FUND FOR POOR WIDOWS Household Economic Ass'n Working for Betterment of Working Girls.

TORONTO.

"I' is now time to introduce a fund for the benefit of the poor widows,' declared Mrs. Helen Sterling Parker, at a meeting of the Women's Household Economic Association, held yesterday afternoon in the Canadian In-stitute. "Many of these poor women have not time enough to see that their children have proper attendance, and when they grow older the result is that they are wild, and in many cases help to swell the ranks of the criminals."

To substantiate the statement speaker said that one day in the children's court would prove the truth of her assertion. It was a well-known fact in New York that three-quarters of the juvenile criminals there were

GEARY DEFENDS POOR SERVICE GIVEN BY T.S.R.

The Company-"Leave it to the Municipal Board" Quoth He.

There can be no doubt that vigorous campaigning of the two more prominent mayoralty candidate has stimulated an interest in the approaching elections that has not been known in Toronto for a long time. The numerous meetings held in the interest of both Mr. Hocken and Mr. Geary are becoming more and more crowded, and the patience with which the audienness sit thru tedious prefiminary speeches to await the arrival of the star actors from other gatherings that they have favored earlier in the night is little short of martyrdom.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—"The present have come to stay; the rural population is playing out; the present census, if it classes the unincorporated villages as towns, will show between 60 and 65 per cent. of the population living in towns, declared Representative Champ Clark of Missouri, the minority leader in the house, to-day.

Mr. Geary was very late in appearing at his ward two meeting in Prospect Hall last night, and the evening wore on monotonously; but when he finally made his entrance in the midst of a tiresome monolog by Lawyer McWhinney, the hoorays shook the building. Mr. McWhinney's voice was smothered and he dropped resignedly into a sent forgotten.

Mr. Geary launched right into the street railway situation, assuring his audience that he was alive to the inferiority of its service and could and would see to it that the citizens grievance should be redressed. It wasn't that the street railway company couldn't give a decent service in rush hours; but they did not want to hold a big staff of special men all the year a big staff of special men all the year round to alleviate the overcrowding. They could handle the crowds during exhibition time, and they could be made to do so always as they were supposed to do by the agreement with the city. And it didn't require a "club" like the tubes to force their hand

Trusts to Ontario Board. The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board would see to that, he said, using The Star argument, as soon as the result of the appeal now before the privo council was made known. The board had ordered 100 cars built and 15 miles of track laid, and this would have to be carried out, whether the company has its say regarding what streets the tracks shall be laid upon or not. There was no question about the jurisdiction of the railway board to order the com pany to time, the same as it had step-ped in and forced the cities of Waterloo and Berlin to time.

He still was in favor of the tube plebiscite and hoped that all his friends would vote for it, but he obfact in New York that three-waters of the children of poor wildow later than the water of the children of poor wildow later than the water of the children of poor wildow later than the water of the children of poor wildow later than the water of the children of poor wildow later than the water of the children of poor wildow later than the water of the children of poor wildow later than the water of the children of poor wildow later than the water of the children of poor wildow later than the water of the children of poor wildow later than the water of the children of poor wildow later than the water of the children of poor wildow later than the water than th

Hocken's Past Promises.

He ventured another criticism of Controller Hocken's methods of campaigning, in the fact that he had always been sensational in his promises. Three years ago Mr. Hocken had promised workingmen's houses. How had he followed it up? It was only a gangplank with which to board the ship of office, and then to kick back into the water with his heel.

water with his heel.

The papers that had been posing him, declared the speaker, had found nothing on the municipal records against him, and, thanks to their effects the sycan had turned in his for forts, the sweep had turned in his fa-vor in the last few days.

Touching the viaduct, Mr. Geary said he brought it before the council fifteen months before Mr. Hocken came into public life, and the latter had simply arrived on the scene when the issue was hanging a luscious cluster ready for plucking, and he promptly attached himself to it and claimed it for his own. W. K. George, ex-president of the Exhibition Association, extelled Mr. &Geary's qualities as a civic legislator in warm terms. He advised all to vote for the exhibition extension, as it was the city's best holding. In answer to a question, he said there was no truth in Ald. Foster's statement that Mana-ger Orr was selling exhibition tickets to certain of his friends cheaper than

THE DIVES DISPOSED OF Candidate Geary Deals With Hocken's Opposition to Dives.

It was a well attended meeting of the electors of ward one in Oddfellows' Hall, Broadview-avenue, last night that heard Controller Geary tell his reasons why he should be elected mayor of the City of Toronto. These were based on his record as a muadvocated keeping civic expenditure, within bounds, he declared. "Every-day, ordinary, practical work," he said, "is what should claim your support." Speaking of the tubes, he considered that there should be a more detailed report in connection with the scheme, and altho he was ready to support the referendum, he denounced it as being a slogan to carry Controller Hocken into the mayor's chair. As for himself. he denied that he was in sympathy with the street railway and declared ceived a cent from that company for any services rendered in the last four or five years. "I am ready at any time," he said, "to do anything that will tend towards the amelioration of the congestion of traffic on Toronto's streets.

Dr. McLaughlin:

Dear Sir.—"A short time ago I purchased one of your Belts. I am very pleased to say that I have received great benefit from it in every way. My varicocele is almost gone, and my back is much better. Befere using your Belt my nerves were in pretty bad shape—so bad that it interfered with my work. Any, men can easily know what this means to me, as my health is greatly improved also, and I feel better than I have for the last five years, and only wish I had had one of your Belts before. I have spent a considerable sum of money one way or another for different drugs, and, to tell the truth, I never thought there was a cure in the world for varicocele except an oneration, as that is what a doctor told me in a London, England, hospital. I thank you for your kindness and all you have done for me. You are at liberty to make any use of this you like in any of the papers, as I know it is all true, as I have proved it for myself.
