

It seems to me that the Communist Party were not willing to abide by the will of the majority which they should have been, under democratic rule in a democratic country.

(FF follows)