

The Largest Afternoon Circulation East of Montreal

Average Daily Circulation, 1906, ... 7,412

THE EVENING TIMES

8 Pages

VOL. III, NO. 235

ST. JOHN, N. B., MONDAY, JULY 8, 1907.

ONE CENT

FELL FROM A BALLOON INTO HER HONEYMOON

Maggie Dailey, an Aeronaut, Fell From a Balloon, Narrowly Escaped Drowning, and Was Married, All in the Same Day.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., July 7.—C. Arthur Brockett, a young fireman on the Erie Railroad, watched Maggie Dailey, whom he was about to marry, sail 5,000 feet into the air in a balloon, drop into the middle of the river and rescued just as death seemed certain. Brockett rushed to the shore of the river, seized the drenched girl in his arms and cried: "You must never go into a balloon again."

"I have not promised to obey yet," laughed back the girl, who was beginning to recover from her thrilling experience. "Well, promise now," Brockett said. "Let's get married right now."

The girl's answer was not heard by her friends, but in her dripping clothing she allowed herself to be led up to Alderman Burton L. Lamont and was quickly made Mrs. Brockett.

"Now promise that you never will go in one of those awful balloons again," said Brockett the moment the knot was tied. "The Alderman did not ask me to say that I would obey," replied the bride, shaking her clothes, "but I promise just the same. I am through with balloons for life."

The experience formed the climax of the sensational career of Miss Dailey during the last year, and it was witnessed by 10,000 men and women gathered in Midway Park. It was just thirteen months ago that Miss Dailey made her first ascension in a balloon. A professional aeronaut was about to go up, when one of Miss Dailey's friends dared her to take his place. She pleaded and was allowed to make the ascent and parachute drop. She found the experience so pleasing that during the last year she has made many ascensions, in several of which she or others have come close to death.

Her engagement to young Brockett, who lives in Fort Jervis, was known to many of her friends here, and when the celebration was planned her friends urged her to make one more ascension before "marrying and settling down."

She agreed, and Brockett came here to witness the event. The conditions were most favorable, and the balloon ascended so much more rapidly than usual that Miss Dailey was invisible to the spectators when she seized the parachute and cut loose.

There was a strong wind blowing, and when the spectators saw that the parachute was being carried far from the park grounds, several started after it in carriages. The parachute, falling rapidly, was carried right into the middle of the Walkill River, and Miss Dailey became so entangled in the cordage that she was unable to swim.

Her death seemed certain when she was rescued by Thomas Regan, of this city, who happened to be on the river in a rowboat. He pulled with all his might to where Miss Dailey was struggling to free herself from the cords of the parachute, and held her above water by her hair while he cut away the cord.

By the time he had rowed her ashore Brockett was there in a carriage which had set out to follow the drifting parachute. He kissed the girl repeatedly and carried her in his arms as the carriage was driven rapidly back to the park. By the time the journey was over he had won Miss Dailey's consent to an immediate marriage.

JACK POWER KNOCKED OUT AT McADAM JUNCTION. A WOULD-BE MURDERER

A Man, Thought to be an Assyrian, Fired Two Shots at His Wife, When the St. John Boxer Intervened and Put Him to Sleep.

John T. Power, the local pugilist, was the man who was thought to be an Assyrian, and who was fired at by a man who was thought to be a murderer. The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power.

The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power. The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power.

The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power. The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power.

The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power. The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power.

The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power. The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power.

The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power. The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power.

The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power. The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power.

The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power. The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power.

The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power. The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power.

The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power. The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power.

The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power. The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power.

The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power. The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power.

The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power. The man was thought to be a murderer, and was fired at by John T. Power.

STABBED HIS BROTHER WITH A SCREW DRIVER

Italian Arrested in Montreal Yesterday for Murder Committed in Providence, R. I., in 1904—Terrible Accident Near Windsor; Two Men Killed.

MONTREAL, July 8.—(Special)—Michele Sylvestri alias Silvestri, of Providence, R. I. is under arrest here on a charge of having murdered his brother September 12, 1904 by stabbing him to the heart with a screw-driver. Sylvestri was recognized by a Providence man in Montreal, who communicated with Chief Carpenter. The chief, after getting into touch with Providence authorities, made the arrest last night when the accused confessed his guilt to four detectives. Sylvestri had been driven into madness by months of nagging by his brother and that on the day of the murder his brother had struck him with an iron bar. He then related with a screw-driver. This morning Sylvestri repudiated the confession and states that his only brother died in Italy.

HALIFAX, July 8.—(Special)—A terrible accident occurred this morning at Edge's swamp quarry, four miles from Windsor, by the fall of a heavy body of earth and rock in a plaster quarry. Two young men, Silas and Percy Caldwell, sons of Samuel Caldwell, were killed and Douglas Riley, had his leg broken. All three are under thirty and all married. Silas and Percy Caldwell leave one or two children each.

SPooning IS ILLEGAL Town Constables Break Up Love Making in the Moonlight at Sound Beach, Conn.

GREENWICH, Conn. July 8.—That the love is not a smooth one to take is believed by the young folk of Sound Beach, who have been barred from sitting on the stone fences while making love in the moonlight, by order of the town officials, the order being promulgated upon the application of the residents near Innes Arden, the Kennedy Tod estate, and the Old Greenwich Inn.

LETTER FROM MRS. SEARS She Urges All to Attend the Performance of Caprice Wednesday Evening.

Sir.—Mr. Bird at my suggestion has very kindly consented to repeat that splendid performance of Caprice on Wednesday evening next, July 10th, the proceeds to be given to the children's playground fund.

THE USUAL MONDAY MORNING DOCKET IN THE POLICE COURT

According to this morning's evidence some unsavory language was used by Snade in the course of his encounter with Policeman Collins.

THE FIREMEN'S TOURNAMENT Expected That Fifty Departments Will Be Represented.

Invitations have been sent out by H. Erwin, secretary of the firemen's tournament committee to thirty-four fire departments in various parts of the province and Maine. A number of others will be sent tonight, some to "Massachusetts," and it is expected that about fifty departments will be present.

THE CRYSTAL STREAM CASE The Inquest Will Be Resumed at Cole's Island Tomorrow Evening.

The inquest in connection with the Crystal Stream disaster will be resumed tomorrow night at 6 o'clock at Cole's Island. The crew of the steamer Aberdeen will be on the stand and also Mate McCreary, of the Crystal Stream. Mr. McCreary is still in the hospital, but will be taken to Cole's Island today, said the inquest tomorrow.

MARK TWAIN'S DAUGHTER She Left Halifax Last Night for New York.

HALIFAX, July 7.—(Special)—Miss Clara Clemens, daughter of Samuel Clemens and Miss Isabel Lyon, her friend, and Mark Twain's private secretary, left by the Intercolonial railway express tonight for New York. They had intended remaining in Halifax till Tuesday but Miss Clemens was unexpectedly summoned home. It was stated to be necessary for her to be in New York on Tuesday. She and Miss Lyon will arrive there early this morning. Both ladies were on the Route when that steamer collided with the Seneca on Monday last.

WOMAN WANTS JOB ON A FARM

She Will Take Part in Great Harvest in Western Kansas.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 8.—The first woman to apply to the labor bureau in this city for work as a harvest hand came in a few days ago. She was Mrs. Bradley Lloyd, of Highland, Kan., and she contracted for a job at shocking wheat at $3.20 a day, and immediately started, accompanied by her husband, for the harvest fields of Western Kansas.

MONTREAL HAS ANOTHER STRIKE Structural Iron Workers Decided to Quit Work at Meeting Held Yesterday.

MONTREAL, July 8.—(Special)—The structural iron workers declared a strike at a meeting held on Sunday afternoon, but today the officials of the largest employers are at work as usual. On the other hand the union officials claim that they are playing concern state that all their workmen are at work as usual.

MORE ROOM IS REQUIRED FOR HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

It is quite possible that within a short time the board of school trustees may have to grapple with the question of providing more room for High School pupils. There are 220 pupils taking the examinations to qualify for entrance to the High school and if the majority of them are successful in making the necessary passage, the school authorities will be at a loss to know where to put

HEAVY CATCH IN THE LAKES

CLEVELAND, O., July 8.—For the past decade there has been a gradual falling off in the quantity of fish caught in the Great Lakes. This year, however, the nets of the fish companies all along the chain of lakes have almost invariably been over running with fish when lifted.

THE BODY HAS BEEN FOUND Body of James B. Grieve, Drowned at Rothsay, Was Recovered This Morning.

The body of James B. Grieve, second teller in the Bank of Nova Scotia, who was drowned yesterday afternoon while canoeing at Rothsay, was found by Councilor Harry Gilbert, shortly before here noon, permitting himself to be the first to strike the ground.

"WHIZ" EGGS TO MARKET The Latest Invention Will Carry Farm Produce to the City and Bring Back the Money.

PITTSBURG, July 4.—Sending his butter and eggs to market at a speed of 25 miles an hour without moving further than his front gate is the scheme which an ingenious inventor has devised for the convenience of the farmer.

WILL HOLD INQUIRY Marine and Fisheries Department to Investigate Collision of Senlac and Rosalind.

HALIFAX, July 8.—(Special)—William Parsons, agent of the marine and fisheries department, here, received orders from Ottawa today to hold an official inquiry into the recent collision between the steamers Senlac and Rosalind. The inquiry will likely be held this week.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER TO ATTRACT TOURISTS.

The appearance of two such palatial steamers as the Yale and Calvin Austin at the Red's Point wharves at St. John, as was the case on Saturday, and the assurance they give that there is to be a large tourist business this summer, has prompted several aldermen to agitate for an improvement in the appearance of the area surrounding the Three Lamps. It is now adorned with three unpaired posts, a big red box and a little red box for tools and refuse, some straggling and audacious tufts of grass, some loose stones, and generally a post painted in imitation of barber poles. Another favors the planting of a few dead trees, and the stringing of clothes lines from post to post. It is quite probable that these suggestions will be carried out, and if a few hundreds of the dogs that infest the streets in that part of the town can be persuaded to do their yelping and fighting on this spot the influx of sight-seers, it is believed, would increase to an extent that would warrant daily direct steamship services from Boston, New York and Philadelphia.

But the aldermen think that something more should be done. One of them is