4) Foreign trade will be geared to an expansion of our international market, with our currency stabilized so as to protect our manufacturers from foreign competitors taking advantage of the inflated dollar. Our producers will be encouraged to export finished rather than unfinished goods, again promoting more employment.

5) Our food surpluses will be granted to under-developed countries badly in need of food, in addition to our foreign aid program.

6) The National Employment Office will set up a program to assist university students in finding summer employment.

Our Platform:

Trans-Canada Sewer

There will be a national fertilizer industry incorporated with this idea. All people who at present refuse to help the federal government by paying income taxes, etc., will have no choice about helping the federal government after the Trans-Canada Sewer is built.

HMCS Bonaventure Converted to a Nuclear Submarine

Realizing that surface ships are now obsolete, we propose that Canada's aircraft carrier be transformed to a nuclear sub.

Expenditures on Canned Sardines Deducted for Income Tax Purposes

Because Canada should give greater support to her fisheries industry, it is proposed to greatly boost the sale of sardines by this measure.

Eliminate the Duty on Zither Strings

Whereas there are a great number of budding musicians who are thwarted in their life's ambition by this unjust tariff, we propose to eliminate this tariff.

5 BP Plan (BP-Bed Pushing)

In the interests of a national physical fitness campaign, everyone shall push a bed for five minutes each morning and evening. Those who do not have a bed will get cot. Excess beds for women will be available at Christian Atheists Headquarters.

NEW PARTY

MIKE DENNY
Party Leader

The following is the New Party Platform:

1. Recognition of China and her admission to the UN.
2. A foreign policy dedicated to the principles of the UN Charter and independent of either the U. S. or the U. K. whenever the policies of either or both of them are in conflict with the principles of the Charter.

3. A complete reappraisal of Canada's defence policies.

4. Refusal to permit nuclear weapons on Canadian soil or in the hands of our forces anywhere.

5. Increased research into and development of nuclear energy as additional source of power.

6. Financial assistance to hospital, medical and research centres in the application of nuclear energy to the diagnosis and treatment of disease.

7. Retraining and relocation programmes for displaced workers.

8. Development for new industries, public as well as private.

9. A policy of public planning and democratic control of investment and production to meet the post-war challenge of automation, foreign control of the economy and threatening Communist competition.

10. Establishment of democratic public agencies, such as Investment Board, Development Banks and Export and Import Boards, responsible to Parliament, to:

- (a) control the volume of investment.
- (b) channel investment to the most socially desirable projects.
- (c) decrease reliance on and need for foreign capital.
- (d) inaugurate financial and credit policies to facilitate both public and private investment in accordance with social needs and to control the effects of inflation.

11. Encouragement and assistance to the development of co-operative enterprise and credit unions, and the establishment of a Ministry of Credit Unions and Co-operatives.

12. Planned development and conservation of natural resources.

13. Legislation to protect small business against unfair competition and against exploitation by monopolistic interests.

14. Revision of old age pensions.

15. A nation-wide health insurance plan to provide comprehensive health care for every man, woman and child and to include medical, surgical, nursing, dental, optical and similar care as well as hospitalization.

16. Revision of taxation system to:

- (a) eliminate inequities in application of income tax.
- (b) abolish special privileges and exemptions now provided for corporations and recipients of corporation dividends.
- (c) increase rates on higher incomes and corporations.
- (d) increase personal exemptions for lower income groups.

17. Substantial financial assistance to the provinces, without encroaching on their jurisdiction over education, to ensure:

- (a) that every child in every part of Canada has an opportunity to develop his capacities to the full;
- (b) that every community has adequate school facilities;
- (c) that all teachers receive salaries commensurate with their responsibilities and status;
- (d) that all able students may go on to University or other institutions of higher learning without cost and without other financial worries;
- (e) that adequate facilities are available to train the teachers, researchers, and all other professions in the humanities, social and natural sciences that Canada urgently needs.

18. Protection for all bilingual and bi-cultural rights within the Canadian nation and of the official status of the English and French languages.

19. A distinctive Canadian flag and national anthem.

20. Power in Canada to amend its own constitution, subject to entrenched clauses concerning basic human rights and minority guarantees.

Intercollegiate Debates

The UNB Debating Society is host to two intercollegiate debating teams from the Maritimes this weekend. Tonight at 7:30 in the Tartan Room of the Student Centre, two St. Thomas University students will debate the negative side of a resolution calling for complete disarmament. The affirmative viewpoint will be represented by the UNB Debating Society members, Harry Scott and Nick Mulder. On Saturday night at the same time and the same place, JoAnne MacArthur and Terry McCluskey will debate the effects of censorship with a team from Acadia University. Both debates will be highly interesting and exciting, with audience participation, and all are invited to attend.
