^a WHEAT.—The jurors feel at a loss to express their satisfaction at the general excellence and quality of the samples exhibited in this most essential of our agricultural produce. The difficulty of deciding between many of the samples was great, and it was after a very close and minute inspection that J.ury decided on their awards, five samples weighing 67 lbs. each per bushel.

For the satisfaction and gratification of the Province the J.ury note the weights of some of the different samples of Wheat, carefully measured and weighed, and which they have no hesitation in saying cannot be surpassed for excellence in any part of the world:—
