Two Transports Asked to Carry Off More Bolshevists to Russia.

Washington, Jan. 7 .- Complete codination of all governmental agencies, together with an awakened congress, tonight had given the campaign to rid the nation of radicals a broader aspect. While Assistant Attorney-General Garvan's force continued its raid, including a search for Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, self-styled envoy of the Russian soviet government, there were evidences of new activity and more determined co-operation in all other departments of the government.

Congress received a bill intoduced by Representative Johnson, Republi-can, of Washington, which would make every government employe an agent for ferreting out undesirables.

that these are considered separately from the public service facilities em-braced in the third division because the former are "under local control, created by local authorities and subject to local regulation."

The Fundamental Interest.

The "fundamental interest" in these industries, the Plumb plan declares, is the need of society for the products of that industry or the service which it renders, that calls the industry into being. In the first two classes where society has made no grant the free working of the law of supply and demand protects the public interest."

"Public interest" is defined in the plan as follows: "It is the right of the public to obtain better, cheaper for more products or service as the or more products or service as the During the day the department of justice announces that a warrant had beer ordered for the arrest and deso to exercise its power of regulation as to deprive the owner of the property of his investment, actually, honestly and prudently made, or of a fair return on such investment, if society pays more than it lawfully is required to pay and the owner re-ceives more than he is lawfully entitled to receive."

"This." says the Plumb plan, "intro-duces perpetual conflict between so-ciety in the exercise of this public regulation and the agent it has created for its service and results in supply-ing luxuries and procuring greater revenues for those who benefit in these exactions."

Under the heading, "Rights of Labor," the plan declares that the measure of what a workman shall receive "depends entirely upon the amount in value of service which he renders. He is entitled to receive an equivalent amount in value of the services of the others. The wage services of the others. The wage system disregards this human right."
In its conclusion the plan declares: "The existing industrial system is crashing about our ears," that wages bear no relation to the value of services rendered, and that "profits are wrongfully exacted."
