

THE first Edition of this little Work was privately printed for ten Years ago for the peculiar use of the Author's Flock; but this second Edition is intended for the general good of all in this Province, who are not above receiving religious Instruction, and yet can afford, neither much Time for reading, nor much Money for the Purchase of good Books. To all such Christians, of whatever Denomination, the following Dedication, though originally addressed to a particular Set of People, is now extended: And to them, this little Work is recommended, as containing as much Admonition, as the Poor in general are capable of receiving. It might have been made cheaper, by printing it of a smaller Type and taking less paper; but then, it would have been a hard Task to aged People and those of weak Eyes, to have perused it: Therefore, for the sake of making it easily legible to all Persons, it is a little dearer than otherwise it might.
