DAY OF MOURNING

SECOND DRAW OF VICTORIA NINE

ELEVEN INNINGS OF ERRORLESS BALL

Fans Go Wild Over Splendid Double and Single Plays and Stevenson's Pitching

(From Monday's Daily.) Victoria has a ball team. Manager Wattelet's prophesy, in spite of the doubters has come true. The team needed shaking round, but the final juggle as lined out Saturday afternoon at Royal Park against Spalding's nine, the cream of Washington state, proved that what a week ago looked like Chinese puzzle has been solved, and the large crowd of ball fans who occupied the benches were treated to perfect ball -eleven innings of errorless ball-and no better is seen in the Northwestern or Pacific coast leagues than that.

The game was drawn, four runs each side. Twice it got away from the home team, and more than one Rube Steenson was in a hole, but Victoria's tenacious twirler wore the big smile all time, pitched like a demon, and each time retired the opposing side, dragging the game up to level ground again. In the first and the fourth Spalding's men got ahead, leaving the sturdy striplings an up-hill fight, and it stayed that way till the eighth, when plete temporary repairs made. McDiarmiad came round the sacks. getting two bases on an overthrow to first, stealing to third in daring and hair-raising style and going home on a

With three runs against them when they went to bat for the first time, Victoria fans were dubious, but Wattelet hit. Moore sacrificed, advancing Wattelet to third and made second him self Wattelet caused excitement when he slid to third. A smart double play got Moore and Murrah, but Wattelet team was only two to the bad.

The second was uneventful, but the third Moore made one and stole second, Whyte drove a grounder to short stop, who missed it, letting Whyte to first. and Moore and Murrah came making the tally three all, and the McDiarmiad died getting to first, and Whyte was nabbed sliding across the plate on Moulton's one-base hit. Robertson returned the ball to the pitcher, hit a ball out of the ground the first innings, repeated the performance the fourth, and put his ream one in the ead. Otherwise Steenson had them one, two, three, and Victoria for the remainder of the day played careful, steady ball until the score was tied by McDiarmiad in the eighth. Three extra innings resulted in no score to either side, and the game was called for the Seattle team to get the boat. The detailed scores are:
