SUPERIOR PAINLESS DENTISTRY!

"There is a world wide cry against the dentists that they torture their patients. Those of strong physique submit and endure the agony. With a second class this is simply impossible, and thousands of teeth are neglected and lost even though the patients may be able to pay for our most skillful services. Then there is a third class who, after months of mental torture in anticipation, finally come into our hands, and, with nerves strung to a hurtful point, pass through the ordeal, but at what a cost! We do not unduly suffer for months and even years from injuries to the nervous system received whilst in our hands.

The greatest duty of our profession today is to discover and adopt a mode of painlessly performing our operations."

NOTE—The above is an abstract from a paper read by an eminent dentist of New York City before a society of dentists in Philadelphia. The famous Hale Method of painless dentistry, for which we are sole agents for Canada is the best Method on earth.

FUND TO GET MOONEY BACK TO MOTHER IN ENGLAND

Case of Sick and Stranded Englishman and Devoted Chum Takes More Hopeful Aspect

The luck of the two unfortunate Englishmen, of whom mention has before been made, has taken a turn for the better. The knowledge of their hardships has gone beyond Robinson's Lake, and efforts are being made to better their condition by people interested.

The two men, whose names are Mooney and Wilks, settled in a tumble-down camp off Pokok road about six months ago, and beyond a week spent in the woods near Robinson's Lake, and the former man has been suffering from an incurable disease, and his companion, Wilks, has sacrificed money, time and ambition to give his sick friend a slight amount of the care and nourishment which he so badly needed. People in the north end are familiar with the facts of the case, how Wilks, day after day, left their rustic habitations and coming into town, secured a certain amount of the necessities of life, returning at nightfall to his consumptive friend, patiently waiting for his arrival on a bed made of spruce boughs in their woodland dwelling, and also how the devoted chum in his diurnal journeying became near to the use of his feet, which became badly swollen from the constant tramping back and forth through woods and snow roads, until at last he was compelled to seek recuperation in the Municipal Home, along with his more sickly companion.

One of the strangest features of the case, however, is that the two Englishmen had never met before coming to St. John, but on becoming acquainted here, two strangers in a strange land, the ties of the mother country bound them together and they have since been inseparable.

As winter approached, it was apparent to those interested, that something would have to be done for the two unfortunates, so a subscription has been started to secure the price of a passage for the sick man, Mooney, to his native place in North Shields, England. A number of citizens have placed their names on a list for amounts varying from twenty-five cents to $5, so that more than $30 has been collected and when a few more have been added, the sick man will be ferried to his isolated shack and set sail for his native land, where a devoted mother awaits him to give him proper care and treatment. Wilks will remain here in the hope of securing work on some of the steamers during the winter.

ACTION AGAINST LIQUOR DEALERS HERE THREATENED

Constable Belyea of Chipman to Make Move—Seizes Case of Scotch Whisky—$50. Fine

Chipman, Sept. 21.—Police Constable Abner Belyea has seized a case of Scotch whisky at the New Brunswick Coal and Railway Co. station here. The case was marked "W. A. Chipman." Constable Belyea intends existing action against several St. John liquor merchants for sending intoxicating liquor to a Scott Act county for illegal purposes.

Hon. L. P. Farns, police commissioner on the National Transcontinental Railway, was in Chipman on Saturday, and heard a case against Constable Belyea with violating the liquor law. Humphrey was convicted and paid a fine of $50 and costs.

THE DIFFICULTIES OF SCHUMANN-HEINK WHO WILL SING HERE

Those who will see the wonderful queen of contraltos on the Opera House stage this evening of October 4 will with difficulty be able to realize the struggle which was here before reaching that commanding position which she now occupies. Thousands of women have read in last month's Delinquent interesting experiences in the life of Schumann-Heink written by herself, of which the following is but a short extract: "I have lived and struggled as hardly another woman ever has, but as I could not have ever sunshine, to keep heart and soul warm and sweet—my children, the thought of them, of their eyes, kept ever temptation from me, set it at naught, even at times of the bitterest poverty, when I had to sell my bed so as to be able to purchase bread and milk for my little ones, when at night I had to slumber on a chair, wrapped in an old cloak. But in the morning there would be happy faces, when the children found their bread and milk, and their innocent chatter would dispel the clouds of despair. Then I would send up a fervent prayer, and you may call it a miracle if you will—succor would be near at hand. Either I would be asked to sing a few songs at a dinner party or a society girl would seek my aid in learning a new song." Space does not permit further reference to the story but it is as interesting as any novel, with the added virtue of being true, and depicting the experiences of one of the greatest women of this age.

SENTENCE FOR McDUGALL NOT LIKELY THIS TERM

It has not been definitely decided when C. B. McDougall will be sentenced. One of the papers at the conclusion of his case quoted Justice White as saying that he would sentence the prisoner this term, but it is understood that this will not be done. His Honor said, however, that when he did impose sentence on the prisoner he would consider the time he has already been in jail.

On account of a case having been reserved, it was thought that an appeal would be entered at Fredericton, but pending further advice from the defence it is understood that nothing will be done at this sitting of the court, unless it is decided by the counsel for defence that they would like to have the prisoner sentenced this term.

The general opinion is that he will not be sentenced before the next sitting, and it is thought that Mr. Ritchie left with that understanding.
