

THERE are mountains all the way,—
Through the night,—the live-long day.

Mountains dark and some are grey.

Mountains cover all the land.

Spring narrow silver band

Where the sparkling waters glide.

Fed by glacier's rushing tide

Filling prairie rivers wide.