HUGH McCORMICK'S FAST MILE IN "VIC"

His Brother Ralph Recalls Race With Dowd

NORTH END FIRE ALARM

A New Turn is Given Matter By Salvage Corps Men's Request—Temple of Honor Band Re-organizes Leader

It has been said by some since the championship meet held on Thursday evening in the Victoria rink, that the time made in the mile race between Helyea and McLean was but four seconds slower than that by Hughie McCormick, as the rink record some twenty or more years ago. Chatting last evening at his home in Main street with a Times' reporter, Ralph McCormick, brother of the former champion, said that Hughie had never skated for the rink record, but he thought the race referred to was a five mile match with Dowd, a flyer from Montreal.

Many of the older followers of the sport in St. John will recall this race. It was witnessed by a large concourse of people. McCormick at that time was the idol of St. John skating fans, as it was just about that time that he was given a valuable gold watch by admiring citizens, and he gave various other testimonials in honor of his performance on the blades. The race started with Dowd soon forging into the lead. Both men were whistling by the crowd of onlookers like a speeding train past telegraph poles. In the twelfth lap of the five mile McCormick caught Dowd, but instead of passing him, stayed behind until nearing the finish of the five miles, when he forged ahead and won.

In this first mile there were two laps to go before it would have been completed, but McCormick slackened his speed somewhat when he caught Dowd and thus his time was slower for the mile than it would otherwise have been, had he continued with the same magnificent stroke as in the first twelve laps. There were watches in the crowd, and his time was taken at the end of the fourteen laps as 2:32, allowance, naturally, not being made for the two laps already being skated slower than the others. It was the belief of all his friends that had McCormick skated the finish of that race as he was going when he caught Dowd in the twelfth lap, he would have established a record of 2:20, if not lower. He did not, however, know that his time was being taken, or that it might later be given as the rink record.

In those days, said his brother, Ralph, last evening, it was more difficult to make watches in the crowd. Poplars set along the course, standing three or four feet high, instead of the blocks which are now in use, and it was necessary to allow from eighteen inches to twenty-four in order to pass them at a safe distance, whereas now the blocks can be skimed very closely. Some of the skaters, said Mr. McCormick, had the art down so fine that they could fairly graze the poles in getting by, knowing within the fraction of an inch just how much leeway to allow to pass without striking.

The matter of placing a fire alarm in Indianopolis is still undecided. Many citizens would like to see a public alarm established centrally in Indianopolis, while members of the Salvage Corps would like to have private alarms placed in their homes instead of placing a large bell or alarm in position as suggested. At the annual banquet of the corps held in their rooms in Main street on Thursday evening the matter was discussed, and several members approved of the idea, saying that it was only right that they should have private alarms in their homes, particularly as their services were given gratuitously. Mayor Frink, it is said, spoke in favor of the scheme and promised to speak about it to the other commissioners.

This is a question which has been discussed at much length for some time in Indianopolis, and it was a matter of satisfaction to note the estimation submitted by Commissioner McLellan early in the matter that provision was made for an alarm of some kind in Indianopolis. Now the matter has taken a new form, for it is proposed by the members of the Salvage Corps to expend the amount necessary for such an improvement in providing private alarms in their homes, as the major number of them at present have to depend upon outside alarms for awakening them at night in case of fire.

As the situation now stands there is neither an alarm for most of the Salvage Corps men in their homes, nor a general one for the citizens of North End, below Adelaide street. A fire may be only a few doors above the house of one resident, and he is unaware of the danger until he awakens in the morning, unless perchance he has been aroused from his slumber by the necessary noise at a fire. However, if it were in his place of business or employment removed some distance from his home, or even if it were more than a block or so away, the chances are that he would not learn of it until next day. Some felt that if provision is made for private alarms in the homes of members of the Salvage Corps, the question of sending a general alarm for the citizens also must be dealt with, in accordance with the scheme suggested some time ago.

One year has passed since a few of the members of the Temple of Honor in North End convened and formed themselves into an organization to be known as the Temple Band. Their number has now increased to thirty, and at their annual meeting held last evening in their new band rooms in Victoria street, reports were presented showing the organization to be in a flourishing condition, and stating that a very successful twelve-months had been passed. Appreciation was voiced concerning the services rendered by E. W. McNeill as band-master, and he was re-elected for the coming year, as much progress had been made under his direction. Officers elected last evening were: John Robinson, manager; Charles Gallop, leader, and B. Ferris, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Archie Ward of Adelaide street, left this morning for Parrsboro, having been called there by the serious illness of her mother.
