

DYKEMAN'S

FALL ARRIVALS

Are Coming Thick and Fast.

The way these goods are opening out bodes big business for us this fall. One of the latest lots to arrive is is so worried about Lucy's clothes for boarding school next winter—she wants to make up a serviceable school-room suit and a pretty gown for "nice," and if she will step in and get the September number of THE DESIGNER she will find just what she is looking for.

The School Suit has a new blouse, to be trimmed in braid or stitching, and is the most satisfactory design yet made for girls from 13 to 17 years. The blouse design may also serve for separate shirt waists in flannel, mohair or silk.

The other costume is made with the very fashionable 3/4 collarless coat, and instructions for cutting and making are so complete that nobody who knows how to sew need hesitate to attempt this stylish gown.

Each Suit Pattern, including shirt and waist, costs but 15 cents.

THE DESIGNER is 25 cents a copy—no take subscriptions at 50 cents a year.

The prettiest collection of fine wool waistings that we have seen this season. The price is 50c. per yard. The colorings are clear and the materials will wash well, making one of the most economical waist materials that will be shown this season. The width is 36 inches. Some of the prettiest colorings have pretty self tinted borders, which are used for trimming the waists.

SATINETTE WAISTS.

This is a material that has the appearance of silk, is very soft and will keep its appearance. Prettily made with 1 1/2 inch and pompadour tucks with the Puritan shape collar. This waist is made to satisfy the demand for waists between silk and satin, and it fills the demand in every particular. Prices $1.50, sizes from 34 to 44.

REV. MR. WARING AND HIS CRITICS.

Sharp Discussion Caused By Baptist Convention Sermon

Some Prominent Baptists Left The Church During Its Delivery—A Difference of Opinion.

While Rev. H. F. Waring is not openly accused of heresy, there is much sharp criticism among the delegates at the Maritime Baptist convention of his sermon delivered in Leinster church last Sunday morning. Though the matter has not yet come openly before the convention and may not be so considered, a lively discussion is taking place privately, in which the delegates seem to be about evenly divided. The younger ministerial element is disposed to accept the views presented by Mr. Waring; some of the more conservative are strong in their criticism, while the majority find fault chiefly with Mr. Waring's method of presenting his subject and with his judgment in expressing in a convention sermon views which he knew would not be acceptable to the whole convention.

The sermon, which was really the last chapter of a book which Mr. Waring will soon publish, was entitled, "The Bible as Justified and Justifying," and was a scholarly presentation of the arguments of adverse critics against the justification of the Bible, followed by a statement of the contentions of Christian students. The conclusion that many of his listeners came to was that Mr. Waring did not only the verbal inspiration of the Bible, but any inspiration whatever of the writers of a large part of the book more than the inspiration which may be said to be the possession of any writer of great literature. Some of his hearers considered his statements so unworthy of their acceptance that they left the church. Rev. A. B. McDonald, of Gagetown, was one of those.

But Mr. Waring's supporters claim that this was due to a misunderstanding caused largely by his method of stating his case. Mr. Waring has a reputation among the Baptist clergy of being very liberal in his views, and many came expecting something saving of orthodoxy. So when in the first part of his sermon the preacher began to array so many objections to the inspiration of the Bible, he so antagonized these people that they were not in a position to appreciate the contra points he made later. Had he reversed his argument, his friends say, and put the positive part first, no fault would have been taken.

There has been some objection also to the prominence which Mr. Waring gave religious books such as the Koran and the Vedas in comparison with the Scriptures. With his basal contention, that the value of the Bible should be judged not so much by the book itself as by the men it made, by the results following its teaching, there is no fault found.

The last part will probably come up for discussion in some way before convention closes, and the remarks of many prominent ministerial delegates are awaited with interest.

Judging by the effect of one chapter, Mr. Waring's book when it is published, should create something of a mild sensation among the Baptists.

POLICE COURT.

One Armed Man Didn't Want to Work in the Park.

Joseph Koyiol has only one arm and thinks that the amount of work he could do at Rockwood park for the municipality would not be worthy of notice in comparison with the feeling of satisfaction which might come to those in authority if they let him depart from the city in peace.

Koyiol was jagged down in the I. C. R. and subsequently admitted the soft impeachment. But he really regretted his inability to do as much work as a two armed man. The magistrate offered consolation by telling how some other one armed man had done creditable work. But still Koyiol doubted and in order to fully convince him that his fears were groundless he was advised to try the park for a couple of months.

Carl Shaffer, an old familiar, made a fool of himself on King Square last night. He also was fined eight dollars or two months.

The four young men, Robert Lester, Charles Beckett, George Walker and Charles Wilson, charged with stealing from John Downey's house at Terryburn, were up for preliminary examination. Evidence was given by Mr. Downey and his mother, and the prisoners were again remanded.

OPERA HOUSE BOOKINGS.

Mr. Dockrill announces that the following dates have been booked at the Opera House.

Bandmann Opera closes Aug. 29th. Gorton's Minstrels, Sept. 7th and 8th. Other People's Money, Sept. 17th, 18th, and 19th. Daniel Ryan in repertoire, Sept. 21st to 24th. Lewis Morrison, in Faust, Sept. 25th and 26th. Harry McClaskey and company of artists, Sept. 30th, October 1st.

A Life's Mistake, under management of H. M. Clarke, Oct. 2nd and 3rd. W. W. Randall, representing a Maine company in repertoire, Oct. 5th-10th. Of these Gorton's, Ryan and Morrison are perhaps the best known. The minstrel people have been here often and give practically the same sort of a show each time. Dan. Ryan is one of the old favorites, and is sure to draw. Lewis Morrison has threatened several times to go out of the devil business, but in Faust he makes a rattling good Satan and seems unable to get clear of the habit.

ANOTHER ATTRACTION FOR THE TOURISTS.

A horse died on Saturday in James Clarke's yard off Minette street, near Blue Rock, and since then the carcass has been making its presence more noticeable than that of the orange street dump. Neighbors have complained of the sickening and unhealthy smell and today Sergt. Ross made a report on the matter at the Central Station.

PERSONALS

William Garnet, who has been confined to his home until recently, left for Boston Saturday to undergo an operation.

Stanley Lawton of this city, a member of Sousa's world-famed band, arrived in the city from Montreal on Saturday on his vacation, and is staying with S. Girvin.

A. W. Sterns and Mrs. Sterns, of Charlottetown are in the city.

Robert Fenwell and Miss Fenwell, of Charlottetown, are spending a few days here.

Mr. and Mrs. Allison Dodge of St. John are visiting friends in Kentville.

Rev. I. Corbett, of Canby, is spending a short vacation in Boston and St. John.

Mrs. Jones, of St. John, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. George Ellison, at Apohaqui, returned home on Saturday.

Horace Cole, of St. John, has been visiting friends in Kentville.

E. K. Allison, of the Bank of British North America staff, went to Ottawa on Saturday where he will go on duty as a teller.

Mrs. Ganong, of St. John, is the guest of Mrs. George Campbell of Middle Sackville.

MORE TOURISTS.

The Calvin Austin arrived on time this morning with two hundred and fifty passengers, nearly all of whom were tourists, the majority stopping in St. John. As a result of this the few spare corners in the city hotels are today about filled up.

At the Royal rooms were held for a quiet party of twenty-five, due from Toledo, Ohio, this afternoon. The Victoria hotel has a Nason & Russell party of ten and a Symonds and Masters party of eight from Boston. These will be increased by others who will arrive today.

A NEW STEAMER.

The new steamer Westport, to replace the old one sold some time ago, is expected here at any hour. She was last reported in Yarmouth, but James Knox, the St. John agent, has not been advised as to when the new steamer will reach this port.

The new Westport was built at Shelburne and will run on the old route.

A WICKED SMALL BOY.

Last evening Richard Retallick of Ludlow street, Charlottetown, was doing some painting on his house. The proceedings interested a number of small boys who gathered round and caused much annoyance by climbing up the ladder on which Mr. Retallick was standing. The latter came down from his perch and chased the gang, whereupon one of them went across the street, picked up a good sized stone and deliberately threw it through one of the windows in Mr. Retallick's house.

MIDNIGHT CROQUET.

Some of the residents of Renforth have started a new game, a shady sort of amusement, which is not to be made light of. It is midnight croquet and is played thus. Select partners and find a lawn where there is no uneven surface. Each player will tie a small lantern to his ankle. This makes him lighter on his feet. Then he must have a caddy—one of tobacco is the best, but almost any kind will do. Wait until all the neighbors are in bed and then begin the game. Follow the balls carefully with the lanterns, and it is surprising how few of them can be lost.

The game is an interesting one and has been played at Renforth every evening since Monday.

SATURDAY'S STORM.

MONCTON, N. B., Aug. 24.—Later reports show that Saturday night's storm covered a wide area and considerable damage was done. A house owned by Fred LeBlanc on the Paisano road was struck and set on fire, but not much destroyed. John Gerdard's house at Nixon, Albert Co., was struck and the chimney and floor shattered. The storm was very severe at Salisbury. Miles Wortman's house was struck and all members of the family badly stunned. A dog in the kitchen was killed.

At Bass River, Kent Co., the Orange hall was split in two. A barn in the same locality was also struck.

Tides in the Petitcodiac river have been very high the last three days and many dykes on both sides of the river have been broken, flooding the marshes in places to the depth of several feet. As the hay is not yet cut, much damage will result. Considerable damage is also reported in the Sackville marshes.

BANDMANN AGAIN.

A Better Company—A Pretty Opera—A Delightful Audience.

One of the heartiest receptions ever given a company in St. John was that accorded the Bandmann aggregation at the Opera House last night. Every person in the audience seemed to have gone with the fixed intention of having a good time and welcoming back to the city the singers who made such a favorable impression on the occasion of their last visit.

Miss Elba, Miss Vie, Miss Morra and Harry Cole, evidently better known than some of the others, were greeted in a manner that left no room for doubt as to the feelings of the audience.

The Bandmann Company is better than ever. A few of the members who were here before are missing, notably Miss Darley, but in their places are others just as good, among whom is Miss Annie Roberts. Miss Elba and Harry Cole, without whom the company would not seem like itself, are to the fore, and were even more enthusiastically received than on the occasion of their previous visit.

Last night's piece, A Country Girl, is new in St. John and was well received. The music as a whole is not so catchy as in some of the other operas in which the company has appeared, yet it contains several particularly good selections. Of these, the duets by Howard and Miss Roberts, Miss Elba and Mr. Lester, and Miss Elba's and Miss Roberts' solos were especially pleasing. Miss Vie and Miss Morra also had solo parts which they carried through in a praiseworthy manner.

The finale of the first act is pretty, and scarcely has the effect of it worn off when the curtain rises on one of the best stage settings ever seen here, this, by the way, being rendered all the more pleasing by the gorgeous ball costumes.

The Country Girl was a brilliant success and the reception given the company was as deserved as it was hearty.

This evening the old favorite The Gelsa will be presented with Miss Elba as O Mimosa.

FREDERICTON NEWS.

FREDERICTON, Aug. 24.—The fire department was called out this afternoon for a slight fire on the roof of a wooden building, owned by Mrs. Segee, below the Gelsa store. The building is historically connected with the growth of the province, being that in which the first legislature sat here. The damage, which was small, was fully covered by insurance.

William Gelsa's store at Springhill, directly opposite the Springhill hotel, was broken into early Sunday morning. The burglars smashed the cash drawer, taking the contents, amounting to $30 in cash and some jewelry. Goods in the store to the value of $30 were also taken. There is no clue as to the criminals.

On Friday evening Fred F. Dow's summer camp at Springhill was robbed, the booty being Mr. Dow's valuable gold watch and chain. It looks as though an organized gang had taken up the business. The residents are taking measures to protect themselves from the depredaters.

The marriage took place this afternoon at the home of Alfred Everett of Kingsclear of his daughter, Louise, and T. Terrance Sexton of Roanoke, Virginia. Rev. Mr. Howard of McKee's Corner was the officiating clergyman, and the ceremony was performed in the presence of immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. J. S. Scott of this city, and is a graduate nurse of Framingham, Mass., hospital. The newly married couple will make their home in the South.

TRANSFER OF N. B. LAND CO.

It is understood that a syndicate of United States capitalists are seeking an option on the N. B. Land Company's properties. These are said to be the same investors who recently acquired the Davidson properties in Nova Scotia. The Star understands that negotiations are now going on with Lord Strathburn and his Montreal associates who have a controlling interest in the N. B. Land Co.
