

GEORGE FREDERICK CAMERON, who was cut off in 1887 at the early age of thirty-three, was an impassioned singer. (Page 287, and see Introduction.)

"Mr Cameron is another of the gifted sons of Nova Scotia, who have reflected honour on their native province and on the Dominion. The incidents of his life are few. He was born at New Glasgow, in 1854. He spent some years in Boston, and wrote much for the American press, as most Canadians have to do who wish to gain the ear of the world. He entered as a student at Queen's University, Kingston, in 1882. One is struck with his burning hate of oppression and wrong wherever it exists, and with his passionate sympathy with the struggle for freedom everywhere—in Cuba, in Russia, in France, in America, in Ireland."

The Honourable PIERRE J. O. CHAUVEAU (see Appendix II.).—Mr Chauveau, though full of years, is still full of literary and physical fire and vigour, and an indispensable figure in literary circles.

ISABELLA VALANCEY CRAWFORD (see Introduction and Appendix II.).—She died at Toronto on the 12th of February 1887, her work scarcely noticed in her native country. An acquaintance describes her as a tall, handsome, light-haired young lady, apparently about thirty years old, somewhat eccentric in manner, but not very noticeably so. (Pages 107, 117, 119, 129, 177, 180, 411.)

Rev. WILLIAM WILFRED CAMPBELL, rector of Trinity Church, St Stephen, N.B.—The brilliant studies of lake scenery which Mr Campbell has made, and calls collectively "Lake Lyrics," will attract admiration. He is a young man, but like many of his countrymen has already won success with the great American magazines. His winter poems are published under the title of "Snowflakes and Sunbeams," 1888.
