The Porty Hours

The Forty Hours devotion was begun at Bt. Isaai s Church on Yunday His Grace, the Archibishop of Toronto, delivered an address on the devotion He speke at length upon the unspeak able blessing of the Hoty Lucharist. During His life our Lord had bestowed his blessing upon those who asked. He raised the Son of the widow of Nalm. Were there measure listening to hum whose, sons are spiritually Naim Were there me.....rs listening to him whose sons are spiritually dead? I tet them ask at this beautiful time of devotion to have those sons restored to spiritual life. Our Lord raised Lazarus from the dead. Were there asters listening to his voice whose brothers are spiritually dead? Lot then pointon during the time of the Forty Hours to have brothers restored to life. Let them come to Him, for the has asked "Give me your hearts." His Grace hoped the devotion would be fruntful of great blessing in the parish.

Father Ryan on Charity.

Father Ryan on Charity.

A large gathering assembled in St. Michael's Cathedral, on Sunday evening, when Rev. Father Ryan gave an able discourse on "Charity." for the henefit of the St. Nicholes Home for Roys. "The Charity of Christ Urgeth Us," was his text. He showed that Christ opened a new reign of charity, which was unknown to the pagans. This change was held to and practised by the early Christians. The roy gentleman maintained that, even 10 ur age of religious indifference and almost pagan materialism, Christ's idea of charity prevailed in the Catholic Church, giving methods and motives to produce the same heroic fortitude and self-sacrifice which had obsaratorized it in all ages of faith This, he said, was the vital principle in the foundation of all the institutions of the Oatholic Church. This animating principle of self-sacrifices which had obsaratorized it in all ages of faith This, he said, was the vital principle in the foundation of all the institutions of the Oatholic Church. This animating principle of self-sacrifices which had obsaratorized it in all ages of faith considerations beneficence in caring for the poor and indigent. Musical vespers were conducted by Rev. Dr. Trescy. After the sermon, Mr. F. Telgmann gave a violin solo from Wiegand, and sacred solos were sung by Mr. F. A. Anglin, Mr. Mercier and Miss Elliott. "Tantum Ergo" was rendered by a male quartette.

MRS. DRLIA CORLEY

MRS. DELIA CORLEY.
We regret to announce the death, on Thursday, Feb. 20, of Mrs. Delia Corley, beloved wife of John Corley, at the residence of her late mother, Ellen Maguire, 220 Sherbourne st., of pneumonia.
Mrs. Corley leaves four small children;
and what increases the sadness of her death is that the family were mourning the death of their mother, who died only one mouth previous.
