MORE AUTOMOBILE CASES IN COURT

In the police court this morning Magistrate Ritchie referred to the action of the Automobile Association in connection with his striking of fines, especially for rear light violations. His Honor said that he, as judge, must take the law as he found it. In dealing with the recent cases that were the occasion of complaint, His Honor said that he had struck the penalty of $50, and had asked the clerk to strike off the cipher and $0 was collected. "When they call it unjust on my part," he said, "they are going too far and they imply that it is unjust for me to carry out the law. Now what will they say when I strike the full penalty of $50?"

G. E. Boyce was reported for not having the rear light of his auto lighted on last Sunday night at 9:30 o'clock when going down Charlotte street. Sergeant Rankine testified. Mr. Boyce said his lights, to the best of his knowledge, were on at night. A fine of $50 was struck.

A like penalty was imposed on Hilton Boyce for having the auto horn at the corner of King and Charlotte streets. He pleaded guilty. The cases, however, were set over for a week.

H. R. Roberts was fined $10 for not sounding his auto horn at the corner of King and Charlotte streets, at the corner of Germain and King and also at the foot of King street. Mr. Roberts said he blew it at some of those points but not at them all. Sergeant Rankine made the report.

Car No. 5691, owned by Hattie and Laheed, of Brussels street, was reported by Policeman Cobwell for being on the corner from Pond street into Mill on the wrong side. Mr. Laheed pleaded ignorance of the law. The case will come up again this afternoon.

VALLEY RAILWAY WORK

Steam operated machinery is the only thing that makes progress possible in railway construction at present, according to D. P. Maxwell, provincial engineer, who is in the city today on his way to Valley Railway workings.

The scarcity of labor here not only continues but continues to become more acute. There are only a few men, who were depended on formerly, for most of the rough work, most of them either having gone home to fight or having been sent to internment camps. So many of our own men have gone overseas that the fact that the line is coming through the most thickly settled districts along the river but ninety-five per cent of the right of way has been secured without arbitration and no serious difficulties are expected.

There is trouble also in securing rails from the steel mills on account of the rush of munitions and other government work but Mr. Maxwell said that he expected they would be able to secure their supply by the time they are ready for it.

SOME HUNDREDS FROM HERE TO BIG BALL GAMES

It is estimated that more than 100 local baseball fans have left for Boston or Brooklyn to attend the world's series games. This morning both the C. P. H. train and the Eastern Steamship Company's liner Calvin Austin look some to Boston, and this evening upwards of 200 more are expected to leave by train. Owing to Monday being a holiday here, they will avail themselves of the opportunity of spending it in the Hub.

Those who are leaving St. John are looking forward to seeing Jack Connors in action, probably on Monday. Connors practically started his baseball career in this city with the Alerts.

POLICE COURT

A charge of theft against Andrew Robertson was gone this morning in the police court. The charge was for stealing a testament from R. H. McIntyre's tonorial establishment in Princess street; also some coins, souvenirs and a pair of gloves. Mr. McIntyre said that the defendant came to his store on several occasions and each time he went away he missed something. The defendant had told the witness that he was a returned soldier and was "not down and out," but wanted to know where he could get some money.

The evidence of Detective Briggs and Policeman Hopkins was also taken. An Indian was before the court and was sent below to tell where he secured liquor. It was found out and as a result Patrick Shea was fined $25 for supplying liquor to an Indian.

FELL IN THE FOREFRONT OF THE FIGHT

Gallant War Work of Private Thomas Newbury

PROMOTION WAS COMING

He Was Soon to Have Been Made Sergeant—Almost at German Trench When Shot From Machine Gun Struck Him in Heart

The following letter from Serg. A. H. Weldon to Fred Newbury, 117 Main street, tells him of the gallant conduct of his brother, Pte. Thomas Newbury, who recently made the supreme sacrifice by giving up his life on the field of honor. Judging from the letter Pte. Newbury was doing his duty nobly and was in the thick of the fight. His name will be written on the hero page of the war's history in golden letters as one who did not fall when his country needed him.

The letter follows:

France, Sept. 19, 1916.

Dear Mr. Newbury: Just a few lines of all this stuff to tell you that the particulars I can of how your brother was killed. We all made an attack at dawn and he was in my platoon. We advanced under cover of our own artillery. Tom was well in the lead and his example helped to encourage any other new men who might feel a bit shaky. We were almost to the other trench when a German machine gun opened up and poor Tom was shot right through the heart. He did not suffer at all but was killed instantly, which was a mercy, in one way, as most of our poor chaps suffered terribly before they finally gave in.

Tom had been with us both in the 6th and 8th C. M. R's ever since he joined. I have lost one of my best soldiers and a very dear friend. He was to have been advanced to the rank of sergeant, but owing to some mistake the papers were not put through, although he was duly qualified.

I sympathize with you deeply in your loss but none of our men did more to make our advance glorious than he did. We took full toll of the Germans for it, as we took no quarter at all. So many of our boys are going that I am just among those that are left. Our advance paved the way for a general advance all along here and although we paid dearly for it, it was indeed worth the price. Our regiment was mentioned in dispatches for the way we conducted ourselves. We took a place the Australians had attempted to take three times and each time failed. Please excuse my writing as I am not just myself as yet. All the old boys left send their best regards and sympathy.

(Sgd) Sergt. A. H. WELDON.
P. S. He was buried close to where he fell.

FAIRVILLE METHODISTS IN THEIR ANNUAL RE-UNION

Banquet. Greetings From City Churches, Address by Mayor Hayes

Last evening the annual reunion of Fairville Methodists congregating at the Sunday school room, which had been tastefully decorated in red, white and blue. Tea was served at 7:30 by the teaching staff and adult members of the Sunday school and more than 125 guests looked on very prettily with red and white predominating in a color scheme that blended harmoniously with the patriotic bunting on the pillars and walls.

After the good things had been done ample justice to, the audience sang the national anthem and greetings were extended to the Fairville church by A. Rowley, representing Centenary Methodist; Gordon Stevens and Rev. W. G. Lane, Kennoth street Methodist; Rev. Neil Macaulay, Portland street Methodist, and Enoch Thompson, Carleton and optimistic in tone and expressed best wishes toward the Fairville church in next year's work.

His Worship Mayor Hayes, in a characteristic address referred to church and Sunday school work, mentioning the fact that he had been a Sunday school superintendent for the last twenty-three years and also that he had known Mr. Kirk, who had been installed with him, had served a like continuous period both working together in the same school.

Rev. Gilbert Earle submitted the programme of the church from Sunday to Sunday up to Christmas. He urged that the increased interest so manifest at the banquet be continued into the regular church service and Sunday school.

During the evening the choir sang an anthem very acceptably. A vote of thanks was tendered the ladies by W. J. Linton, seconded by S. T. Cougle and was carried in a hearty manner. The banquet of last evening was in connection with the rally services of this fall and proved one of the most successful social gatherings ever held in the church.
