"Joe" McNamara Writes On Boxing

Says St. John and Halifax Boys Did Remarkably Well in Championships at Boston

An interesting letter was received yesterday from Joe McNamara, physical director of Curtis Hall Gymnasium, Jamaica Plain, Boston, in which he talks about the National Boxing championships which were held in Boston a week ago yesterday and today. "Joe" says that it was indeed a wonderful show, and the best he ever witnessed. Monday night's show lasted from 7.30 in the evening until 4.40 the following morning, 56 bouts in all, and hardly a minute's rest between them, while Tuesday's show was over about one o'clock in the morning.

With regards to the showing of the St. John and Halifax boys "Joe" says they did remarkabely well. Chisholm won his trial bout, but in doing so he hurt his shoulder so badly that the official doctor would not allow him to go on again. "I also think in his bout he met the hardest man in his class, as "Ernie" Sawyer whom he beat in St. John a short time ago met Fifield in Toronto in the final bout of the 126 class and the house was evenly divided as to the result, in fact the decision of the judges was "Boo-ed" for some time. Now if Chisholm could beat Sawyer a couple of weeks ago I see no reason why he couldn't do it again, if it was not for him having to meet such a tough fighter in his trial bout.

"Now about Healy, I honestly think he got the worst of the decision in his trial bout, and that decision was "Boo-ed" even worse than Sawyer's, but it was just as well that he lost that decision, as I think he met one of the easiest men in his class and would have got a beaten in his next bout.

"As for Hogan, he lacks experience and I think his seconds showed good judgment in throwing the towel in when they did, as I see no sense in beating a willing boy. I think when he gets more experience he will be a good man.

"As for the class of boxers in the tournament they were the best I've ever seen. Amateur boxers have improved wonderfully in the last few years.

"I suppose Hilton Belyea, whom I admire so much, is plugging away every day on the harbor and looking forward to winning this year in the National Rowing championship at Philadelphia. It would be a great boost for St. John if Hilton could win the National. I understand Hoover is going to England to row at Henley, perhaps he is afraid of Hilton."

LABOR UNIONS OPPOSING U. S. SUBSIDY BILL

Opposition Is Also Being Encountered from the All Powerful Farmers' Bloc.

Washington, April 24.—(By Canadian Press)—The lengthy hearings before the joint sessions of the House marine and Senate committees on the administration's subsidy bill have by no means sufficed to clear away the obstacles ahead of that bill. Senator Jones, chairman of the commerce committee, hoped when the hearings opened to close them in two weeks, but he has not seen his hope realized.

It has developed that organized labor is opposed to the subsidy bill. President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor is opposed to it. Influence of the seamen is being thrown against it.

Opposition is also being encountered from the agricultural bloc. The agricultural members have scarcely been won over by the fact the administration has held out to them its favor for the St. Lawrence ship channel project. The agricultural members regard the prospects of this improvement as too uncertain for them to base votes for subsidy legislation upon such prospects.

It will require the most extreme pressure for the President to force the ship subsidy bill through at any time. The probabilities are that the President by exerting all his influence can put the bill through eventually, although there is some uncertainty as to just how far he is willing to go in this. A wide difference exists in a legislative sense here between a recommendation from the President with members of his party to get the bill passed. By personal intervention the President can probably muster the votes for the subsidy. At the same time, it is generally looked upon as doubtful whether the bill can be passed in this session of Congress and the delay in completing hearings strengthens this impression.

Meantime, the bill for free tolls through the Panama Canal continues to be blocked. The administration does not favor it and the respects for its indefinite delay are strong. Many regard it as dead. It is charged by some of its advocates that there is a definite understanding between the United States Government and the British Government that the bill will not be passed, but the evidence to sustain this charge has not been brought out. An airing of views over it in the Senate or House may be expected before the session ends.

Billy Balzac Trimmed Prunier

Men Fought Twenty Rounds for Middleweight Championship of France—Jack Dempsey Referee.

Paris, April 24.—Billy Balzac tonight won the middleweight championship of France on points over Maurice Prunier. The men fought twenty rounds and the decision was rendered by Jack Dempsey, world's champion heavyweight pugilist, who refereed the bout. Dempsey furnished the only knockout of the evening—this, when he rose from the referee's chair and announced his decision in French.

Good Fighting At Montreal

Joe Burman of Chicago Won Feature Bout from Marty Collins of New York.

Montreal, April 24.—In the feature ten round bout at the Mount Royal Arena here tonight, Joe Burman, of Chicago, 121 1-2 pounds, outpointed Marty Collins, 122 pounds, of New York, all the way and was awarded the decision. Collins was frequently staggered with blows to the jaw but always rallied gamely.

In the semi-final Sid Marks, of New York, claimant of the Canadian lightweight championship, fought up to eight rounds of the scheduled ten round bout with Jos St. Onge, of Granby, Que., when referee Harry Ertle stopped the fight to save the Granby man further punishment.

Germans Trying To Calm Storm Raised At Genoa

Utilizing Neutral Jealousies—Reports of Prussian Intrigue Discounted.

London, April 22.—The Genoa Conference situation is clarifying. The Germans and the Russians have brought off their treaty coup and are now, The Christian Science Monitor learns, endeavoring to calm the storm it raised, utilizing for this purpose all available side issues, including that of the jealousies of neutral states' representatives at their exclusion from certain negotiations wherein the major powers are participating.

Meanwhile Raymond Poincare, the French Premier, has emphasized the intransigeance of the French attitude by referring the Russo-German treaty to the reparation commission and allowing it to be known in Paris that further co-operation of the French delegates at Genoa, so far as the Russian negotiations are concerned, depends upon the abandonment by the Moscow representatives of the limitations they have suggested in their interpretation of the Cannes conditions. These conditions, it will be remembered, insisting as they do on the integral recognition by Russia of debts and indemnities, are incompatible with the spirit of the Russo-German treaty which proposes to wipe out such liabilities.

At this juncture, the experiences of Clement Edwards, M.P., who has just returned from Germany, are attracting attention here. Mr. Edwards found evidence of Prussian intrigue with the Soviet Government for military co-operation, with a view to ousting the allied forces from the Rhineland and restoring Prussian hegemony among the German confederate states. In this connection one-time German officers are being organized, meetings held in Germany and considerable sums of money sent into Russia for the support of the Red Army, pressure upon the Allies to begin by Russian demonstrations on the Polish frontier at the same time that every effort is made in Germany to confuse the reparation accounts and the delay in reparation payments.

These gloomy views, The Christian Science Monitor learns, are discounted by information from the Polish and Rumanian borders, showing that the Red troops' concentrations in these regions comprise only ill-equipped forces which do not afford a serious military menace, at least for the present. While it is probably true, therefore, that German soldiers of fortune are tending increasingly to take service in Russia now that military employment in their own country is no longer available, their numbers so far do not justify serious alarm though the matter is one which requires careful watching.

Two other developments are also noticeable. They are, first, the decision of the currency and exchange sub-commission at Genoa to invite the Bank of England to convene a conference of all central banks of issue, including the United States Federal Reserve Bank, with a view to international co-operation in this connection; and, second, the appointment by the Reparation Commission at Paris of a committee, under the chairmanship of M. Delacroix, with Signor Kindersley, M. Sargent and Herr Bergman as members, to report upon conditions under which a foreign loan might be raised by Germany for reparation purposes.

In both these matters, the United States' co-operation is essential if useful results are to be obtained upon a scale sufficient to affect the general financial situation in Europe.

St. Stephen Won From Trojans

Border City Basketball Team Turned Tables Last Night —Score 26 to 20.

St. Stephen, N. B., April 24—(Special)—The St. Stephen basketball team turned the tables on the Trojans, of St. John, to the tune of 26 to 20, in a fast and furious game here tonight before a large audience. It was without doubt the best game ever seen here, the score being only a few points difference at any time. The St. Stephen boys seemed to profit by their experience in Saturday night's game and the Trojans were unable to get in their combination work. St. Stephen took the lead from the start and held it throughout the game. Following is the summary:

Trojans.	St. Stephen.
Forwards.
Cross	C. H. Clark
Lee	Nicholson
Centre.
Malcolm	J. A. Clark
Defense.
McGowan	Laughlin
Kerr	Cotter
Spares.
	Shields and Tuck

First period—Trojans, 9; St. Stephen, 16.

Second period—Trojans, 20; St. Stephen, 26.

Referee—Markee.

At a meeting of the track committee of the St. Stephen Exhibition, Robert M. Webber was appointed secretary of racing. Mr. Webber has had several years' experience in the horse game and the appointment is a very popular one.

ANTI-VIVISECTION ISSUE IN CALIFORNIA

Petition for Abolition of Vivisection Again to be Presented to Voters at Next Election.

Los Angeles, April 20.—An initiative petition for the abolition of vivisection in California will again be presented to the voters of the state at the next election by the California Federated Anti-Vivisection Societies. At the last election there were more than 272,000 votes cast against vivisection in the state, a showing which is considerd remarkable for the progress of anti-vivisection by its advocates in California. The petition reads in part:

We, the undersigned, registered, qualified electors of the State of California, present to the Secretary of State this petition, and request that a proposed measure, as hereinafter set forth, be submitted to the people of the State of California, for their approval or rejection, at the next insuing general election, or as provided by law. The proposed measure is as follows:

An Act Prohibiting the Vivisection or Torture of Any Human Being, Animal, or Other Living Creature, for Experimental Physiological or Pathological Investigation, or for Any Other Purpose; Providing Exceptions; Providing for the Acquirement of Evidence Concerning Such Operations; Providing Penalties for the Violation of its Provisions, and Repealing All Acts or Parts of Acts in Conflict with the Provisions of This Act.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. Any person who vivisects or tortures, or aids or abets any person in the vivisection or torture of any human being, animal, or other living creature, for experimental physiological or pathological investigation, or for any other purpose, either with or without the use of anaesthetics, except as hereinafter provided for, in or at any university, hospital, sanitarium, meeting place of any society, medical or surgical laboratory, or in or at any other place in the state of California, is guilty of a violation of this act.

Section 2. A justice of the peace, on information on oath, that there is reasonable ground to believe that an experiment or demonstration or operation in contravention of this act has been, is being, or is intended to be, performed in any place, shall issue his warrant authorizing any police officer, sheriff, constable or humane officer, either alone or in company with others, to enter, with any necessary assistance and force, and to take the names and addresses of the persons found therein, and to search for, seize and take away all subjects, materials and instruments which shall have been used, or might reasonably be supposed to have been held in readiness for use, in such unlawful ways as are prohibited by this act, and to make arrest of any person or persons conducting or participating in any such unlawful practices.

Section 3 of this proposed measure is copied from the English Abolition Bill, and has been embodied in the hope of bringing out the united opposition of the vivisectors and there adherents, according to statements made by those who have prepared this bill.

The Hague, April 24.—Rules for procedure and the naming of committees for the first ordinary session of the Permanent Court of International Justice on June 15 have been completed by the preliminary session meeting here.

Dr. R. C. J. Loder of Holland, has been named president of the committee for Summary Procedure. Charles Andre Weiss of France and Max Huber of Switzerland are the other regular members, with Viscount Robert Finlay of Great Britain and Rafael Altamira, of Spain, as substitutes.

Viscount Finlay will head the committee for labor disputes, of which Dionisio Anzilotti of Raly, Antonio Bustamente of Cuba, Senor Altamira and M. Huber are the other regular members. John Bassett Moore, the only American member of the court, and D. C. G. Nyholm, of Denmark, are substitutes.

The committee for transit disputes will be presided over by M. Weiss, Senor Barbosa of Brasil, Yoruzo Oda of Japan, Mr. Moore and M. Nyholm are regular members, and M. Huber and Signor Anzilotti have named substitutes.

Y. M. C. A. Juniors Are In The Lead

To Date Locals Head the Junior Hexathlon Contest for Canada.

Word has been received at the local Y. M. C. A. from the National Physical director that up to date the St. John boys head the Junior Hexathlon Contest for Canada, with 13,306 points; Westmount (Montreal) come next with 12,261. The returns are not yet completed, but the probability is that the St. John boys have won the junior and emulated the achievement of the seniors.

According to the physical director, the juniors thoroughly deserve the "win," as they put forth a mighty effort this year. Two years ago they stood in sixth place in the Dominion, creeping up to third place last year, and this year the objective set was first place.

The performance of the local Y. M. C. A. boys is a most creditable one, and reflects great credit upon both themselves and their physical instructor, William Bowie. The fact that the Juniors have duplicated the work of the Seniors in leading all the associations in the Dominion, possessed of a membership which would place them in the same category, speaks well for the athletic prowess of the boys of this city.

ALBERTA HAS MANY ANIMAL FOSSILS

Presents Great Range of Material for Evolutionary Research, Says Prof. Warren.

Calgary, Alta., April 22.—Five million years ago the Rocky Mountains were pushed up, the huge disonaur, who had ruled Alberta for many years without challenge, perished, and, lo, the little warm-blooded mammals who, through fear, had existed in concealment since their origin, were able for the first time in their lives to come out into the open and start the long line of evolution which has culminated in the super-animal production, man. Every page in this wonderful and fascinating story of animal origin in Alberta was unfolded and interpreted to the Canadian Club by Prof. P. S. Warren, of the University of Alberta, who delivered an interesting address on "The Animals of Alberta—Past and Present," here recently.

Describing the pre-historic dinosaurs, Prof. Warren said the diplodocus, which was about 80 feet long and weighing several tons, was the largest of these reptiles. The fact that the reptiles "specialized" in size, and the fact that nature hates anything specialized, caused their extinction, explained the professor.

When the cataclysmic disturbance which attended the up-shooting of the Rocky Mountains occurred, the massive animals, with poor and slow equipment for location, had either to get out of the district or perish—and not being able to get out, they did perish completely, without leaving a descendant to carry on in the scale of evolution. At that same time there were also alligators and tortoises, but these reptiles did not "specialize" in size, and they there got out, with the result that there are many members of their species remaining today.

It was at the time of the extinction of the dinosaur that the mammals which are the ancestors of all the animal creation today, first came into their own. These mammals, warm blooded and swift of foot, embodied more speed than any other animal of that day, and they were seldom seen by the larger animals.

Some interesting facts are brought out in studying the trend of evolution which the descendants of these mammals have taken, said the speaker. For instance, it is hard to believe, but true, that an animal existed in the ancient days embodying the composite characteristics of the camel, deer and pig. The horse at that time was the size of the present dog, and it came from the same source as the rhinoceros.

Man, declared Prof. Warren, represents the very last of the series of evolution that have taken place in the animal world, although he came into being only a few thousand years ago.

Alberta has a right to be proud of her field of fossilized remains of these prehistoric animals, he said. In previous years these remains were removed from the bad lands and taken to all parts of the earth, except to points in Alberta. Fortunately, however, the province has now started a museum of its own. Alberta stands pre-eminent in the production of animal fossils, and there is no greater range of material for evolutionary research in the world than that which exists in this province, he averred.

Ledoux Won From Harrison

French Bantamweight Pugilist Won the Championship of England at Liverpool.

Liverpool, April 24—Charley Ledoux, the French bantamweight pugilist, tonight won the bantamweight championship of England by defeating Thomas Harrison on points in a fifteen-round bout. The Englishman was floored twice in both the first and second rounds and also was knocked down several times in later rounds.

Canadian Champ After Britton

If Frank Barrieau Succeeds Against Klesch, May Fight for Middleweight Crown.

New York, April 24.—There is a strong probability that Frank Barrieau, Canadian welterweight champion will get a chance at Jack Britton's crown if he succeeds in his battle against Klesch, the Cleveland middleweight star, at Toronto next Friday night.

It is stated here that Toronto promoters are angling for a championship bout between Barrieau and Britton for the latter part of May, and it is very probable that articles will be signed shortly.

Barrieau is considered a very strong contender, and if he guarantees to make the welterweight limit the bout is almost assured. He put up a splendid battle with the champion in Vancouver last June.

PRINCE TO VISIT THE BEAUTIFUL CITY OF NIKOK

One of the Most Popular Resorts in Japan and Attracts Many Visitors.

Tokio, April 15.—One of the most delightful places the Prince of Wales is to visit in Japan is the beautiful city of Nikko, 90 miles north of Tokio, of which the Japanese say, "One cannot appreciate the word 'beautiful' until one has seen Nikko." The city is one of the most popular resorts in the country and attracts hundreds of visitors of all seasons of the year.

Within the immediate neighborhood are many objects and places of interest. Best known of all is the famous Red Lacquer Bridge spanning the river Daiya, which originally none but the Shogun and one travelling as a special messenger for the Emperor might cross.

A short distance from the sacred bridge are what the floods have left of the once numerous images of Buddha which lined the bank of the river along the Gammanga-funchi pool. The tale is told that these stone images come and go invisibly, the number never being twice the same.

For a number of years, with orders to spare no expense, the pick of Japanese artists and artisans, gathered from all parts of the country, labored to create at Nikko a memorial worthy of the founder of the Tokugawa Shogunate, Iyeyate, Iyeyasu, and to surround his tomb with such works of art as would leave it unrivalled. The site of the tomb of the first of the Tokugawa Shoguns, on the slope of the forest-clad mountain, itself is one of the premier beauty spots of a superbly-beautiful district.

In creating the great memorial, each of the Daimyo of Japan was assessed to the limit of his capacity to pay, thus obtaining a fund estimated as the equivalent of $12,500,000.

In a superb setting with an avenue of cryptomeria, extending over twenty miles, and broad roadways flanked with trees of all kinds, are the shrines of Nikko, the beauties of which beggar description. In them are magnificent carvings, mural decorations from the brushes of the greatest artists of the day, gifts from the rulers of China and Korea.

Unalloyed gold was lavishly used in the profusion of gilding to be seen everywhere about the buildings and the colors were made fast by the use of crushed gems. One of the most noted carvings about the temple is the "Three Monkeys" the "See no evil—Speak no evil—Hear no evil" trio, known throughout the entire world.

The beautiful gate known as Yomeimon is one of the most striking pieces of wood carving in the world. It is estimated by experts that this portion of the temple alone which has a surface about 432 square feet, is valued at 2,400,000 yen (nominally $1,200,000).

In this gate one of the pillars has its carving upside down. This was done, it is said, owing to the superstition that the flawless perfection of the whole structure might bring misfortune to the house of Tokugawa.

Bombardier Wells Makes Comeback

Defeated Alfred Lloyd of Australia in Tenth Round of Twenty Round Bout.

London, April 24—Bombardier Wells after an absence of more than eighteen months from the ring, tonight defeated Alfred Lloyd, an Australian heavyweight pugilist, in the tenth round of a bout that was to have gone twenty rounds. The seconds of the Australian threw a towel into the ring in order to save their man from further punishment.

Lloyd took a count of eight in the seventh round, and twice was downed for counts of seven and eight in the tenth round. The second time he was floored in this round he was knocked through the ropes.

York County Ball League

Marysville, Devon and Fredericton Will Play Independent Baseball This Season.

Special to The Standard

Fredericton, April 24—A public meeting was held this evening under the auspices of the Damon Club to consider the baseball situation as affecting Fredericton this season. The meeting passed in favor of the so-called independent baseball. It was decided upon a York County League consisting of teams representing Marysville, Devon and Fredericton. The Fredericton team will be under the management of a committee from the Damon Club.

The Schedule Committee, representing the three teams, will meet at Marysville to draw up the schedule of games for the season's play.

It was decided not to enter a team in the New Brunswick League as the expense incident to such an undertaking would be too heavy.
