreaded war. The Kiel Canal was completed early in July. War was begun before the end of that month. Germany was found absolutely ready and waiting. Great Britain, Beigium and France were unprepared. Three weeks elapsed before the regular armies of the latter countries could take the field.

Trained in Six Weeks.

Trained in Six Weeks.

"Soldiers! The world regards you as a marvel. Within six weeks you were at your homes, poaceful Canadian citizens. Since then your training camp has been secured; three and a half miles of rifle ranges—twice as long as any other in the world—were constructed; fences were removed; water of the purest quality was laid in miles of pipes; drainage was perfected; electric light was installed; crops were harvested; roads and bridges were built; ordnance and army service corps buildings were erected; rallway sidings were laid down; woods were cleared; sanitation was perfected, so that illness was practically unknown, and thirty-three thousand men were assembled from points, some of them upwards of 4000 miles apart. You have been perfected in rifle shooting, and today are as fine a body—officers and men—as ever faced a foe. The same spirit as accomplished that great work is what you will display on the war fields of Europe. display on the war fields of Europe. Black Rats" of Antwerp Make Nightly Raids -Danger of Starvation.

LONDON, Sept. 29, 9.05 p.m.-The scarcity of food in Brussels has raised a grave problem, according to R. C. Hawkin, who has just returned from Belgium, where he completed arrangements for the transferring of a number of wounded Belgian soldiers to Ergland.

"The situation in Brussels is one of "The situation in Brussels is one of great uncertainty," said Mr. Hawkin tonight. "There is the gravest danger of starvation. Food is scarce and 180,000 people are applying for rations, which the German administration is finding it difficult to supply. There is the further danger that the workingmen of the city may rise in revolt."

Mr. Hawkin was greatly impressed by the spirit of the Belgian troops at Antwerp. Regarding conditions there he said:

"Every pight a sortie is made and every morning brings its quota of dead and wounded, sometimes as many as 1000, making a heavy drain on the garrison; but the usefulness of these expeditions cannot be exaggerated. The German outposts are reported as almost terrorized, not a night passing without some of their supply trains being blown up. All these incidents tend to upset the carefully planned arrange-power of liberty. And amid it all you will not forget that you war not on the innocent and lovely people of Germany. Your aim is the overthrow of tyranny and aggrandizement.

"Every man among you is a free will volunteer. No one has been invited. No more typical army of free men ever marched to meet an enemy.

"That you will bear yourselves, individually and collectively wherever duty may call you, as to win the re-duty may call you, as to win the re-spect of the fue in the field, the admiration and regard of the good citizens of all lands in which your lot may be cast, and the love and re-gard of those near and dear at home, is the conviction of all Canadians. ## Don't Talk About War! Talk About Business!

BY T. M. HUMBLE

Don't Talk About War! Talk About Business!

Canadians are intensely interested and excited over the war situation. It is a to rible calamity. One which cannot be contemplated calmly, but—Business Must Go Onl While Europe is in the throes of this titanic crisis, and while her wheels of industry rust with death and devastation, it is time for Canada to march grandly onward in comm supremacy.

We owe it to ourselves and to the world to arise to the occasion and demonstrate the our ability and our dignity, and the integrity of our institutions and purposes cannot shaken though all Europe be disrupted upon the altar of Mars.

There is but one way for Canada to de this, and that is to attend strictly to busin We are giving of our flesh and blood, bone and muscle. Our fairest sons are going forth to do battle for the empire of which we are a part, but we can do more. Our duty does not lie alone in sending contingents to fight the empire's battles. There are mouths to be fed, thousands of men, women and children to be provided for, debts and obligations to our fellow men to be paid and discharged. We can help humanity by the fruits and the example of our steadfast industry. This applies to every line of legitimate work and righteous endeavor. It applies especially to all forms of publicity. For it is the steady and persistent faith in publicity which will aid wonderfully in keeping the sinews of business active. Let us forget Europe and her turmoil. Let us talk business, and talk it loud. Talk it through the sinews of business active. the press and by word of mouth, by all other honest and legitimate means—but talk it the time. Let us go out after the elusive dollar in blissful ignorance of the details of death and destruction raging rampant in demoralized Europe.

Canadians must attend strictly to business—must do their duty to themselves and the world, their homes and families. Talk Business!

The Toronto Service The great public funeral service semed to be strangely free of the fermality and stiffness that often pre-vail on such occasions. It was more like a private service; more like a vast gathering of friends at a simple service. Sincerity flowed over and subnierged the usual ritual and formality. People there who had never spoken to or had never been spoken to by Sir James Whitney felt that their dear friend had gone away from earth.

And yet because he had run a good rece, because he had performed a dif-ficult task honorably, the people did rot mourn as for one who was lost but for one who after completing his great task had been called away to his reward. The early sun shone quiet-ly thru the tall stained windows and upon the bared heads of hundreds.
And mingled with the solemnity and sincerity of the service there seemed to be a spirit of subdued triumph.
